HERRING & HERRING

Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductee and Grammy-winning singer and songwriter Ozzy Osbourne revealed details about his forthcoming "No More Tours 2," a reference to his 1992 "No More Tours" trek. The tour concludes Saturday, Oct. 13 in Las Vegas at the MGM Grand Garden Arena. The show is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

"I've been blessed with an amazing life," Osbourne says. "I'm looking at this final tour as being a huge celebration for my fans and anyone who has enjoyed my music over the past five decades."

On his upcoming farewell world tour, Osbourne celebrates more than five decades as a performer (both as a solo artist and as lead singer of Black Sabbath, which formed in 1968). This tour marks the end of global touring for the legendary artist, though he will continue to perform select live shows in the future. Throughout his career, Ozzy has sold more than 100 million records.

KENNY LOGGINS

AMERICAN SINGER-SONGWRITER BRINGS CLASSIC HITS TO LAS VEGAS.

LESLIE HASSLER

From the Grammys to the silver screen, celebrated singer-songwriter Kenny Loggins has accomplished it all. This fall, Loggins brings his impressive musical range and ambitious performance style to the Encore Theater at Wynn Las Vegas for three nights of his chart-topping hits, Sept. 5, and 7-8. Backed by his band, Loggins performs his most-acclaimed songs from some of Hollywood's favorite soundtracks, as well as new, original music.

Loggins has left his musical imprint on "the soundtrack of our lives." Beginning his career as a member of the powerhouse American rock-pop duo, Loggins and Messina with Jimmy Messina, the pair achieved massive success in the early '70s with their well-known songs "Danny's Song," "House at Pooh Corner," and "Your Mama Don't Dance." After selling more than 16 million records and becoming one of the leading musical duos of the decade, Loggins and Messina broke up in 1976. Loggins would continue on to launch a historical solo career that has lasted more than four decades.

Since then, the group has performed in more than 35 countries worldwide. With 30 years of history, the world's biggest, best, and greatest Pink Floyd tribute show continues to delight its global fan base and returns in 2018 for a massive anniversary tour titled "Time: 30 Years of Celebrating Pink Floyd." The show visits The Joint at Hard Rock Hotel & Casino on Sunday, Sept. 9.

Kid 'N Play

OLD-SCHOOL HIP HOP ICONS BRING NOSTALGIA TO THE STAGE.

Some of hip hop's most legendary acts visit the Downtown Las Vegas Events Center with an all-star lineup on Friday, Sept. 7 during the "Las Vegas House Party Tour." Headlined by Kid 'N Play, Vanilla Ice, and Naughty by Nature, fans can enjoy a night of nostalgia and pay homage to the genre with additional performances by Biz Markie, Tone Loc, Rob Base, 2 Live Crew, and Young MC.

In 1989, Vanilla Ice released his first album, "Hooked," featuring his breakout hit "Ice Ice Baby." The song eventually earned the spot as the first hip-hop single to top the Billboard charts. His follow-up album, "To the Extreme," reached the top the charts later that year and before long, Vanilla Ice became a household name. After spending 16 weeks at the top of the album charts, "To the Extreme" sold more than 13 million copies worldwide.

Naughty by Nature was formed in East Orange, New Jersey, in 1986, while all three members—MCs Treach (Anthony Criss), Vinnie (Vincent Brown), and DJ Kay Gee (Keir Gist)—were attending the same high school. The group's self-titled debut was released in 1991 and produced a major hit in "O.P.P." Naughty by Nature repeated its success with the 1993 follow-up album, "19 Naughty III," which included another smash single with "Hip Hop Hooray"; like its predecessor, the album went platinum and the group went on to win a Grammy for "Best Rap Album of the Year" before touring worldwide.

Among the first groups to tame rap's hardcore mentality into positive, message-oriented rhymes, Kid 'n Play debuted in 1988 with the platinum album "2 Hype." The duo later spun their hit record into a deal involving films and a Saturday-morning cartoon show, the first involving a rap act. Kid (Christopher Reid) and Play (Christopher Martin) first met while in high school and went to Select Records in 1987. In 1988, along with the release of their popular debut album, the duo introduced the infamous Funky Charleston dance—a street-style riff on the classic Charleston. The moves were first performed in one of their music videos and then in the duo's film "House Party." People everywhere fixated on the Kid 'n Play kickstep, and it quickly became one of the biggest dance crazes of the late '80s.

UP-AND-COMING COUNTRY STAR TAKES THE STAGE AT M RESORT SPA CASINO.

Five-time Grammy-nominated country music singer and songwriter Hunter Hayes takes the stage for an unprecedented performance at M Pool as part of M Resort Spa Casino's concert series on Saturday, Sept. 15.

For Hunter Hayes, complacency is the enemy. After being nominated for a handful of Grammy Awards, snagging a collection of Country Music Association awards, and touring the world behind a pair of critically acclaimed albums, it would be far too easy for the revered singer-songwriter and top-notch musician to rest on his laurels. But Hayes wants more.

"I had to get in the mindset of 'I'm starting over,'" the 25-year-old says boldly of a rigorous two-year process during which he wrote more than 100 songs, made a Nashville studio his personal playground, and—most important for his development as a category-defying artist and musical innovator—flipped convention on its head.

"I'm starting from scratch," Hayes declares with equal parts excitement and nervous anticipation of the mindset behind cooking up some of the boldest, hook-heavy material of his career with a heavier emphasis on band-based arrangements and live drums.

"It's about who I am and where I'm going."

Shiny And Oh So Bright Tour

RENOWNED ROCK ICON CELEBRATES FIRST TOUR IN NEARLY 20 YEARS FEATURING FOUNDING MEMBERS.

OLIVIA BEE

Grammy Award-winning, acclaimed alternative rock pioneers The Smashing Pumpkins have announced the "Shiny And Oh So Bright Tour," the band's first tour in nearly 20 years to feature founding members Billy Corgan, Jimmy Chamberlin, and James Iha. The 36-city tour makes a Las Vegas stop at T-Mobile Arena Sunday, Sept. 2.

"Some 30 years ago, as The Smashing Pumpkins, James Iha, and I began a musical journey in the cramped rear bedroom of my father's house. And so it's magic to me that we're able to coalesce once more around the incredible Jimmy Chamberlin, to celebrate those songs we've made together," shares Corgan.

The monumental "Shiny And Oh So Bright Tour," which coincides with the 30th anniversary of the band's formation, highlights music from the group's inception through 2000, and exclusively features material from the band's groundbreaking debut albums "Gish," "Siamese Dream," "Mellon Collie and the Infinite Sadness," "Adore," and "Machina." Longtime Smashing Pumpkins guitarist Jeff Schroeder also takes part, as the band moves to a three-guitar lineup to better emulate the signature tones and textures of their albums.

"This show and staging will be unlike any we've ever done, and will feature a set unlike any we've ever played. For if this is a chance at a new beginning, we plan on ushering it in with a real bang," adds Corgan.

Formed in Chicago in 1988, The Smashing Pumpkins released its heralded debut album "Gish" in 1991 and found mainstream success with 1993's multi-platinum "Siamese Dream" and 1995's multi-platinum "Mellon Collie and the Infinite Sadness." With nine studio albums and more than 30 million albums sold to date, the band remains an influential force in alternative rock.

IMAGINE DRAGONS Rise Up Gala

‘SLAY CANCER WITH DRAGONS’ DURING ANNUAL BENEFIT.

ELIOT LEE HAZEL

Tickets are now on-sale for the fifth annual Rise Up Gala, an extraordinary, one-night-only experience, created to raise funds for The Tyler Robinson Foundation (TRF), the band Imagine Dragons’ nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting families with pediatric cancer diagnoses. Actor and comedian Joel McHale will once again serve as the host of the star-studded event that takes place at Caesars Palace on Friday, Sept. 14 and features a special acoustic performance from the Grammy Award-winning, multi-platinum-selling band.

The Rise Up Gala offers attendees an exhilarating night of entertainment and glamour while celebrating the individuals who have made notable contributions to TRF through direct efforts, philanthropic support, or by raising public awareness for pediatric cancer. This year’s gala promises to be TRF’s most significant event to date as the foundation commemorates its fifth year of service.

“This year is a big year for TRF as it marks our fifth year supporting families across the country in their battle against pediatric cancer,” says Kim Gradisher, TRF executive director. “A pediatric cancer diagnosis is physically, emotionally, and financially devastating to families. Our goal is to strengthen families and ease the burden faced while battling childhood cancer by providing grants to offset many of the unseen costs associated with treatment. The Rise Up Gala directly benefits these families and gives hope that, together, we can slay cancer.”

Individual tickets and corporate sponsorships are still available for the 2018 event. The evening includes cocktails, dinner, a live and silent auction, and all-star entertainment. All proceeds benefit The Tyler Robinson Foundation. For more information or for ticket purchase, visit trf.org.

CIRQUE DU SOLEIL AND NEVADA BALLET THEATRE COLLABORATE FOR 11TH ANNUAL 'A CHOREOGRAPHER'S SHOWCASE.'

Cirque du Soleil Entertainment Group and Nevada Ballet Theatre (NBT) announced their 11th annual collaboration, entitled "Art from Art." "A Choreographer's Showcase" marks the beginning of NBT's 2018-2019 performance season. Held exclusively at the Mystère Theatre at Treasure Island Hotel & Casino, this year's event is presented over two weekends: Sunday, Oct. 7 at 1 p.m.; and Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 13-14 at 1 p.m.

Known as one of the city's most dynamic and highly regarded collaborations, "A Choreographers' Showcase" has cultivated a robust local following by shining a spotlight on the diversity of artists that exists in Las Vegas through an ever-changing repertoire of original work.

Always a unique experience, this year's performance presents audiences with a seamless show with choreographers hailing from various performing arts and technical theater backgrounds—including dancers, acrobats, aerialists, and even a stage rigger. Tasked with identifying a work of art as their inspiration, "Art from Art" encompasses a dozen original creations performed by more than 60 artists from both Cirque du Soleil and NBT including newcomer Blue Man Group.

All proceeds from the show support NBT's professional company productions at The Smith Center for the Performing Arts, where it is the resident ballet company; its affiliated academy that trains more than 400 students; and its education and outreach programs, which successfully impact more than 20,000 students a year in at-risk communities and beyond.

THE 2018 HUNT HAS OFFICIALLY COME TO A CLOSE.

The 2018 Silver State Scavenger Hunt took dedicated adventurers tens of thousands of miles collectively around the state, exploring some of Nevada's most astonishing railroad-related destinations. Participants searched near and far to complete the hunt, collecting memories and crossing off places they've never visited before.

We would like to thank those who participated in this year's hunt. And to those wanting to participate in next year's hunt, we'll see you in 2019!

A special thanks to Land Rover and the Nevada Northern Railway Museum (NNRY) for providing the prizes for the 2018 Silver State Scavenger Hunt!

Lovers of creative, local cuisine have good reason to celebrate as the 7th annual Reno Bites restaurant week expands to two full weeks for the first time, Oct. 8-21. An extended event is complemented by a modified format and newly overhauled website.

For six years, Reno Bites has celebrated local restaurants, chefs, and restaurateurs with a weeklong event created to showcase them. Each eatery participating in Reno Bites offers a $10, $20, or $30 dining special at its establishment during the event, while customers can also order off the existing menu. Some signature events also take place during restaurant week, which is designed to help area residents and visitors discover new establishments to try or be reminded of longtime favorites.

"We asked both the restaurants and people participating in Reno Bites to take a post-event survey last year, and the results confirmed feedback we'd been hearing for quite a while," says Chef Clint Jolly, co-founder of Reno Bites restaurant week. "Guests wanted a longer span of time to enjoy the participating restaurants, and a more user-friendly website. To fulfill wishes of some restaurateurs, we are leaving more nights open during the weeks for guests to visit their favorite restaurants and hosting just a few key events focused on collaboration of chefs and restaurants. So, we tried to give everyone what they asked for this year!"

Signature events this year are the Reno Bites Kickoff and the popular Walkabite and Chef Showdown events.

RAILROAD REALITY WEEK

SEPTEMBER 7-14
ELY

WORK ON THE RAILROAD ALL THE LIVE LONG DAY DURING IMMERSIVE EXPERIENCE.

Spend a week this summer working on a national historic landmark railroad, and the best-preserved standard-gauge railroad in America, during Nevada Northern Railway's Railroad Reality Week, Sept. 7-14 in Ely. Experience what it was like during the golden age of railroading and become an integral part of the preservation in-progress.

Guests begin the camp by attending a rules and safety training, and will then rotate through train operations, working in the shop and out on track. As part of the crew, attendees help get a train over up the hill and back again safely. In the shop, you will get hands-on experience maintaining the locomotives and cars; it is dirty, oily, greasy work, and without it, trains don't run. As part of the track crew, you will see up close what it takes to keep the railroad running.

Everything comes together at the end of the week. You'll rotate through the positions of engineer, brakeman, and switchman. The training from the week will now make sense as you couple up and move the cars.

"Last June, I attended the Nevada Northern Railway Railroad Reality Week along with four other guys. What a fantastic experience," says Mike Lewis, 2017 attendee of Railroad Reality Week. "The railroad is amazing; it gave historical context to every activity that we participated in. The days were long and the work was real."

At Railroad Reality Week you will have the greatest adventure of your life! It's hands on, intense, and takes you behind the scenes on what it takes to keep a railroad running, but feel free to take it at a pace that is comfortable for you.

JASON MRAZ

AMERICAN SINGER-SONGWRITER CELEBRATES HIT ALBUM'S 15TH ANNIVERSARY.

Multiple Grammy Award-winner Jason Mraz announced plans for a North American summer tour, joined by his SuperBand and featuring special guest Brett Dennen. The "Good Vibes" makes a stop at the Reno Events Center on Tuesday, Sept. 11.

Mraz recently celebrated the 15th anniversary of his album, "Waiting for My Rocket to Come," with the album's first-time-ever vinyl release. The "Waiting for My Rocket to Come" double LP is available now on standard black vinyl at all music retailers carrying vinyl records; an orange vinyl edition is exclusively available via Barnes & Noble. All vinyl editions feature expanded artwork by Robert Fisher and Alison Dyer, plus lyrics and new liner notes by Mraz.

As "People" magazine recently noted, "Waiting for My Rocket to Come" launched Mraz "from the Southern California coffee house scene into global stardom and the forefront of contemporary American singer-songwriters." Released Oct. 15, 2002, "the album indeed propelled Mraz to the forefront of contemporary American pop, fueled by a trio of indelible hit singles in "You And I Both," "Curbside Prophet," and the No. 1 favorite, "The Remedy (I Won't Worry)." The latter single proved Mraz's breakthrough, ascending to the top 15 on Billboard's Hot 100 while also reaching the top of the "Top 40 Adult Recurrents" chart.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED, BUT THE ADVENTURE CONTINUES

Highway 50 has always been a favorite drive for Nevada travelers. This historic route across Pony Express Territory is known for its majestic scenery and colorful communities. The old Pony Express Trail evolved into the Lincoln Highway, then became Highway 50 where it was dubbed "America's Loneliest Road." But during the summer travel season, there's plenty to see and do.

Nevada State Museum Commemorative Medallions

SPECIAL MINTING TAKES PLACE ON HISTORIC COIN PRESS NO. 1.

The Nevada State Museum in Carson City is minting special commemorative medallions, many of which pay tribute to different aspects of the state's history. The minting takes place on Historic Coin Press No. 1, and allows guests to watch and get a history lesson about the press. Visitors can also purchase a pure-silver blank in the museum's store for $60 and have it pressed. Keep up to date on facebook.com/nevadastatemuseumcc to see what commemorative medallions are being minted. Here are some of the recent pressings:

FINDING FREMONT MEDALLION

History buffs and treasure hunters continue to search wide swaths of Nevada for remnants left behind by famed explorer John C. Fremont and his Corps of Topographical Engineers who traversed the region in 1843-1844.

Many still look for the "genuine" Fremont Cannon, a 12-pound mountain howitzer the expedition abandoned, although Nevada State Museum officials are confident they have it. (Now on display as part of the "Finding Fremont: Pathfinder of the West" exhibit at Nevada State Museum, Las Vegas).

The argument over the cannon might rage on, but there is little debate as to Fremont's importance in the history of Nevada. It's what led the Nevada State Museum in Carson City to create the "Finding Fremont" exhibit in time for the state's sesquicentennial and was the impetus for a commemorative medallion.

In August, the Carson City museum minted the "Finding Fremont" 30-millimeter medallion on its historic Coin Press No. 1. The medallion, in pure silver, features a bust of Fremont and an image of the "Fremont Cannon."

PONY EXPRESS MEDALLION

The Pony Express may have had a short life as a mail service in the mid-1800s, but its spirit has long resonated in Nevada.

Pony Bob Peak, which is named for Pony Express rider Robert "Pony Bob" Haslam, was so named by the U.S. Board of Geographic Names just last year. Haslam helped build stations on the Pony Express Trail in Nevada and was assigned the 75-mile run from Friday's Station near the Nevada-California state line to Buckland Station near Fort Churchill.

The Nevada State Museum has paid tribute to the Pony Express in various ways through the years, including a Pony Express Centennial Memorial in front of the museum that was refurbished this year.o

Minted on the museum's historic Coin Press No. 1, the medallion features a Pony Express rider and an outline of the State of Nevada.
