DIERKS BENTLEY

COUNTRY ARTIST BRINGS FIERY TOUR TO THE CHELSEA.

The Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas has announced that three-time Country Music Award-nominee Dierks Bentley is bringing his “Burning Man Tour” to The Chelsea Feb. 14-15. Known for his genuine performance and full-throttle production, the seasoned entertainer delivers his authentic set with special guest Caylee Hammack.

Considered “one of country music’s most enviable brands, equal parts affability and authenticity” by “Forbes,” Bentley continues to be a dominant voice for the genre with more than 6.4 billion overall digital streams. He has also created professional endeavors outside of the music industry with his Desert Son clothing collection and four Dierks Bentley’s Whiskey Row restaurant locations across the country.

Caylee Hammack constantly felt like a self-described “hippie in a hillbilly town” in her tiny hometown of Ellaville, Georgia. Her self-penned songs tug on her own life story—bad decisions, broken hearts, and a quirky family lineage. Hammack’s current Top 40 breakout single “Family Tree,” which she co-wrote and co-produced, was the most-added single on country radio by a female in more than three years.

MAJOR LEAGUE RUGBY VEGAS WEEKEND

PROFESSIONAL TEAMS SQUARE OFF AT LAS VEGAS BALLPARK.

Professional Rugby returns to Las Vegas for the 11th year as Major League Rugby (MLR) plays five of the 2020 regular season matches in Las Vegas as part of the Major League Rugby Vegas Weekend, Feb. 9 and Feb. 15-16 at Las Vegas Ballpark.

The matches kick off on Sunday, Feb. 9 with newcomers the New England Free Jacks, taking on last year's semi-finalists Rugby United New York in the team's inaugural MLR match. This game serves as a precursor to the official MLR Vegas Weekend, consisting of double-header matches on Saturday, Feb. 15 and Sunday, Feb. 16.

The MLR event is the first of its kind to be hosted at the award-winning Las Vegas Ballpark. The new world-class stadium opened in April 2019 and in true Las Vegas style, it features a sideline pool for front-row viewing. Previously the USA Sevens hosted an annual tournament in Las Vegas, and the MLR Vegas Weekend is an opportunity for professional rugby to return to the city.

"We know that Las Vegas and rugby go well together. We wanted to give our fans the opportunity to support their team on the road and take in a whole weekend of MLR action, all under the bright lights of Vegas. We can't wait for February," says MLR commissioner Dean Howes.

The official MLR Vegas Weekend schedule is as follows:

Sunday, Feb. 9

New England Free Jacks vs Rugby United New York at 1 p.m.

Saturday, Feb. 15

Utah Warriors vs New England Free Jacks at 11:30 a.m.
Rugby United New York vs Austin Herd at 3:30 p.m.

Sunday, Feb. 16

Toronto Arrows vs Houston SaberCats at 11:30 a.m.

‘Snapshot: Culling Our History From The Family Album’

EXHIBITION PRESERVES MEMORIES THROUGH TREASURED HEIRLOOMS.

As part of the Nevada Humanities Exhibition Series, a new exhibition—“Snapshot: Culling Our History from the Family Album”—is running at the Nevada Humanities Program Gallery in Las Vegas. The exhibition is presented in partnership with the University of Nevada Las Vegas (UNLV) University Libraries Special Collections and Archives. The exhibition is on display through Jan. 23.

Family albums are often treasured heirlooms preserving memories passed from generation to generation. But for Las Vegas historians, the albums that have made their way to Special Collections and Archives in the UNLV University Libraries hold much more than the faces of past residents. They provide a window into the past and a glimpse of family and social life in historic Las Vegas. These photographs have become the basis for how we visualize our city’s history.

“It is an amazing revelation to understand the history of a city through the family albums that each of us hold dear. In this way, deeply personal history becomes public history. Our intimate stories become part of a larger shared narrative that defines us all,” says Nevada Humanities Executive Director Christina Barr. “I will never look the same way at my family albums again, and neither will visitors after they see this exhibition.”

SEBASTIAN MANISCALCO

COMEDIAN VISITS THE GRAND SIERRA RESORT IN RENO FOR ONE NIGHT.

Fresh off a wildly successful, two-year-plus run on his “Stay Hungry Tour,” Billboard’s 2018 Comedian of the Year Sebastian Maniscalco returns with his new “You Bother Me” tour. Maniscalco brings his hit performance to the Grand Sierra Resort in Reno on Feb. 21.

Touted as “the comedian’s comedian” by “People” magazine, Maniscalco finds himself “at the vanguard of a live comedy revolution” according to Pollstar. And the man “NBC Nightly News” called “comedy’s new superstar” is showing no signs of slowing down.

“There’s nothing like going to a live show and seeing it in real life,” Maniscalco says in a recent interview with “Forbes,” which named him as one of the Top 10 highest-grossing stand-up comedians in the world in 2019. “Is there a comedy bubble that’s going to pop soon? Yet to be seen, but as I’ve been in this business, it has gotten progressively better each year and I don’t see it slowing down.”

Not only has the star power of Maniscalco rocketed upward in the past few years thanks to shows described by Billboard as “devastatingly full force comedy,” but also due to his high energy Netflix Original special—“Stay Hungry.” The special, which was taped over a span of five sold-out shows at the legendary Radio City Music Hall, had Maniscalco playing for a total of 28,312 long-time fans and early believers in his unique comedic voice.

2020 WORLD TOUR

COME SAIL AWAY WITH CELEBRATED ROCK BAND.

Styx—the multi-mega-million-selling rock band that has forged an indelible legacy both on record and onstage—performs at Silver Legacy Resort Casino at THE ROW on Friday, Jan. 17.

Styx has added a triumphant new chapter to its never-ending story of success: namely, “The Mission,” the band’s sonically sweet 16th studio album and most ambitious, most challenging, and most rewarding release to date.

The band’s acclaimed pedigree most definitely infused the recording sessions for “The Mission,” with an even deeper-rooted sense of purpose and duty, something that can be attributed to the six men comprising Styx.

In order to achieve a collectively mutual goal of live excellence, a band must have a time-tested arsenal of aurally rigorous and rewarding material to get it there and Styx draws from over four decades of barn-burning chart hits, joyous singalongs, and hard-drive deep cuts to do so. Like a symphony that builds to a satisfying crescendo, a Styx set covers a wide range of stylistic cornerstones.

'DECORATIVE ARMS: TREASURES FROM THE ROBERT M. LEE COLLECTION'

ONE OF THE OLDEST AND MOST EXTENSIVE ARMS COLLECTION IN THE UNITED STATES IS ON DISPLAY AT THE NEVADA MUSEUM OF ART.

One of the most celebrated decorative arms collections has left the vault for a rare public exhibition. "Decorative Arms: Treasures from the Robert M. Lee Collection" includes more than 190 objects dating from as early as the 1500s through the modern era, showcasing the skills of some of the most renowned arms makers and engravers in the world. Many of the objects on loan have never-before-been seen by the public. They are drawn from the Robert M. Lee Collection, known to an international community of enthusiasts as one of the finest arms collections in the U.S. Organized by the Nevada Museum of Art, "Decorative Arms: Treasures from the Robert M. Lee Collection" is the largest public presentation of the collection to date. The exhibition opened at the Nevada Museum of Art on Nov. 16, 2019, and is on view through Feb. 16.

"Decorative Arms" focuses on the art of engraving and the role of the engraver, with a special emphasis on how historical traditions inform and influence the craftsmanship of these artisans today. With a rich history that reaches back to the Medieval and Renaissance eras, embellishing arms and armor is a challenging artistic endeavor. The design process involves collaboration among sculptors of steel and wood, goldsmiths, silversmiths; lock, stock, and barrel makers; and engravers. These talented artisans create mythological, hunting, and wildlife scenes that are framed and enhanced by ornamental designs on what have been described by some scholars as "miniature canvases."

VIRGINIA CITY CEMETERY AUDIO TOUR

LIZ HUNTINGTON

STEP BACK IN TIME WITH THIS IMMERSIVE EXPERIENCE.

Virginia City's historic Silver Terrace Cemetery is one of the town's top tourist attractions, in part because of its stately headstones and incredible location on a steep hillside. In the 1860s, burial grounds for the local civic, fraternal, and religious groups were carved into the hillside. Most of the gravesites are home to immigrants, not people born in Virginia City—a testament to the rush of The Comstock Lode and those who came from all around the world to be a part of it.

Today, an average of 50 people per day visit the cemetery, which is under the auspices of The Comstock Cemetery Foundation (CCF). A national landmark district, the foundation is responsible for repairs and maintenance. For 20 years, a way to tell the stories of the structures and gravesite has been sought, but installing numerous signs wasn't an option. That goal was recently realized through the creation of an audio tour people can access via computer or cellphone.

A local Eagle Scout—Callum Bodington of Troop 847—selected the creation of this audio tour as his 2019 Eagle Scout project. In one day, Bodington and the CCF recorded 25 voices talking about 29 stops along the tour. The tour can be accessed via the Internet or downloaded as an app. The tour can be taken in the order it was created, or users can skip to areas they want to see and access the information they seek, when they want it. The entire audio tour is about 90 minutes, and the terrain is considered a medium strenuous walk. For those unable to visit, the tour can be taken wherever you have an Internet connection.

To listen to the tour online, visit izi.travel and search for Silver Terrace Cemetery Tour. The app for izi.travel can be downloaded for Apple or Google.
