Founded in 1904 for the purpose of investigating topics pertaining to the early history of Nevada and of collecting relics for a museum, the NEVADA HISTORICAL SOCIETY has dedicated itself to the continuing purpose of preserving the rich heritage of the peoples—past and present—who have inhabited the land of Nevada.

The Society believes that it can best serve the State by arousing in the people an historical consciousness which it hopes will be carried to succeeding generations. Thus, through its Director, the Society sponsors an educational program which carries the history of Nevada to the schools and organizations throughout the State.

The Society maintains a library and museum where historical materials of many kinds are on display to the public and are available to students and scholars.

The Society publishes the NEVADA HISTORICAL SOCIETY'S QUARTERLY which publishes articles of interest to readers in the social, cultural, economic, and political history of the Great Basin area: Nevada, eastern California, eastern and southern Oregon, Idaho, and Utah.

The Society's membership is open to the public; application for membership should be made to the Secretary of the Society, State Building, Reno, Nevada.

J. BIDWELL, [15-17] GEO. WOOD.

Horace Greely recently delivered a lecture at the Cooper Institute, New York, on the subject of Internal Revenue will be of general interest and Horace Greely recently delivered a lacture at 'Forest Trees.' Mr. Greely said that he was opposed to the recklessness shown by many farmers in the indiscriminate destruction of trees. In Westchester county there were trees which God intended should never be cut down, and yet many farmers there are too prone to clear their forests away to make what they call land cuttivation. At the same time it was a well-known fact that there are many farmers who will persist in attempting to cultivate sevanty-five acres each, when they can not till twenty acres in a proper and thorough manner. He believed that if agriculture in the State of New York was confined to one-third the number of acres now cultivated, the product would be much greater than the present yield.

The great fault of American farmers lies in their disposition to cultivate too much land, to do posed to the recklessness shown by many farmers their disposition to cultivate too much land, to do which they carry on a war against the trees which are so necessary to render the arable land rich and valuable for agricultural purposes. Still, while he reprobated the indiscriminate destruction of trees, he knew, that it was sometimes necessary to gut down some in order to preserve others. This, however, should be done with great care, and only those of no special value should be destroyed.

In Europe, the forests were poor, compared to those of America. The foliage of the latter, with its rich Summer beauty, and the glory of its variegated Automnal tints, finds no parallel in any other portion of the globe. It constituted the principal beauty of American scenery. He believed if one-half of the forests which were standing on this continent, at the time of its discovery by Columbus, were still standing, the Country would be much better off. This could be easily proven. Trees were necessary to the enriching of the soil and the prevention of long drouths. It was a fact to be deplored, that so much land was now devoted to pasturage. Farmers permit their cattle to browse in their forests, and thus eat out a portion of their prosperity.

It was a great mistake for them to permit this to be done, for the barbarism of pasturage, it could be shown, was sadly destructive of their prosperity in more ways than one. It would be well if all the forests within one hundred miles of New York were so inclosed that cattle could not get into them, to browse on the bud and the young leaf of the sugar maple and other valuable young trees. In Westchester, Putnam and Bookland unties, New York, In Fairfield county, Counecticut, and in many portions of New Jersey, there were many places where trees were intended to grow, and where they would grow, if the farmer would permit them to do so. Wherever there was a rock, a tree should stand by its side, and it was an easy matter to plant trees between clumps of rocks in soil which could not, and never was intended to be used for any other purpose.

No land was fit to be plowed out of which the rucks could not be taken. It was bad economy to make land by blasting rocks and pulverizing them into what some farmers call soil. Stone, no matter how fine it might be nalverized, could not be transformed into ground. It was a mistaken idea to suppose that it could be done, and he desired the farmers to see it in that light. In Winchester county there were thousands of acres now devoted to cultivation, which should be covered with forests. The farmer could not make a better in vestment than by planting them with locusts, sugar maples and other valuable trees. In Europe this planting of trees was understood, and in Scotinnd it is done with great advantage to the farming interests of the Country. Trees are valuable, not only for their immediate product, but they are highly valuable for the moisture which they retain, and shed upon the soil during the period of

By the wholesale destruction of them the farmer intensifies our Summer drouths. If it were desirable to have a long drouth annually let the Country be denuded of forests, and it will not fall to pay us a visit. Wisdom, it was true, dictated the policy of cutting down many trees that are of no value, so that our forests might be improved in beauty and value. There should be combined enterprise for increasing our forests. He deprecated the running of a railroad through John Brown's tract, which he denominated the great park of the State of New York. The enterprise had broken two or three men, and he hoped it would break every man who ventured into it. We could not afford to have that lovely region out bare of its trees. He believed that if it were done there would be immease floods annually on the Mohawk and the Hudson, which would sweep away whole streets in Albany and Troy. That tract should be preserved for the benefit of all who desired to leave the city and all its conventionalisms in Summer, and go to that place to breathe the pure air of Heaven and enjoy a season of freedom from the restraints of society.

Mr. Greeley urged the establishment of forest parks in various parts of the country. These could be formed within a distance to be reached by a five hours' ride from the city, and they could be filled with animals like the antelope of the West and others equally as valuable. There was no reason why we should not have parks of this kind in this Country, which would throw those of Europe far in the shade. In conclusion, he hoped that the farmers of the Country would adopt measures to prevent the destruction of birds on their farms. The preservation of the birds was an absolute necessity. They destroyed insects which were becoming more numerous year after year, a fact which could be attributed to the great scarcity of birds as compared with the great abundance of former years. He hoped that if the murderers desired to shoot anything they would shoot the insects, and not the insectiverous birds. The lecture was very interesting, and was highly appreciated by the audience, which was composed principally of farmers and persons interested in the science of agriculture.

and sometimes, also, to a deliberate purpose to de-fraud the Government. When their correctness is suspected, assistant assessors ought not to hesitate to make the necessary inquiries, in order to ascertain the truth. Otherwise their duty is not performed.

Delicacy under such circumstances must be laid aside, and respect for wealth, influence, or social position must yield to the higher obligations of of-nicial responsibility. Honest men when properly interrogated will not in gueral refuse to afford satisfaction to Government officers, and the dis-honest should not be suffered to escape under pre-tures of seembilities too nice to endure a discrete tense of sensibilities too nice to undure a disrepu-table imputation without offense. A cheerful sub-mission to a proceeding which a due execution of the law requires, is demanded in times like these the law requires, is demanded in times like these equally by patriotism and good sense, and an appeal to those possessed of such qualities will nel-dom fail to produce the desired response. If any errors are believed to exist, it is not necessary to assume, in the first place, that they have been committed wilfully; but, on the contrary, it may be well to advise the tax-payer to amend his return, and to accept it if he avails himself of the opportunity. If he refuses to do so, section 14th of the late Art authorizes a mode of proceeding which if vigorously pursued, will eviscerate the truth.

Tax-payers who are not cognizant of their responsibilities ought to be informed of them, and those who are unable to make out their returns, ought to be kindly instructed and assisted by the assistant assessors; but wilful and incorrigible of fenders should be made to recognize the power of the law in the prompt and sure visitations of its penalties. Let assistant assessors understand that it is their business not meral; to take returns, but to ascertain whether they are correct, and when they have reason to believe them incorrect, to ant as already indicated. When an incorrect, to ant as already indicated. When an incorrect, to ant as already indicated. When an incorrect, to ant as already indicated when an incorrect to an the case already to the assessor, who should, when probable cause appears, institute an investigation, and ble cause appears, institute an investigation, and make it searching and therough.

A false return, excelled a scented without alteration and the tax yaid, has no binding effect on the Government. When fraud is discovered, the assistant assessor may make the proper increase, and if the tax-payer shall swear down the assessment on the increased return, he may be pro-assessment on the increased return, he may be pro-ceeded against for the perjury; or, which is the better way, instead of the increase being made, an investigation may be liad under section 14, the just amount of the daty ascertained, and an hun-dred per cent. added to it by way of penalty. If an assistant assessor is destitute of the needed intelligence, or vigor, his place ought to be speed-ily supplied by one better fitted for it, and if the number of assistant assessors appointed is not suf-ficient to work the district, the fact should be com-municated at once to this office.

incient to work the district, the incremonic be com-municated at once to this office.

The special income tax, if fairly assessed and collected, will produce more than thirty-five mil-itens of dollars. It depends upon the assessors and their assistants mainly whether the expecta-tions of the department and the Country, on the ambject, shall be realized or disappointed.

Very respectfully.

Very respectfully, Joseph J. Lewis,

THE OLD ARM-CHAIR .- A Paris journal publishes the following strange history of an old gothic arm-chair, which was sold a few days since at the public auction rooms in the Rou Drouet. The article in question, at first richly ornamented, was presented by the maker to Maria Theresa, and figured in her boudoir. After the death of the Empress of Austria, it was sent in conformity with her desire to Queen Marie Antoinette, in France, and was subsequently used by Louis XVI, during his imprisonment in the temple. After the King's tragical death, Clery, his valet de chambre, became its owner, and took it to England, where it successively became the property of the Prince Regent, and afterwards of the Duke of Cumberland. The latter took it with him to Berlin, and there sent it to an upholster for repairs. The workman to whom it was entrusted, found in the striffing of the seat a diamond pin the portrait of a boy, and several sheets of closely written manuscript. The man sold the pin, and gave the portruit and papers to a watchmaker of his acquaintauce. Some years later the watchmoker, whose name was Naundorff, chideavored to pass himself off as Louis XVII., and produced the papers and portrait in support of his pretensions. After making some noise in France, and then in Belgium, where he lost his son, who called himself the Duke of Normandy, he went to Java in 1853, and died there. The workman who found the portrait and documents kept his secret till just before his death, when he revealed, the whole to his fam-ily. One of his relatives having ascertained that ily. One of his relatives having ascertained that the chair was still at Berlin, purchased it, and sold it to a French travelor, who carried it to Paris, where it ultimately came into the possession of an old woman, the inmate of an asylum for the aged, lately deceased. It has now been sold by auction with the rest of her effects.—Galignant.

The rebel General Hood has retired to the shades of private life. In his farewell order to his troops he thanks them for their fidelity and zeal to the Confederate cause, and tells them that he did his very best! A TERRIBLE SUBJECT FOR THOUGHT .- A foreign paper states that there are in the Archives of Justice in Paris, 300,990 full and dircumstantial reports of cases of suicide. At that rate, provided the production could be stopped, the whole population might be soon exterminated.

THE GREATEST FEAT OF THE AGE. - TWO LADIE AND A BOY SIX YEARS OF AGE, CROSSING THE SIZERA ON BNOW SHOES.—On Monday evening, the 6th inst., a party arrived at Silver Mountain, on snow shoes, consisting of A. They were accompanied by a party of gentlemen, consisting of Messrs. A. Downing of Big Meadows, A. F. Bailey of Bear Valley, and Mr. Christie and A. Richey of Hermit Valley—also on snow shees. Mr. Stevens and family started from Cottage Springs on Wednesday, the first day of March, and by easy shiding—atopping at Big Meadows. Bear Valley, and Hermit Valley, completed the trip by arriving at Silver Mountain on the evening of the 6th, the ladies sailing down the grade into town with all the grace and fleetness of the evening of the tid, the tadies sating down the grade into town with all the grace and fleetness of the gazelle. Think of this, ye proud mothers and daughters of the valleys, who fear test the winds of heaven should waft a zephyr too rudely upon you, of two of your sisters hraving the tempestuons Sierra in mid Winter over a 'pass' 10,000 feet above the level of the sea, the snows twenty-two feet deep, and calling it a pleasure trip. Who feet deep, and catiling it a pleasure trip. Who would not repeat the feat of Hellespoot for such a prize? Byron, the imitator of Leander, and the suldler who swam from Alcatras across 'Raccoon Straits' every night for his toddy, are played out. As the party approached the town, gliding down the grade, the 'bloods' of the metropolis gazed upon the heroises with admiration and anase. the heroines with admiration and amazeupon the heroines with admiration and amaze-ment. Even that Puritanic ascettam—the lineal descendant of the bloe laws—that made it a crime to kies a lady on the Sabbath, without the inter-vention of a half door, was forced to the 'necessity that knows no law,' by giving way to the better feelings of its nature, in yielding homage to the act of two fragile and beautiful beings who had braved the terrors and made the descent safely. braved the terrors and made the descent safely. UNKARY LIES THE HEAD, ETC .- According to newspaper writers, the reigning monarchs of Europe, in spite of the present peace, have an uneasy time of it. The King of Prussis is not liked by his people. The Emperor of Russia is in constant dread of assessination from the hands of some vengeful Pole; and the Saturday Review has the following about the Emperor of the French:

Even now, with an apparently confirmed dynasty and a supine people, when the elect of thirtyfive millions is seen dragging a two-horse drag, like a private gentleman, to the Bois, he is under the anxious and studied protection of the police. These two young men in fashionable attire, cantering a little ahead, are police agents; that middleaged gentleman riding with a lady, some fifty paces behind, is another; small knots of apparent oungers are on the watch along the rider and an armed force would start up at the first sign of sus picion or alarm. When a ball was given to the Emperor and Empress at a distinguished embassy, the list of invitations was carefully revised by the Perfect, or his sub, who, not having some of his people stationed in the ante-clamber, insisted on cards of invitation to enable others (dressed and decorated for the purpose) to mingle with the company. When the Emperor honored the Baron de Rothschild by joining a shooting party at his chateau, the entire establishment was placed under strict surveillance during the preceding fortnight, and when his Imperial Majesty took the field the neighboring country was corne like a besieged

The late Duke of York once consulted Abernathy. During the time his highness was in the room, the doctor stood before him with his hands in his pookets, whistling with great coolness. The duke, naturally astonished at his conduct, said: I suppose you know who I am! 'Suppose I do, what of thas!' said the surgeon: if your highness of York wishes to be well, let me tell you, you must do as the Duke of Wellington often did in his campaigns; cut off the supplies, and the enemy will quickly leave the citadel.

A negro female servant in Newport, R. I. while slinking a carpet, recently, fell out of a window thirty-eight feet high. She lay stunned for a while, but finally got up, picked up the car-pet, and crossed the street to a dress maker's whop, where she stood gazing at the fashionable shop, where she stood gazing at the fashionable bonnets in the window for some time, occasionally rubbing the back of her head; after which she returned to the house and calmly resumed her carpet manipulations.

Caston Oir.-Children who do not like castor oil can have it prepared in the recent Paris fashion; the quantity of oil prescribed is placed in a pipkin over the fire, and an egg broken into it and suirred up. When cooked, a little salt, or sugar, or currant jelly should be added. The patient cannot possibly detect the medicine, and will most likely cry for some more of the same mixture.

The confidence of the army in General Sherman is described as remarkable. The private soldiers have many pet names for him. JOHN DALY'S Guost. John Daly, one of the desperadoes hung by a Vigilance Committee at Aurora, more than a year ago, for the fiendish murder of Mr. Johnson, does not appear to rest well in Hades. The following singular communi-cation appears in the Esmeralda Union of Februa-

'For the information of all who do not believe in For the information of all who do not believe in ghosts, please allow me to state, through the columns of your paper, that for three nights in succession a spirit calling itself John Daiy appeared to me in my bed chamber, and told me he was keeper of a prison in the spirit land. The spirit stated that the inmates of the prison were all murderers and Mormous. Daiy appeared each time in a long white coat, with high boots covering his pants to his knees. This was last week. He says he undergoes periodical tortures for the crimes he he undergoes periodical tortures for the crimes he and others who are alive and unpunished committed on earth. On one occasion I zekes him if he had seen Johnson, whereupon his face turned white with fear, and he said in a low voice placing his right hand behind his ear. 'Hark' I hear the terrible yell of the bloodhounds. Johnson is com-ing!' He then exposed his legs below the knees, and also his breast, and said, tremblingly: 'Friend, and also his breast, and said, tremblingly: 'Friend, commit no evil deeds. Look at my toru flesh and take warning. If you have a heart, weep!' In a moment he was gone. On another occasion he told me any of his friends could see him by going to the place of execution between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock on the ninth night of any month. I never believed in ghosts till last week. Now 1 am convinced that the dead do appear occasionally on earth. I could not have been dreaming.'

NOTARIES PUBLIC .- Gov. Blasdel has announced his appointments of Notaries for Humboldt county, as following:

Hezekiah Barnes, F. W. Blake, E. W. Councilman, J. J. Dunne, W. A. Holcomb, Charles Lewis, H. H. Sauford, W. F. Stevens, Hiram Welch.

THE INDIAN ALARM. - Dispatches have been sent to the Governor, representing that settlers and travelers along the road between this county and Susanville have been put to much trouble, and one or two killed, by Indians. These statements were correct; and we are glad to be informed that the Governor has taken measures to afford the people along that road the protection asked. "

It may be well to state, however, for the satisfaction of persons who have friends here, or acquaintances who owe them coin, within the meaning of the specific contract law, that in Humboldt county we are not dwelling in the midst of alarms; that we have had no trouble with the Indians, except that from places remote from the principal towns stock in considerable numbers has been stolen. In the Upper Humboldt region, there is greater danger. We are told that Major McDermit intends establishing a post in or near Paradise Valley, to be occupied by a company of cavalry. Paradise Valley is a point where several much-traveled roads approach. An establishment there, even of but one good mounted company, will afford ample protection for the settlers and roads throughout a wide extent of country. Forage is abundant there, and provisions can be taken over an excellent wagon road at all times of year. From there mounted men can in a few hours reach any point in the Humboldt country likely to be annoyed by the vagabond Indians roving from the Black Rock country to the Susanville road.

In all the towns of this county a chronic quiet reigns, and people feel secure under their scalps. Some alarm was occasioned, the other day, by the discovery that the squaws and young Pintes had been removed from the canons; but that has worn off, and all feel secure.

THE HUMBOLDT ROUTE TO IDANO .- The coffin steamship lines at the Bay, and their agents and runners and buinmers throughout the interior, all fail: all the lying accounts of the bilge-water dead-heads fail: all the steamboat accounts of Indian troubles fail, to stop the rush of travel over the shortest route from California and Washoe to Idaho. By the Truckee road the horsemen and teams are coming daily, and gangs of Chinese, even, on foot. Here, only 350 miles from the ldaho mines, these pilgrims find hay at thirty dollars the tun, with grass beginning to afford considerable pasturage for animals; flour, bacon, and all kinds of provisions abundant, at reasonable prices. These parties write back to their friends, and the correct information gets to those who have not been in a hurry to start.

THE EVENING STAR MINE, in Trinity District, seems at last to have passed the critical stage. and to promise the realization of the fullest hopes of those who have stood by it. The incline is now 175 feet down, and below the water level. At this depth, the rock is softer, and the ledge 10 inches and widening. A clay seam of an inch and-a-half separates the ledge from each wall. The ore is very fine. Water comes in so rapidly as to retard work. About five ear-loads the hour are hoisted out, and if the flow increases much, it will be necesary to rig a steam pump.

PETOPKINS, of the Magnolia, in Carson, is the one reliable and permanent feature, giving a character of permanency to the Capital, Times change: Territories are torn down and States built up; conventions harangue the people and are set at naught; legislatures couvene, fret through their brief term, and pass away; Hopkins alone is a fixture: immutable in the midst of change, his light still burns, a beacon to guide thirsty souls to where congenial spirits be.

Hopkins, Lance, John C., and Morg., we greet you. In the spirit we commune with you. It is not fitting that the outside world know more of

'HAVE YOU A LOT IN WILLIAMSBURG!'-That is a frequent question, these days. Noon says we have a lot. Going down, one of these days, to see; and if it is a good lot, with title clear, our opinion of Williamsburg is that it is a fine townfor one so young: and that for business opportunities, prospects of improvement, and other advantages, it stands the rival of any other town of no greater pretensions or consequence.

'TRINITY SERIES.'-Recent developments in the 'Evening Star,' Trinity District, induce the owners to make arrangements for the early commencement of work in the series.

Jos. M. Woodworm, late Sergeant-at-Arms of the Nevada Assembly, returned Thursday evening to the scenes of his former labors, and will soon again be contributing to the development of some of the numerous good feet in which he has interest.

Virginia Agency.

GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Ja., corner of B and Union states our authorized Agent in Virginia.

Sacramento Agency.

E. K. PHIPPS. Third street, between J and K, is Agent for this paper in Sacramento, Cal.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION was rendered, Monday, by Judge Burbank, District Judge in Storey. It is a startling matter to fall before the eyes of our mining community at this time. We have no room for the decision, nor for even a full summary of its points. The questions in the case arose somewhat thus: It is a provision of the by-laws of the Alpha mining company, Virginia, that the Trustees shall never involve the company in indebtedness exceeding, in all, at any one time, $10,. 000. The Trustees assumed to change this provision in the by-laws; and contracted a large indebtedness beyond the limits named. Execution issued for sale of company property, to satisfy notes given for a portion of this indebtedness. An order of Court was obtained, temporarily, restraining sale. A demurrer coming up, decides that a corporation under the Terriorial law is subject in the conduct of all its business to the Trustees: that the action of the Trustees, amending the limitation as to indebtedness, and afterwards contracting additional indebtedness, is legal.

We are auxious to see this decision of Bur bank's passed upon in the Supreme Court. All mining corporations in this county, and all lawyers, have understood the law as interpreted by plaintiffs in this case.

The by-laws of many companies here have stipulations as to indebtedness and assessments. If the Trustees are during their term subject to no by-laws enacted by the stockholders, who should have any power at all to succed them?

FOR IDAHO .- The Chinese are flocking that way in force. The advance of a long procession of these dusky emigrants reached town Tuesday evening, on foot and packed; and each day since, the number at their camping ground has swelled. They seem to be waiting for still further additions, before setting out for the river. These fellows trudge along on foot, the same as we see them always in motion-almost every one having a large bamboo pole over his shoulders with a heavy bundle of clothing, mining tools, provisions, and cooking traps, at each end of the bamboo.

The squad which arrived Thursday evening had two horses-one packed, the other drawing a light wagon loaded with traps. Several Chinamen carried large bondles of hay-probably for the horses. These fellows will scratch about, during the Summer, in claims worked out by the white men in the Boise Basin, and next Winter will be dry-washed for whatever they have made, by the roughs congregated in such numbers in that delectable region.

WHAT WOULD BE THE USE?-We observe that some of our cotemporaries now and then drop a word of caution to those people who are quitting certainty of ultimate pay and crowding off to Idaho to prospect; and we have been asked why we do not speak of the risks these people run-of the almost positive certainty that no country, especially in that latitude, affords the foundation for so many fortunes as are now so impetuously sought in Idaho.

What would be the use? We warned people of Kern River. They had been warned against Gold Bluff and Gold Lake. We cautioned them against Frazer, Cariboo, and other bilks. They laugh, and go; and we say, God and his mercy attend them-if they can stand the trip.

AN INSULT TO THE FLAG. -Some dirty scoun drels stole a flag from its perch over Masonic Hall, in Marysville, and deposited it in the vault in the rear. The Appeal bitterly denounces the low scoundrels, and the editor is satisfied of their identity. They ought to be buried-not for a few hours, as that paper suggests,—but finally—in the filthy place which their vulgar imagination deemed a fitting receptacle for the Stars and Stripes.

FIRE IN YREKA.—The Union of the 11th was a half-sheet, and that all advertisements but a little space in one corner. That informs us that a fire occurred the Monday evening previous, destroying all the material of the Union but the presses. Citizens of the county, were raising a liberal amount by subscriptions, and the paper will do as many a blackguard (pardon for the comparison!) has done ere now-realize a new suit by virtue of HEALTHFUL ENOUGH .- A correspondent cautions the readers of a California exchange against as being difficult to safely assort from toadstools. We never heard of mushrooms causing delirium termens nor getting a man shot; and therefore would regard them as an entirely safe article of diet-in California.

STAG HIS NIBS!-The Sacramento Bee makes the following pun, which ought to subject the perpetrator or any other traitor in the Country to decapitation:

Bombs bursting in air,' is a style much prefera-ble to their bursting ere they leave the gun.

'PAY AS You Go!' says the State of Nevada, to those who propose crossing her line outward bound. 'One dollar first, if you please!' Sweeping street crossings for pennies is respectable, in SUNSHINE .- Like the golden wine of Monte Beni, so exquisitely described by Hawthorne, the sunshine of this morning made glad all who absorbed it into their soul and bodies. If the prospect continues, in ten days we shall see the trees pect continues, in ten days we shall see the trees biossoming and the hills sprinkled with flowers. How joyful that will be, after the long, dreary days of the past few weeks. What strolls will we not take, and what goddesses will we not meet, by accident, as in old time, in the woods. The miners are improving this beautiful weather, and are out delving on every hand for leads and ledges. God bless them in their honest toil, and may they have a sunshine of the soul in their after days.—Grass Valley National.

Much that same here; but our weather beats you a little-for the miners could not think of improving it. As did the Creator on the first Saturday evening of the world, our hardy citizens look upon things as they are, and prouounce them 'good:' and they rest.

Migration to the Far West.—A letter in a Western paper, dated Waverly, Missouri, January 11th, says: 'Nearly every family in the town and surrounding occurry is making preparations to leave in the Spring—some for Idaho, some for Nevada, Montana, Colorado, Nebraska and California. Many farms will be abandoned and homes vacated. We are still infested with robbers. Almost severy wight some farmer lease his none. nost every night some farmer loses his money, ciothing or horses. It will be worse next Summer, and bushwhacking will be tenfold as bad as it has ever been. There will be no possibility for a quiet man to live here. One side or the other will kill him or rob him. There will be no marther for anything next Summer. will kill him or rob him. There will be no mar-ket here for anything next Summer, owing to the scarcity of the population.

IN SACRAMENTO, Cal., an election for municipal officers was held on the 14th. The Bec is sensitive as to outside interference. It will please be natient with our solltary comment, that the election was carried by the Union organization known as the Boys-comprising the best men they have in Sacramento.

Sound.-The Carson Post is sound on the proposition to sell the mineral lands; as witness:

The history of the past is full of lessons of wisdom. Read and profit by them. How many original locators to-day hold valuable mining ground as compared with the army that wrought through hunger and thirst, heat and cold, poverty and rags to build up the princely fortunes now enjoyed by men to whose hands the pick and shovel, the sledge and drill are strangers. Two simple words, express in this State, tell the tale: 'froze out.' Froze out, even under our present laws and regulations, how much more certainly and quickly will the work be effected when mortgage, foreclosure and the Sherift's sale shall aid in helping the cause along? We are well aware that ours is labor lost. We have had a sad experience in throwing down the gauntlet to capital, and shall be greatly disappointed if the very men who are to suffer, do not sell themselves to their worst enemy. And yet we intend to express our honest convictions up to the very hour of the consummation of the foul contract.

Rest, Health and Comfort to Mother and child. Mrs. Winslow's Southing Syrup, for children teething, softens the gams, reduces inflamation, allays all pain, and cures wind colic. Perfectly safe in all cases. We would say to every mother who has a suffering child, do not let your prejudice, nor the prejudices of others, stand between you and your suffering child, and the relief that will be sure-yes, absolutely sure-to follow the use of the medicine, if timely used. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

PUBLISHING INCOMES.—The New York Tribune says: 'So long as the income tax shall be required and levied, we are satisfied that it is best for all who are honestly concerned therein that there should be no restriction on giving publicity to the items. We have not the slightest objection to any one or more ascertaining how much income we return, and judging whether that return is full and fair, or otherwise. If we have not returned we return, and judging whether that return is full and fair, or otherwise. If we have not returned enough, let complaint be duly made and correction enforced. And how can this be if the lists are to be shrouded in secrecy? Why shun the light, if there be nothing that dreads it? If there be men (or women) who wish to pass for rich when they are not, or live in state on the plunder of their creditors and tradesmen, why not expose them? And if there be men living at the rate of five to ten thousand a year, who swear their income down to $1,000 to $1,500, why not let the world see and scorn their unpatriotic knavery? We regard any income tax as peculiarly onerous, and only to be justified by the sternest necessity. But, so long as one is imposed, let it be fairly assessed and paid. We know that this will not be if the returns are to be kept secret. We know that some have returned and paid tax on incomes of $5,000 and $10,000 who are actually less wealthy than others who have returned a few hundreds, and even no incomes afall. We want this straightened, and publishing the returns will help—so we go for it.

So general has the use of this remedy become, and so popular is it everywhere, that it is unnecessary to recount its virtues. Its works apusk for it, and find utterance in the abundant valuntary testimony of the many who, from long suffering and settled disease, have by its use been restored to pristine vigor and health. We can present a mass of evidence in proof of our assertions, that WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY!

CAN NOT BE DISCREDITED.

Important Testimony from Physicians. From 8. THACKER, M. D.,

Of Herman, N. Y.

Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry gives universal satisfaction. It seems to cure a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs and allaying irritation, thus removing the cause, instead of dryleg up the cough and leaving the cause behind. I consider the Bulsam as good as any, if not the best cough medicine eith which I am acquainted. From W. B. LYNCH, M. D.,

Of Anbuen, N. Y.

I must cheerfully add my testimony in favor of Wis-tar's Baleam. I have used it in my family in palmona-ry affections, ouglas and colds, and esteem it a most valuable remedy, and have recommended it in various complaints of this nature, with invariable happy re-From H. D. MARTIN, M. D.,

SWAIN'S BOURBON BITTERS

A healthy tonic, gentle stimulant and unequaled morning appetizer. Prepared in ripe old Bourbon. Being now used to the exclusion of all other Bitters in more than fifty United States Army Hospitals, and millions of private families, and is the only popular medicine which has been especially exempted from stamp tax by the United States Gavarament, on the ground of its having been adopted as a standard remody by the medical profession.

SWAIN'S BOURBON BITTERS!

They are made of ingredients well known and approved by the medical profession, as having powerful tonic properties, are both palatable and pleasant, with sufficient strengthening properties to correct the billious derangement of the system, and act like a charm when taken according to direction, as a remedy for the following diseases: Indigention, Dysapesia, Jauness of Spirit, Sallow Complexion,

SWAIN'S BOURBON BITTERS!

Headache, Costiveness, and kindred diseases, arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, Liver or Bowels. Let every one try these agreeable Bitters; once tried and used, they will recommend them with condeenes to all others who are in meed of a wholesome, agreeable and effectual tonic. The rapidly increasing demand for these Bitters has induced me to give them publicity, so that thousands who have not used them, may try them and be convinced of their efficiency.

SWAIN'S BOURBON BITTERS!

Ladies who have tried and found most other Biomach Bitters' too bitter, unpalatable and too highly medicated for their delicate tasse please give these a trial, and you will not be without them. They will give tone to the stomach, and strength to the whole system. Elly your druggist or tradesman has not got these Bitters, have him send for them. Remember the name and take no other.

The composition of Dr. Swain's Bitters having been made public through the dolumns of Medical Journals, and having been adopted as a standard remedy by the Medical Profession, are by the decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Exempt from Stamp Duty.

my knowledge equals it for these female derangements,' Edward S. Marrow, of Newberry, Ala., writes, 'A dangerous avarian timor en one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at longth been completely cured by your Extract of Sarasparills. Our physician though nothing but entirpaion could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla, as the lest resort before cuttrial of your Sarsaparilla, as the last resort before cut-ting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains.

Syphilis and Mercurial Diseases.

New Grizars, 28th Aug., 1855.

Dr. J. C. Aver, Sta: I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realised with your Zarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in aly practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venerial and Mercurial disease. One of my patients had Sphilite nicers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparille, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the alceration had enten away a considerable part of it, so that I helieved the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilis; the alcera healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration of his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her hones. They had become so sensative to the weather that on a damp day she suffered exeruitating pain in her joints and hones. She too, was cured entirely by your agraaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this preparation from your labratory must be a creat remedy; consequently these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me. Fraternally yours.

Jules Y. Getchell, of St. Louis, writes: 'I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried everything, and sverything failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the liver. My beloved patter, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, anything you made was wolth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has an puriled my blood as to make a new man of me. I feet young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough.'

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which our agents are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for there.

Dispepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilep-

Many remarkable curse of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It attenuates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

The Best. Cheapest, and most effectual Remedy, for Coughs Colds, de., the world has ever produced. Furely Vegetable, contains no minerals, or other delecterious drugs.

THE Curstive Cough Balsam is warranted, if used according to directions, to cure in all cases, Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and all affections of the Threat and Longs.

MADAM ZADOC PORTER'S Balsam is a purely Vegetable Expectorant, prepared with great care and scientific still, from a combination of the best remedies the vegetable kingdom afords. Its remedial qualities are based on its power to assist the healthy and vigorous circulation of the blood through the lungs. It enlivens the muscles and assists the skin to perform the dubies of regulating the heat of the system, and of gently throwing off the waste substance from the surface of the body. It loosens the phiegm, induces free splitting, and will be found very agreeable to the taste. It is not a violent remedy, but emolliest, warming, searching and effective, can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child.

Madame Zadoc Portor's Curative Balsam is no new and untried medicine, but has been used by the public for the past 29 years, with unpersalleded suc-

J. C. Avers, & Co., Gent: i feel is my duty to acknowledge what your Sarasparilla has done for ind. Having liberited a seroficious infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out is ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it burst out is ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it burst out for the suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out is ulcers on my hands and overed my scalp and sears with one sore, which was painful and losshessme beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from anything. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarasparilla,) for I knew from your regulation that soything you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured ms. I took it, as you advine, in small doses of a trasponful over a mouth, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the acab, which after a while fell of. My skin ta now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has good from my system. Fou can well believe that I feel what I am stying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the sponties of the age, and remain ever gratefully.

De. J. C. Arm: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheimstism for a long time, which buffled the skill of physicians, and stack to me in spice of all the remedies that I could find, unto a tried your sarasparills. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health as much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medleite.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Coughs, Colds, Influence, Hourseness, Croup, Bronchills, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth, few are the commandities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects some living troopy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerum disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confecence of mankind.

THE EDITOR'S PAGE

The insert of an old Nevada newspaper which you will find in this issue serves but as an introduction to the vast storehouse of Nevada material housed in the Library of the Nevada Historical Society. The collection is known from coast to coast as a "must" for any scholar doing research on the West. The collection is Nevada's equivalent of the famous Bancroft Library at the University of California at Berkeley. Its preservation is as vital to present and future generations of Nevadans and researchers as is the preservation of any great historical collection. Bancroft himself said that Nevada's early history is to be found in the issues of the newspapers of Nevada's great mining camps. The Society—more than any other agency in the State—has devoted itself to the task of assembling and preserving the record.

Notes: We hesitate to point out or footnote any item. The old paper is, we believe, an excellent conversation piece, worthy of close reading from page one through four. The paper is but one of thousands in the collection of the Society. As with any collection, the Society has many "the-only-one-for-this-date" available to scholars and researchers. In addition to the rare items, the Society has runs of papers from all over the State; as a consequence, letters pour in to the Society, and the information they seek keeps a research historian constantly referring to the old papers. Many of the papers have come as gifts; others have been purchased. But however the Society came by them, the important thing is that items long held in family trunks and boxes have been made available to the public. Not only is this old paper sent out to the individual subscriber, it is sent out to all the schools in the State—a service of the Society.
