A beautiful day for fishing at Hinkson Slough. Mike Castro proves this with the gorgeous largemouth bass he caught weighing in at 6 pounds 4 ounces.

Nevada Trophy Fish Program

The Nevada Trophy Fish Program acknowledges the accomplishments of anglers for worthwhile fish caught throughout the year. The way we distinguish fish caught include recognizing entries that meet the minimum weight qualifications by species and recognizing fish that exceed previous water and/or state weight records.

In 2009, there were 97 sport fish and one carp entered into the Trophy Fish Program. As you will notice throughout the pages of this book, many waters generate larger fish. Lahontan Reservoir, Wildhorse Reservoir, South Fork Reservoir, Lake Tahoe, and the Truckee River, for example, were a few of the top producing waters for trophy-sized fish. Wipers, brown trout, rainbow trout, cutthroat trout, largemouth bass, and mackinaw trout produced the most entries (in decreasing order). Look for increased wiper trophy fish entries next year from Wildhorse and South Fork Reservoirs as well as smallmouth bass from South Fork Reservoir as these fisheries continue to flourish.

The Table below shows all record-sized fish caught for specific waters and for the state. Records came in all sizes, from a 15 ounce pumpkinseed sunfish to a 25 pound 9 ounce wiper (a cross between a striped bass and white bass).

The following pages describe current and historical trophy fish catches from Nevada waters, which you should find interesting and informative. We hope that you sincerely enjoy the fishing that Nevada and the Department of Wildlife has to offer, and through this program, we honor your efforts.
