2014 NEVADA TROPHY FISH PROGRAM

The Trophy Fish Program began in 1968, recognizing the talents or luck of anglers catching notable-sized fish in Nevada. There are 29 different fish species for you to enter in the program and you can catch them from over 600 different streams, rivers, lakes, ponds, and reservoirs throughout the state. Generally, all you have to do is catch a fish at or greater than the minimum weight, measure and weigh it, take a picture, fill out the entry form, and mail it to us. It is important that if you suspect it is a state record, you must weigh it on a scale that is "certified" and have an NDOW employee witness it.

In 2014, anglers caught 21 of the 29 different fish species that made up the Trophy Fish Program. It appears that anglers put the most effort into catching trophy Lahontan cutthroat trout (50 caught), channel catfish (24 caught), and rainbow trout (24 caught). The best place to catch trophy Lahontan cutthroat trout (minimum 10-pounds) was Pyramid Lake, with 37 entries. Other species caught were mostly scattered among the many different waters around the state, however, nine rainbow trout weighing at least five-pounds were caught from ponds at Ruby Lake Nation Wildlife Refuge. If you were looking to catch trophy-sized channel catfish, looks like Rye Patch and South Fork reservoirs were the places to fish, producing over half (14) of the trophy channel catfish.

Anglers catching multiple trophy-sized fish included Louis Varela, catching 16 trophy fish, Mike McNeilly with 13, and John Ako with nine entries. No state record trophy-sized fish were caught in 2014. However, since fish in many smaller waters do not have the ability to grow to record sizes, anglers catching the largest fish were considered water record holders. Steve MacMillian again took advantage of fishing streams previously not having trophy fish entries. Although fish did not meet the minimum weight standard for the Trophy Fish Program, he caught 31 fish from 27 streams (several streams had multiple species) to be the first angler to enter a fish in the program from these streams. There were a total of 39 water records broken this year, 35 as first time entries and four beating out previous records.

The Native Fish Slam Program went strong in 2014, with four anglers catching all six native sport fish species to complete the slam. These were Scott Lyons, Bill Hammons, Craig Steele, and Daniel Kenney. This brings the total to 10 anglers that have completed the slam since beginning in 2012. Many other anglers, however, have made a good start by entering from one to three fish since the program started. Of course, there is no time limit on when you need to complete the slam, so take your time, and enjoy getting out and fishing. Regardless of the size of fish entered into the Trophy Fish or Native Fish Slam Programs, it is good to see anglers out enjoying the sport in many new and remote waters in Nevada.

NOTE: These records are officially recognized by the Nevada Department of Wildlife as state records established from the year 1968, the first year of the Nevada Trophy Fish Program through December 2014. These records include fish taken in interstate waters including Lake Tahoe, Topaz Lake, Lake Mead, Lake Mohave and the Colorado River. It is recognized that some species of fish of larger size have been caught from Nevada waters prior to 1968.

World Record data was obtained from the International Game Fish Association's World Record Game Fishes 2014 edition.

*NOTE: The recognized world record Cutthroat trout of 41 pounds was caught from Pyramid Lake in 1925.
