REPORT.

STATE OF NEVADA,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
CARSON CITY, December 31, 1894. }

Hon. R. K. COLCORD, Governor:

SIR: I herewith transmit my second biennial report for the years 1893-94, together with some general statements concerning the work of the office, and a brief epitome of the political history of the State.

O. H. GREY,
Secretary of State.

RECEIPTS OF SECRETARY OF STATE'S OFFICE

The following is the quarterly account of moneys received for fees and from the sale of law books:

Total	Fees and Salaries	Reports	For Sale
-------	----------------------	---------	----------

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

As a member of the State Board of Examiners for the two years just passed, I have been an active participant in its work and can bear testimony to the good work done by the Board, which has at all times been ably supplemented by a painstaking and conscientious attention to details by the Secretary of the Board, Mr. A. Helm. There are no duties that are so little appreciated, thankless and unpopular, as those imposed by law on this Board; at the same time no public function is of a higher responsibility or requires a higher order of executive ability. The Board has met more frequently than required by law; in fact, whenever business presented itself it received the prompt attention of the Board. It may be mentioned, as a fact showing the strict attention paid to business, that excepting on a few occasions every regular meeting of the Board was attended by all its members as well as its Secretary. All the contracts made by the Board have been carefully scrutinized, and in every instance made on terms most advantageous to the State. The Board has at all times maintained that its duties extended to the thorough investigation of every transaction, and that such duties were not perfunctory and supplemental to the investigations of the several commissions which have State institutions in charge.

BALLOT PAPER.

• The last Legislature imposed upon this office the duty of securing the ballot paper for use at the general election held November 8, 1892. The statute popularly known as the Australian Ballot bill provides (Section 11): "Said paper shall be water-marked with a design furnished by the Secretary of State, in such manner that the said water-mark shall be plainly discernible on the outside of such ballots when properly folded." A literal compliance with this provision was, on investigation, found to be impracticable. No machinery known to the art will produce the effect desired. The nearest possible compliance with the Act was adopted, which it was believed would satisfy the requirements of the law.

The expense incident to procuring the paper necessary for the election of 1894, and forwarding the same to the several County Clerks, amounted to about $700. There being no appropriation to meet this expense, and no fund out of which the Controller felt justified in ordering it paid, it has been certified to the Legislature as a deficiency. This ballot system is very expensive, and, in my opinion, does not meet the hopes of the people by eliminating the element of dishonesty in the exercise of the franchise.

RECEIPTS OF SECRETARY OF STATE'S OFFICE.

The following is the quarterly account of moneys received for fees and from the sale of law books :

For 1893.	Fees and Reports.	Sale of Statutes.	Total.
First quarter, ending March 31	$292 50	30 50	$323 00
Second quarter, ending June 30	298 00	67 00	365 00
Third quarter, ending September 30	136 25	102 50	238 75
Fourth quarter, ending December 31	142 00	36 50	178 50
Total for 1893	$868 75	$236 50	$1,105 25
For 1894.
First quarter, ending March 31	$260 40	15 00	$275 40
Second quarter, ending June 30	345 80	37 50	383 30
Third quarter, ending September 30	142 95	20 50	163 45
Fourth quarter, ending December 31	262 40	25 00	287 40
Total for 1894	$1,011 55	$98 00	$1,109 55
Total receipts for two years	$1,880 30	$334 50	$2,214 80

I have receipted to Warden Bell during the past two years moneys paid in the State Treasury amounting to $18,993 89. No part of this money ever came into my hands, but was paid directly to the Treasurer and accounted for by me to the Controller. The Secretary of State ought not, in my opinion, to have anything to do with this business.

STATIONERY ACCOUNT.

Estimated value of stock on hand December 31, 1894	200 00

The economical use of stationery is a noticeable feature of the administration of the State Government, and is not wholly attributable to lack of business. It is not very long since the amount of stationery used by the State officers and Legislatures was very greatly in excess of that used during the past four years. This saving has been shown in the amount used by the past two Legislatures, as well as the State officers. It is fair to say that the large books bought by the Treasurer and Controller, amounting to about one hundred dollars, are not included in the above account.

POLITICAL DATA.

The first public meeting, in what is now Nevada, of which any record was kept, was held at "Mormon Station" (now Genoa), November 12, 1851. The object of this meeting was to organize a squatter government, and to adopt local rules for the government of the settlers and their property. The meeting agreed upon a petition to the National Congress for a Territorial Government. A second meeting was held November 19th, same year, and the next day a local form of government was adopted.

Carson county, Utah, was organized by the following Act :

An Act defining the boundaries of Carson county, and providing for the organization thereof.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Governor and Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah: That all that portion of the country bounded north by Desert county, east by the parallel of longitude 118°, south by the boundary line of this Territory, and west by California, is hereby included within the limits of Carson county, and until organized is attached to Millard county for election, revenue and judicial purposes.

SEC. 2. The Governor is hereby authorized to appoint a Probate Judge for said county, when he shall deem it expedient, and said Probate Judge, when appointed, shall proceed to organize said county, by dividing the county into precincts and causing an election to be held according to law, to fill the various county and precinct offices, and locate the county seat thereof.

W. RICHARDS,
President of the Council.
J. M. GRANT,

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Approved January 17, 1854.

BRIGHAM YOUNG,
Governor of Utah Territory.

TERRITORY OF UTAH, }
SECRETARY'S OFFICE. }

I, Elijah Sells, Secretary of Utah Territory, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true copy.

Witness my hand and the Great Seal of the Territory this 22d day of October, 1892.

ELIJAH SELLS,
Secretary of Utah Territory.

This embraced all of Washoe, Douglas, Lyon, Ormsby and Storey counties, the greater part of Esmeralda and Churchill counties, and a portion of Humboldt.

The first attempt at representation at Washington was made by electing James W. Crane as a delegate to present the claims of the settlers to a Territorial Government. Crane having died, John J. Musser was elected his successor November 12, 1859.

On June 6, 1859, a mass meeting of delegates from the several districts was held, at which the 14th day of July, 1859, was fixed for holding an election for the purpose of electing delegates to a constitutional convention. Delegates so elected met at Genoa on the 18th day of the same month, and in a ten days' session adopted a declaration of rights and a constitution.

This constitution was submitted to the people September 1, 1859. The constitution was adopted, and Isaac Roop elected Governor, with a Legislature and other State officers. Roop was the only officer who attempted to qualify.

The Legislature met at Genoa on the 15th day of December, 1859, and adjourned to meet in July, 1860. They never met again.

John Cradlebaugh, one of the United States District Judges for Utah Territory, arrived at Genoa in the summer of 1859, and impaneled the first grand jury that ever met in what is now the State of Nevada.

TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT.

The Territory of Nevada was organized by an Act of Congress entitled "An Act to organize the Territory of Nevada," approved March 2, 1861.

In pursuance of this Act, James W. Nye of New York was appointed and commissioned by President Lincoln, Governor of Nevada Territory, March 22, 1861.

Governor Nye arrived in Carson July 8, 1861, and on the eleventh day of that month issued a proclamation declaring the Territorial Government organized.

The population, as shown by a census taken by Henry DeGroot, July, 1861, was 16,347. The following officers constituted the Territorial Government: J. W. Mitchell, Edward C. Ing, James H. Sturtevant, William J. Osborn, John C. Wright. The officers of the Assembly were: Miles N. Mitchell, Speaker; William Martin Gillespie, Clerk; Samuel E. Wetherell, Assistant Clerk; J. B. Cormack, Sergeant-at-Arms; Charles C. Conger, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms; C. S. Pierson, Messenger; Robert T. Haslan, Page.

The Territorial Legislature of 1862 passed an Act entitled "An Act to frame a Constitution and State Government for the State of Washoe," which was approved December 20, 1862, providing for an election on the first Wednesday in September, 1863, at which election the question of State Government or no State Government was submitted at the same time delegates were voted for as members of the convention. At this election the vote showed a popular demand for Statehood, and elected the following citizens as members of a convention:

On the 2d day of November, 1863, the members elected to form a convention were called to order by Orion Clemens, Territorial Secretary, and the body was organized by the election of John W. North as President, and Wm. M. Gillespie as Secretary. This convention was in session thirty-two days, and adjourned on the 11th day of December, 1863. On the 19th day of January, 1864, the Constitution framed by this convention was submitted to a vote, and at the same time the following ticket was voted for for State officers:

- Representative in Congress—John B. Winters of Lyon county.

- For Superintendent of Public Instruction—A. F. White of Ormsby county.
- For State Printer—G. W. Bloor of Storey county.

The Constitution was overwhelmingly defeated, while the officers were elected, but found their honors empty because there were no offices to fill.

[The only place the Constitution formulated by the convention of 1863 can be found is in the volume containing the constitutional debates of the convention of 1864. The debates of this convention, which were officially reported, are now out of print, but are preserved in a scrap-book owned by Mrs. Warren Wasson of Carson.]

The question of Statehood was still agitated, particularly by aspiring politicians. A session of the Territorial Legislature was held in January and February, 1864, but no provision was made for another convention. On the 21st of March, 1864, the Congress of the United States passed an Act, the title to which reads: "An Act to enable the people of the Territory of Nevada to form a Constitution and State Government, and for the admission of such State into the Union on an equal footing with the original States."

Under this Congressional Act delegates to a convention were elected, and on the 4th day of July, 1864, met at Carson City, Nevada. The Constitution of 1863 was taken as a basis, and, after a session of twenty-three days, the present Constitution was formulated, differing in but few material features from that of 1863.

An Act of the Legislature of 1861 provided for a Territorial Seal, designed as follows:

Mountains with a stream of water coursing down their sides and falling on the overshot wheel of a quartz mill at the base. A miner leaning on his pick and upholding a United States flag, with a motto expressing the two ideas of loyalty to the Union and the wealth to sustain it: Volens et potens.

Several designs were made and submitted for a State Seal, none of which proved acceptable. The Legislature in 1866 passed an Act providing for "a Seal of State for the State of Nevada." It is described in the Act as follows: "The Great Seal of the State of Nevada," the design of which shall be as follows, to-wit: "In the foreground two large mountains, at the base of which, on the right, there shall be located a quartz mill, and on the left a tunnel penetrating the silver leads of the mountain, with a miner running out a carload of ore and a team loaded with ore for the mill. Immediately in the foreground there shall be emblems indicative of the agricultural resources of the State: a plow, a sheaf and a sickle; in the middle ground a train of railroad cars passing a mountain gorge; also a telegraph line extending along the line of the railroad. In the extreme background a range of snow-clad mountains, with the rising sun in the east; thirty-six stars to encircle the whole group in an outer circle, the words, "The Great Seal of the State of Nevada," to be engraven, with these words for the motto of the State: All for Our Country."

EX OFFICIO STATE LIBRARIAN.

STATE OF NEVADA—DEPARTMENT OF STATE, }
CARSON CITY, December 31, 1896. }

To His Excellency HON. REINHOLD SADLER, Governor:

SIR: I herewith transmit my three first biennial reports under one cover, for the years 1895 and 1896, for the different departments under the consolidation effected by enactment of the Legislature, going into effect January 8, 1895, upon my incumbency.

Herewith find reports, to-wit: each distinct and separate, and arranged in order as follows: Report of the office of Secretary of State, report of the office of Clerk of the Supreme Court and Supreme Court Reporter, and report of the State Library. Though each report is distinct and by itself, I have prepared said reports in one volume, so as to save the expense of binding each separately.

EUGENE HOWELL,

Secretary of State, ex officio Clerk of the Supreme Court, and ex officio State Librarian.
