(millions of $)

- Nevada's export activity has held up quite well of late, despite the impacts of the national recession. All told, export activity in Nevada has grown six-fold over the past decade.
- December exports totaled $883 million, an all-time high in nominal terms. For all of 2011, exports totaled nearly $8 billion, up by more than one-third from a year ago.
- Major export commodities in Nevada are precious metals, ores, and electronic machinery.
