ABSTRACT

This inventory represents the status and usage of all permitted, certificated, claims of vested right groundwater rights, and exempt domestic wells located within Dayton Valley, Hydrographic Basin 8-103, for water year 2020 (October 1, 2019 through September 30, 2020). Also included are graphs and data associated with streamflow discharge and depth to groundwater.

The data presented are valid for the time of this report and may vary from previously published figures as water rights within the basin are subject to administrative action, such as certification, cancellation, forfeiture, or withdrawal on a continual basis.

For water year 2020, the permitted, certificated, and claims of vested right groundwater rights totaled 27,163 acre-feet, with estimated pumpage of 7,892 acre-feet. This figure includes an estimated 1,537 acre-feet pumped from exempt domestic wells.

Municipal and quasi-municipal were the largest manners of use within the basin. For water year 2020, pumpage for municipal and quasi-municipal use totaled 3,842 acre-feet, with appropriations of 14,937 acre-feet. The second largest category of use was irrigation, with pumpage of 2,079 acre-feet and appropriations totaling 7,165 acre-feet.

¹Includes pumpage by exempt domestic wells, as defined by NRS 534.013.

² Committed groundwater resource data are accurate for October 2020. Manner of use category totals vary over time, as rights are not static. Rights may be subject to change applications, certification, withdrawals, forfeiture and cancellations; each of these circumstances could affect the duty, diversion rate and acreage associated with a given right. The value associated with each manner of use category does not include the amount relinquished in support of domestic wells. Review of the NDWR Well Log Database indicates that 1,537 domestic wells existed in the basin during water year 2020. This number includes both appropriations and exempt domestic wells. The committed domestic water resource is considered to be 2 acre-feet per domestic well, or 3,074 acre-feet annually.

PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this report is to inventory all of the groundwater resources allocated and described by the Office of the State Engineer, Nevada Division of Water Resources (NDWR). The estimated amount of groundwater pumped under permits, certificates, vested claims, and exempt domestic wells within Dayton Valley, Hydrographic Basin 8-103, for water year 2020 (October 1, 2019 through September 30, 2020) is described in the following sections.

DESCRIPTION OF THE STUDY AREA

Dayton Valley is located in west central Nevada, occupying approximately 360 square miles in parts of Carson City, Douglas, Lyon, and Storey Counties (Figure 1). The Virginia and Flowery Ranges bound Dayton Valley on the north, and the Pine Nut Mountains bound the valley to the south. Prison Hill and several lower hills form the western boundary of Dayton Valley. Churchill Butte and the associated alluvial rise form the eastern boundary of the valley. The adjacent hydrographic basins are Carson Valley (8-105) to the southwest, Eagle Valley (8-104) to the west, Washoe Valley (6-089) and Truckee Meadows (6-087) to the northwest, Tracy Segment (6-083) to the north, and Churchill Valley (8-102) to the east. The exterior boundary of the Dayton Valley Hydrographic Basin is as described by Designation Order 487 and Order 688, issued by the Nevada State Engineer on January 22, 1973 and August 23, 1977, respectively.

The dominant hydrologic feature of Dayton Valley is the Carson River. The Carson River flows from its headwaters in the Sierra Nevada through the Carson, Dayton, and Churchill Valleys to the Carson Sink, located in the Carson Desert, Hydrographic Basin (8-101). The river flows generally west to east over its 131-mile length.

The U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) operates streamflow gaging stations near the locations where the Carson River enters and exits Dayton Valley. These are stations #10311000 (Carson River near Carson City) and #10312000 (Carson River near Fort Churchill), respectively. Located approximately 400 feet upstream of gaging station #10312000 is the diversion for Buckland Ditch. The ditch delivers Carson River water to fields located in Churchill Valley. For water year 2020, approximately 4,880 acre-feet were diverted to the ditch, predominantly for flood irrigating alfalfa and pastures.³ Diversions for irrigation begin in April and continue as long as sufficient flows are present. The diversions to Buckland Ditch should be added to the gage reading to estimate the Carson River discharge from Dayton Valley to Churchill Valley pastures.

GROUNDWATER LEVELS

Depths to groundwater in Dayton Valley are measured by NDWR and other entities on a periodic basis. Data for active monitoring well sites (Figure 2) can be found on NDWR's website at <http://water.nv.gov/WaterLevelData.aspx>, or via the Nevada Hydrology Data Mapping Application, accessible at <http://water.nv.gov/mapping.aspx>. Groundwater level data are also collected by the USGS and may be accessed through their website at <https://waterdata.usgs.gov/nv/nwis/gw>.

METHODS TO ESTIMATE PUMPAGE

One of the purposes of this report is to estimate the amount of groundwater pumped under vested claims, permits and certificates issued by the State Engineer, as well as the amount pumped by exempt domestic wells in the valley. Figure 3 compares estimated historical irrigation pumpage to measured Carson River streamflow at USGS gaging station #10311000; Table 1 and Figure 4 show historical pumpage by manner of use; Figure 5 shows the percentage of water pumped by manner of use; and Figure 6 compares groundwater commitments and estimated pumpage by manner of use. The following methods were used to arrive at the estimated pumpage:

- Where totalizing meters were in place, meter readings were taken and compared with previous data (if available).
- Where totalizing meter readings resulted in inconsistent or ambiguous totals, the manner of use was irrigation, and pumpage had previously been estimated, use was estimated by multiplying the number of kilowatt-hours used per year (based on the electric meter for the well or asking the water user) by the measured or certificated diversion rate or the instantaneous discharge from the well measured by NDWR personnel.
- Where there were no flow meters or other reliable options for estimating pumpage and the use was irrigation, pumpage was estimated by dividing the Net Irrigation Water Requirement (NIWR) for the crop grown by the efficiency of the irrigation method used, then multiplying by the number of acres irrigated. Assumed efficiencies for irrigation methods are 85% for pivot, 75% for wheel lines, and 60% for flood. If the resulting pumpage estimate exceeded the permitted duty, then duty was assumed as the total pumpage amount. For places where the groundwater rights are supplemental to surface water, groundwater use was estimated using the NIWR method above, but adjusted based on available surface water for the year. Evapotranspiration and NIWR data by basin are available on the NDWR website at: <http://water.nv.gov/Evapotranspiration.aspx>.
- Where meters were not present, previous data were not available, and the manner of use was not irrigation, pumpage was estimated by applying the annual duty associated with the certificate (if the water right was perfected), permit or claim, if the use was as described in the certificate, permit or claim. If the use was not as described in the certificate, permit or claim, a value was estimated based upon the circumstances of use for the subject year.
- Stockwater wells are not required to be equipped with totalizing meters. Estimates of pumpage were derived from a combination of sources, including field inspection, information from water right owners and documentation from the water right permit files.
- The primary water purveyors in Dayton Valley are Lyon County Utilities, Carson City Utilities, and Stagecoach General Improvement District. These entities provide the Office of the State Engineer with monthly pumping totals on a quarterly basis as a condition of the permits under which the water they provide was appropriated. These reports were used directly as the amount pumped by those purveyors and were verified with meter readings taken by NDWR staff.

- Exempt domestic wells do not require a permit issued by the State Engineer (Nevada Revised Statutes [NRS] 534.180). These domestic wells may be drilled and utilized where water service from a purveyor is not available. NRS 534.013 defines this category of domestic use as follows: “Domestic use or domestic purposes extends to culinary and household purposes directly related to a single family dwelling, including, without limitation, the watering of a family garden and lawn and the watering of livestock and any other domestic animals or household pets.” The number of exempt domestic wells in the basin was determined by a query of the NDWR Well Log Database. By statute, domestic wells are allowed to pump up to two acre-feet annually; however, the amount of water pumped annually by exempt domestic wells was estimated to be 1 acre-foot per well, or 1,537 acre-feet.
