

LEGISLATIVE MANUAL

State of Nevada

SIXTY-FOURTH SESSION of the

NEVADA LEGISLATURE

1987

CARSON CITY

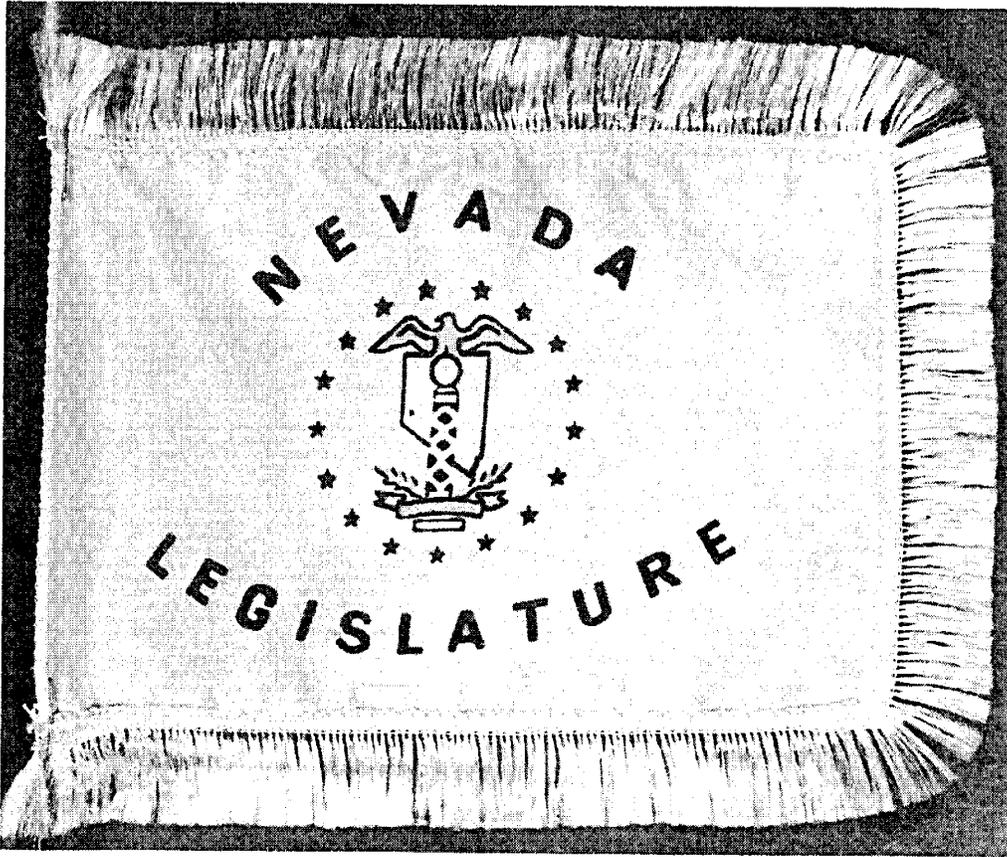

Nevada Legislative Counsel Bureau
BULLETIN NO. 87-21

INTRODUCTION

The Nevada Legislative Manual is produced each biennium by the legislative counsel bureau. It is designed primarily as a reference tool for legislators. However, it is also intended for use by members of the executive and judicial branches of government, representatives of private interest groups and interested citizens.

The manual contains information pertaining to legislative structure and procedures, legislative counsel bureau staff services and administrative details for legislators. It also includes the structure and personnel of the executive and judicial branches of government.

Suggestions for corrections or improvements of the manual are welcome and should be directed to the research division, legislative counsel bureau.

The Flag of the Legislature of the State of Nevada. At its 1967 session, the legislature of the State of Nevada adopted an official flag, which flies outside the legislative building whenever the senate and assembly are in session. The flag was designed by the senior government class of Tonopah High School.

CHAPTER II

LEGISLATIVE STRUCTURE, FINANCIAL OPERATION AND RESPONSIBILITIES

CHAPTER II

LEGISLATIVE STRUCTURE, FINANCIAL OPERATION AND RESPONSIBILITIES

In American politics, a legislature is a body of elected representatives of the people empowered to make authoritative and binding decisions concerning the way society is governed. The policies formulated and the resources allocated by legislatures affect virtually every aspect of human existence in which the community as a whole has an interest. Thus, it is extremely important that the function of legislatures be clearly understood and that legislative actions find continued sanction among the people. This brief introduction to the Nevada legislature is designed to acquaint both legislators and the public with the basic procedures through which laws are enacted in The Silver State.

GLOSSARY OF LEGISLATIVE TERMS

The legislative process has acquired a vocabulary of its own over the years. Often these words have a precise and definite meaning which varies considerably from the same word when used in common conversation. This legislative terminology may also vary in meaning from one state legislature to another.

Much of the vocabulary listed hereafter is defined in Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, and that manual also contains terms which are not included in the following list. However, an attempt is made to define the words most commonly in use in the Nevada legislature as well as those which will assist in a clear understanding of the various subjects and procedures described in this publication.

GLOSSARY

Act.....	A bill passed by both houses.
Action.....	Any step of parliamentary procedure upon a proposed law or resolution.
Adjournment.....	The ending of a legislative day; regular adjournment sets the date for the next meeting. Adjournment sine die literally means "adjournment without a day"; it marks the end of the legislative session since it does not set a time for reconvening.
Administration measure.....	Bill proposed by the governor.
Amend.....	To alter formally by modification, deletion or addition.

Apportionment.....	A division of the state into districts from which members of the legislature are elected.
Appropriation.....	A legislative grant of money for a specific purpose.
Assembly.....	The branch of the legislature with more members, each member representing fewer people than a member of the senate.
Attaché.....	An employee of the assembly or the senate.
Authorized Expenditures Act.....	An omnibus act authorizing and limiting, except under certain conditions, the expenditure of special or dedicated revenues for government departments and programs.
Bicameral legislature.....	A two-house legislature.
Biennial.....	Occurring every 2 years; applied to the scheduled regular session of the legislature.
Bill.....	A draft of a proposed law presented for enactment.
BDR.....	A bill draft request submitted to the legislative counsel bureau by a legislator, an executive agency or a member of the judiciary and assigned a two-part number, the first part the title number of NRS, the second part a unique sequence number for a session.
Boilerplate.....	Standard bill drafting language common to various subjects and designed to maintain the legal consistency of the language of the NRS.
Bond.....	A certificate of indebtedness issued by the government in return for money it has borrowed.
Budget.....	Estimate of the receipts and expenditures needed to carry out programs for a fiscal period.
By request.....	Introduction of a measure by a legislator for some private individual or group.
Calendar.....	List or docket of bills awaiting action, entered in order reported.
Calendar day.....	Each consecutive day on the calendar for the duration of the legislative session whether or not the houses convene.
Caucus.....	Conference of legislative party members to decide on party policies and action, or a meeting of the legislators from a particular county or group of counties.
Closing budgets.....	The process whereby final action is taken by the money committees on individual budgets.
Conference committee.....	A joint meeting of a committee on conference from each of the two houses whose function is to arrive at a single version of a bill that has passed both houses in somewhat different form.
Consent calendar.....	A list of bills, of a noncontroversial nature, which is voted on as a single roll call vote without roll calls on each bill on the list.
Constitution.....	The written instrument agreed upon by the people of the United States, or of a particular state, as the absolute rule of action and decision for the government.
Engrossment.....	The preparation of a bill or resolution for third reading including the incorporation of all amendments adopted and proofreading.
Enrollment.....	The final printing of a bill or resolution after enactment by both houses.

Executive budget.....	Program of expected revenues and proposed expenditures comparing current, future and past completed years for existing programs and projecting revenues and expenditures of new programs for future years. The executive budget is proposed by the governor and the chief of the budget division of the department of administration.
Ex officio.....	Holding two offices; holding another office by virtue of or because of the holding of the first office.
First reading.....	Introduction of a bill in either house of the legislature by giving it a number and reading it before the full house by title before it is referred by the presiding officer to the appropriate committee.
Fiscal note—state government.....	Analysis required by statute to be prepared by an executive agency estimating revenue or expenditure changes which would be entailed by the passage of a proposed bill.
Fiscal note—local government.....	Analysis required by statute to be prepared by the fiscal analysis division of the legislative counsel bureau to accompany any bill which reduces the revenues or increases the expenditures of a local government.
Floor.....	Recognition by the chair for the purpose of discussion, debate or remarks while a house is in session.
General Appropriation Act.....	An omnibus act appropriating funds for government departments or programs, usually from the general fund.
General File.....	The third reading file of bills and joint resolutions due for consideration in the houses.
General law.....	A law of general, or potential general, application throughout the state.
Gerrymandering.....	Legislative district boundary lines drawn to obtain partisan or factional advantages.
Grandfather clause.....	A provision in a bill making it nonapplicable to activities or personnel involved prior to the enactment of the new legislation.
Hearing.....	A session of a legislative committee at which witnesses present testimony on matters under consideration by the committee.
History.....	A cumulative daily listing of actions on all measures in the houses.
Impeachment.....	A formal accusation against a public official by the assembly. After the assembly has impeached, the senate tries the person.
Initiative.....	A procedure which enables a specified number of voters to propose, by petition, a law or constitutional amendment, and to secure its submission to the electorate for approval.
Interim.....	The period from the adjournment sine die of one regular legislative session to the convening of the next regular session.
Introduction.....	The presentation of a bill or resolution for consideration by a house.
Journal.....	Record of daily proceedings in the houses.
Law.....	Bill passed by both houses and approved by the governor, or if vetoed by the governor, the veto overridden by a two-thirds vote of each house.

Leadership.....	Includes the presiding officers of both houses (president of the senate and president pro tempore; speaker of the assembly and speaker pro tempore) and the floor leaders of both houses (majority and minority leaders, assistant majority leaders, and assistant minority leaders).
Legislative day.....	Each day that the houses actually convene. These do not necessarily coincide in number with calendar days.
Legislative rules.....	The methods of procedure determined by the legislature at the beginning of a session.
Lobbyist.....	A representative of a special interest who attends sessions to oppose or support the enactment of legislation.
Majority leader.....	A member of either house chosen by the members of the majority party in that house as their spokesman.
Minority leader.....	A member of either house chosen by the members of the minority party in that house as their spokesman.
Money committees.....	The committees in each house that hear all appropriations requests and recommend the appropriations bills, specifically the Assembly Standing Committee on Ways and Means and the Senate Standing Committee on Finance.
Nevada Administrative Code (NAC).....	The compilation of all effective, permanent regulations adopted by Nevada state agencies, except those of certain exempted agencies, after review by the legislative commission.
Nevada Revised Statutes (NRS).....	The statutory law of Nevada of a general nature enacted by the legislature, with such law arranged in an orderly manner by subject, and updated after every regular legislative session.
Preamble.....	The introductory part of a bill or resolution that states the reasons and intent of the measure.
President of the senate.....	Lieutenant governor as presiding officer of the senate.
President pro Tempore.....	A senator chosen by the senate to preside in the absence of the president.
Presiding officer.....	The person in each house who chairs the conduct of business before the body and guides and directs the proceedings of the body.
Quorum.....	The number of members of a house or of a committee who must be present for the body to conduct official business.
Recall.....	Requesting the return of a measure from the governor or the other house by a resolution.
Recede.....	Withdraw from an amendment which the other house refused to concur in.
Redo.....	The redrafting of a bill by the legislative counsel bureau prior to its introduction.
Refer.....	Send a measure to a committee for study and consideration.
Referendum.....	The principle or practice of submitting a law to popular vote after the filing of a petition expressing the wish of the people to vote on such law.

Regular session.....	Period during which the Nevada legislature meets biennially, in odd-numbered years.
Relief bill.....	A bill, usually appropriating money, for the reimbursement of persons who have a claim against the state.
Reprint.....	Versions of a bill or resolution subsequent to the introduced version which reflects amendments adopted by either house.
Resolutions.....	One-house resolution — expresses facts, principles, opinions and purposes of one house. Concurrent resolution — expresses facts, principles, opinions and purposes of the two houses and authorizes the creation of joint committees. Joint resolution — memorializes federal officials to engage in an action, or proposes amendments to the state constitution or ratifies amendments to the United States Constitution.
Roll call.....	Recording of the presence of members or a tally by individual votes on a bill or joint resolution.
Second reading.....	When a bill, after it has been reported from committee, is read for the second time before the full house. Committee amendments or amendments from the floor are adopted or rejected by simple majority vote of the members present and voting.
Second Reading File.....	File of bills for second reading and consideration of amendments in the houses.
Senate.....	The branch of the legislature with fewer members, each member representing more people than does a member of the assembly. Sometimes called the upper house.
Seniority.....	Length of legislative service. Seniority is often used to assign committee positions and political rank.
Speaker of the assembly.....	The presiding officer of the assembly.
Speaker pro Tempore.....	An assemblyman chosen by the assembly to preside in the absence of the speaker.
Special law.....	A law of local or limited application.
Special session.....	A meeting of the legislature convened on the call of the governor and restricted to the subjects stated in the governor's call.
Standing committee.....	A committee of either the senate or assembly which is created by legislative rule and is responsible for considering legislation in a certain subject area.
Statute.....	Bill passed by both houses and approved by the governor, or, if vetoed by the governor, the veto overridden by a two-thirds vote of each house.
Statutes of Nevada.....	The bound compilation of all general and special laws and resolutions enacted in a specific year.
Summary.....	A brief and unofficial resumé of the contents of a bill or resolution.
Third reading.....	When the bill, reprinted with any adopted amendments, is debated by the full house on another day after the second reading. It may be passed, rejected or further amended, in which case final action on the newly amended version is taken on a later day.

	If the bill is passed, it is sent to the other house; it is sent to the governor if passed in identical form by both houses.
Title.....	An official resumé of the contents of a bill or resolution.
Unicameral legislature.....	A one-house legislature.
Veto.....	Governor's formal disapproval of a bill or joint resolution.

THE LEGISLATIVE ENVIRONMENT

Nevada has a bicameral legislature consisting of a senate and an assembly. The two houses jointly are designated by the state constitution as "The Legislature of the State of Nevada."¹ The Legislature is one of three separate and distinct branches of government at the state level, the other two being the executive branch (headed by the governor) and the judicial branch. According to article 3, section 1, of the Nevada constitution, " no persons charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of these departments shall exercise any functions, appertaining to either of the others * * *" except in certain specified instances.²

However, it is important to realize that,

The legislature is part of a larger political system. Its ability to act and to make its decisions stick is affected by the actions of other institutions and by the happenings and circumstances in the political process at large. Its linkages with other political institutions stand out clearly. No matter how specific the intent of the legislature, its decisions will require interpretation and implementation by executive officials; no matter how unambiguous its legislative purposes, its laws may come under review in the judicial process. In dealing with the executive branch and the courts, the legislature may have neither the first word, as represented in the origination of ideas for legislation, nor the last word, as represented in the determination of the constitutionality of its legislation.³

Size

Unlike some states, Nevada does not fix the number of its senators and assemblymen in its constitution. Instead, the constitution sets a maximum limit of 75 legislators from the combined total of the two houses.⁴ No minimum limit is set on the size of the legislature, but " the number of senators shall not be less than one-third nor more than one-half of that of the members of the assembly."⁵ As a result, Nevada could theoretically have a maximum number of 25 senators, if the assembly had 50 members, with the number of senators shrinking to 19 if the assembly's size were to be set at a maximum of 56. The minimum size of the Nevada legislature, in theory, would be one senator and two assemblymen. The size of the legislature is set by statute.

At the present time, the Nevada legislature is composed of 21 senators and 42 assemblymen, for total membership of 63.⁶ The constitution states that senators and assemblymen must be apportioned among the several counties of the state or among legislative districts in accordance with law.⁷ The United States Supreme Court has held that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on a population basis.⁸

Apportionment

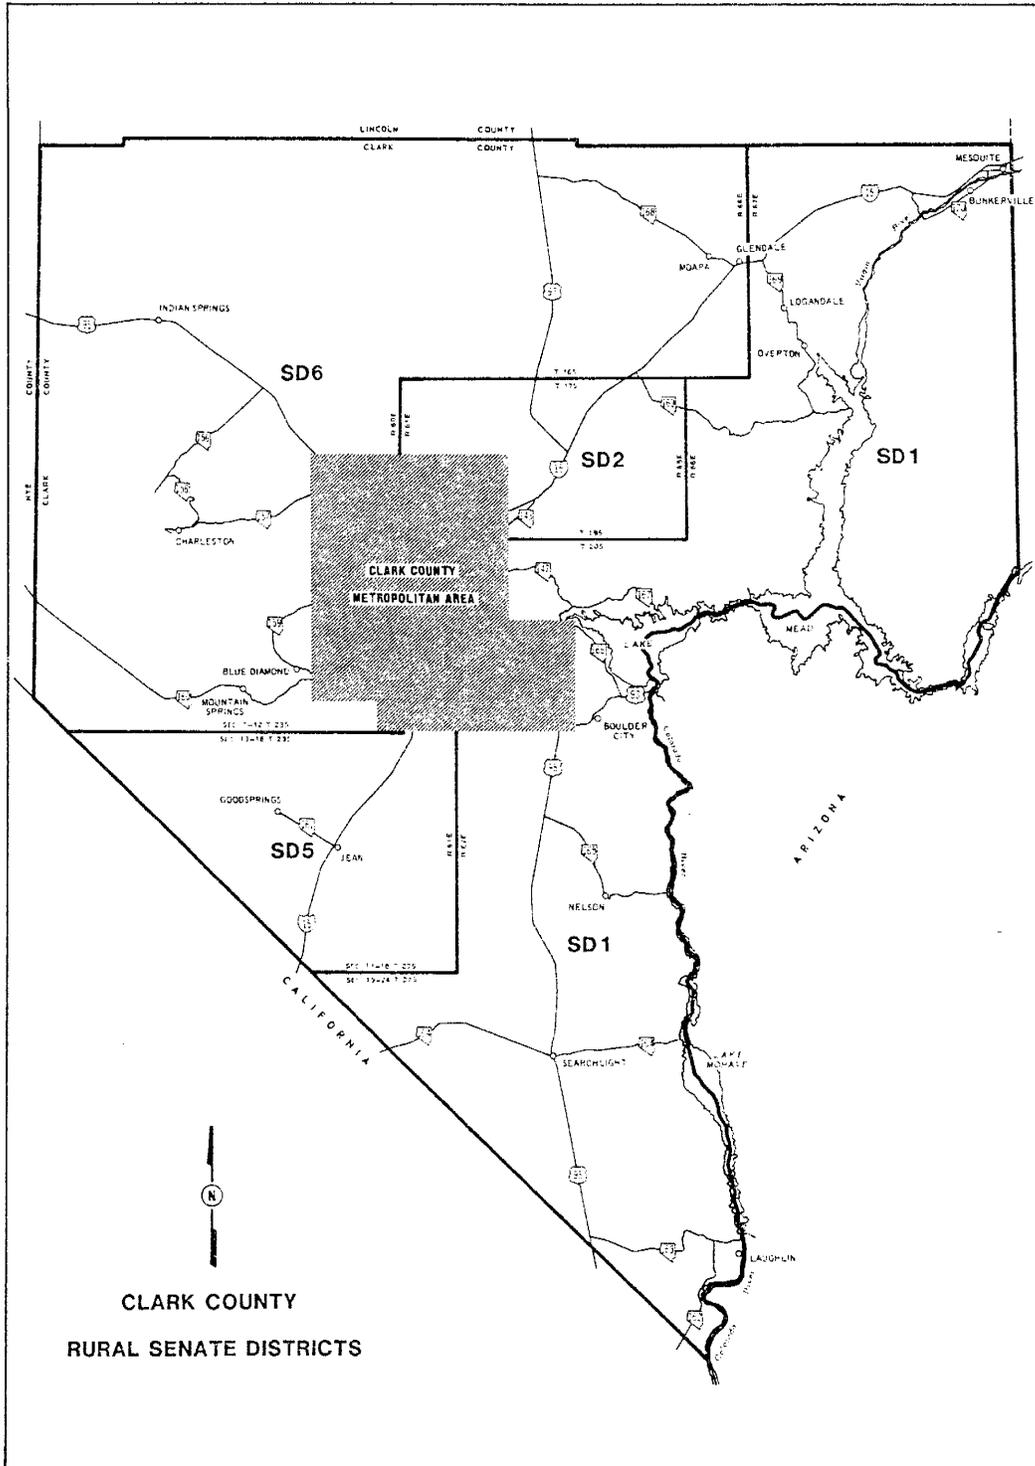

Membership in both houses of the legislature is geographically apportioned throughout the state on the basis of population. Normally the legislature only redistricts every 10 years, immediately after the federal decennial census, as required by the state constitution.⁹ Nevada legislators, during the 1981 regular legislative session, reapportioned state senate and assembly districts. Maps A through J on the following pages describe the current boundaries of Nevada legislative districts. Additional, detailed maps of every district are available through the legislative counsel bureau's publications office. Also available are 1980 census statistics by legislative districts.

All assembly districts are single-member. There are 42 districts and 42 assemblymen. There are seven single-member senate districts and seven two-member senate districts. In Clark County, there are two single-member senate districts and five two-member districts. In Washoe County, there is one single-member senate district and two two-member districts. The rest of the state comprises four single-member senate districts. In two-member districts, only one seat is filled in each election with the other seat up in the next election. There is no distinction between senators elected from single-member districts and those representing two-member districts.

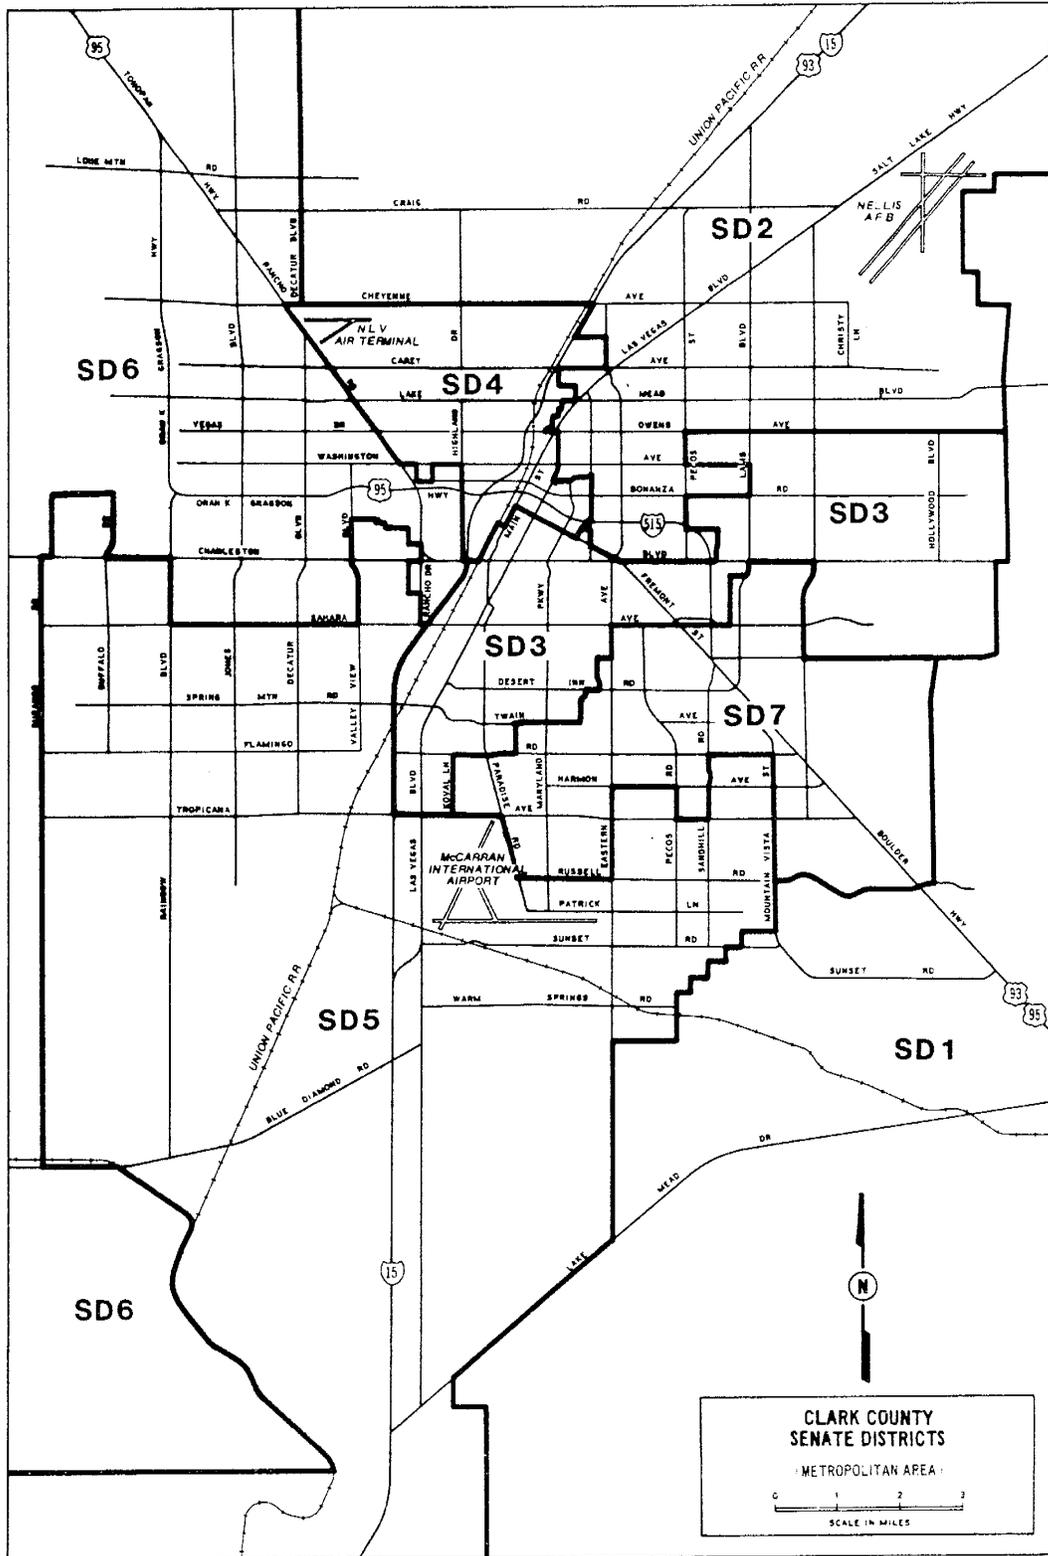

The ideal assembly district based on 1980 state population is about 19,000. The ideal single-member senate district is about 38,000. Every district created by the 1981 legislature is within 5 percent, plus or minus, of the ideal. This deviation is within the limits accepted by the U.S. Supreme Court.

With one small exception, two complete assembly districts comprise a single-member senate district and four complete assembly districts comprise a two-member senate district. The assembly districts are numbered 1-42 without reference to the county. Districts 1-22, 41 and 42 are in Clark County. Districts 23-32 are in Washoe County. Districts 33-40 are in the balance of the state. Senate districts are numbered within Clark and Washoe counties with reference to the county, i.e., Clark 1, Washoe 1. The other four senate districts have descriptive names: Northern Nevada, Central Nevada, Western Nevada and Capital districts. Outside of Washoe and Clark counties, all senate districts contain more than a single county. With the exception of Douglas County and Carson City, each of which contain an entire assembly district, rural assembly districts contain more than a single county.

Membership Qualifications

Members of the assembly are elected every 2 years by the qualified electors in their respective districts. Senators, on the other hand, serve for 4-year terms, which are staggered so that, as near as possible, one-half of the number of senators is elected every 2 years. Members of both houses are elected on the 1st Tuesday after the 1st Monday in November of even-numbered years, at intervals of 2 or 4 years, depending upon the house in question. They assume office on the day following their election.¹⁰

To be eligible to serve as a senator or an assemblyman, a person must be at least 21 years of age, a qualified elector in his respective county and district and a citizen resident of Nevada for a minimum of 1 year next preceding his election.¹¹ However, the state constitution declares that, "Each House shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its own members * * * and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected, expel a member."¹² Thus, theoretically, a house could seat someone who failed to meet the statutory requirements (or deny a seat to someone who met all of the legal requirements for membership in the legislature) by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership.

No person holding a federal office of profit (with the exception of postmasters earning less than $500 per year or commissioners of deeds) or a lucrative office under any other power may serve as a legislator.¹³ Persons are also disqualified from holding legislative office if they have been convicted of embezzlement of public funds or bribery in the procurement of election or appointment to office.¹⁴ A legislator may not be appointed to any civil office of profit in the state which was created, or the salary for which was raised, during his term of office, for a period of 1 year after the expiration of his term.¹⁵

Vacancies

If a legislator dies or resigns from office (he must deliver his resignation to the governor to resign) during a regular or special session of the legislature, or at a time when no biennial election or regular election is scheduled between the time the vacancy occurs and the date of the next legislative session, the board of county commissioners from the legislator's district is required to appoint a person of the same political party as the former incumbent to fill the unexpired term. If the senator or assemblyman was elected from a district comprising more than one county, the appointment is required to be made by the county commissioners of each county within or partly within the legislator's district. Each board of county commissioners first meets separately and determines the single candidate it will nominate to fill the vacancy. Then the boards meet jointly and the chairmen on behalf of the boards cast a proportionate number of votes according to the percent which the population of its county is of the population of the entire district. The person who receives a plurality of these votes is appointed to fill the vacancy. If no candidate receives a plurality of the votes, the various boards of county commissioners each selects a candidate. The appointee is then chosen by drawing lots from those candidates nominated by the boards voting separately.¹⁶

Committees

STANDING COMMITTEES

Each house of the Nevada legislature has its own standing committees, the members of which are appointed by the presiding officer in accordance with current standing rules.¹⁷ The number of members is determined by these rules, and many times there are changes made, especially in the assembly, at the beginning of each session. In the senate, the composition and leadership of the committees is usually determined in party caucuses. In the assembly, the speaker, who is invariably a member of the majority party or a coalition, makes the committee appointments and uses such appointments as part of his campaign to be speaker. The speaker also designates the chairman and vice-chairman of each committee.¹⁸ Usually, minority party memberships in assembly committees are determined in caucuses of the minority party, and the speaker appoints the members as agreed in such caucus. With some exceptions, the general practice is for the majority party to have a bare majority of the members in each committee when total membership of a house is closely divided between both political parties. When there is a substantial margin of majority party members, however, this practice has been modified to allow a predominance of majority party members on each standing committee. Basic rules for the functioning of committees are contained in the standing rules of the houses and Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, which has been adopted by both houses as the basis of parliamentary practice in all cases in which it is applicable and in which it is not inconsistent with the standing rules of the houses.¹⁹

The names and memberships of senate and assembly standing committees for the 1987 session are listed in Chapter I of this manual.

Committees are the workshops of the legislature. Visitors to the two chambers are often amazed at the rapidity with which business is dispatched, little realizing that long hours in committee sessions have transpired prior to any floor action on a bill. It is in committee that hearings are held, testimony from interested parties is taken and bills are analyzed line by line for their legal and societal merits.

Assembly Rule 45 of the 63rd session requires: "All bills, resolutions or other matter referred to any committee shall be reported back by such committee to the Assembly, together with the action of the committee thereon, as soon as practicable after such reference."²⁰ Referring to duties of committees, Senate Rule 43 of the 63rd session requires that committees " * * * fully consider and report their opinion upon any matter committed or referred to them by the Senate."²¹

Committees make several types of recommendations on legislative measures that come before them for consideration. By use of a standard form containing several preprinted recommendations, an assembly committee may report a bill back to the whole house with a: (1) "Do pass," "Amend, and do pass, as amended" or a "Do pass, as amended" recommendation. Such recommendations mean that a committee considers a bill to have sufficient merit to justify its enactment, either as introduced or with appropriate amendments; (2) recommendation that it be passed and re-referred, or amended and re-referred, to a specified committee; (3) recommendation that the bill "Do not pass" in which case the committee is recommending its rejection by the whole house; and (4) "Do pass, and place on consent calendar" recommendation. The consent calendar procedure is discussed later under the heading "consent calendar."

A committee may also report a bill "Without recommendation," or "Amend, but without recommendation," which means that the committee was unable to reach a conclusion on what it believes should be the action to be taken by the whole house. On occasion, a committee will report a bill to the floor with both a majority and minority recommendation.

Three assembly rules (46, 47, 48) require that records be kept of committee votes on bills or resolutions and of committee proceedings. Furthermore, these records, minutes and documents are required to be filed in the offices of the legislative counsel bureau upon adjournment sine die.²²

Standing committees may perform other functions besides considering legislation. For example, senate rule 54 encourages each standing committee of the senate to plan and conduct a general review of selected programs of state agencies or other areas of public interest within the committees' jurisdiction.²³

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

In addition to standing committees, which continue in existence throughout a session, there are two other types of committees used by the legislature in Nevada—committees of the whole and select committees. A committee of the whole is a committee composed of the entire membership of one of the houses. It is usually convened so that the house can consider proposed legislation informally, without being bound by the requirements on formal consideration set out in the constitution, statutes and legislative rules, such as limitations on debate and the necessity for maintaining a quorum. It is a procedural device for expediting house action. When the senate dissolves itself into a committee of the whole, the senator who made the motion for the committee of the whole is required to name a chairman to preside over the committee. In the assembly, the speaker names a chairman to preside. A committee of the whole is a temporary or ad hoc committee. At the conclusion of its deliberations, the committee of the whole (through its chairman) normally reports its recommendations back to the house for formal action, in the same manner as standing or select committees.²⁴

SELECT COMMITTEES AND COMMITTEES OF CONFERENCE

Select committees are also temporary committees, appointed for a special purpose, which may be the consideration of a particular bill or the performance of a ceremonial function (e.g., a committee of escort for the governor).

In Nevada, bills of application or primary concern to particular localities are sometimes referred to select committees composed of the legislative delegation from the area affected.

A particularly important type of select committee is the committee of conference. Whenever a bill is passed by both houses in differing forms because of amendments added by one of the houses, and the two houses cannot agree on identical language for the bill in question, each house appoints a number of conferees to meet with conferees of the other house to seek a resolution of the differences existing in the two versions of the bill. In a committee of conference, the conferees of one house may agree to amendments adopted in the other house or recede from the amendments adopted by their chamber. Conferees may also decide that new amendments or even new bills are necessary to reach accord. A committee of conference may consider the whole subject matter of a bill without restriction to the points in dispute and may make any changes it deems appropriate. Once the conferees reach an agreement, they report back to their respective houses with their recommendations. The report of a conference committee may be adopted by acclamation, and such action is considered equivalent to the adoption of any amendments or changes recommended in the report; but conference reports themselves are not subject to amendment.

The joint rules of the senate and assembly require that there be but two committees of conference on any bill or resolution. The rules also require that a majority of the members from each house on a committee be members who voted for the passage of the measure. No member who served on the first conference committee for a measure may be appointed to the second.²⁵ If agreement cannot be reached by the second conference committee, the bill or resolution is dead.

Sessions

Regular sessions of the Nevada legislature are held biennially, in odd-numbered years. They convene on the 3rd Monday in January next ensuing the election of members of the assembly, unless the governor convenes a session at an earlier date by proclamation.²⁶

While there is no limitation on the number of days the legislature may be in session, the state constitution does limit the number of days for which legislators may receive compensation. The constitution forbids compensation for services to be paid to legislators for more than 60 calendar days for any regular session and 20 days for any special session.²⁷ Reimbursement for actual expenses of members, however, may continue for the length of a session, even if it exceeds the maximum time for compensation. After the repeal in 1958 of a constitutional provision setting a 60-day maximum limitation on the duration of a session, there has been only one regular session of less than 60 days, that being the single annual session of 1960, which lasted 55 days. Since 1975, regular sessions in Nevada have run between 113 and 137 days. The 1981 legislative session lasted a record 137 days. Conversely, however, the 1980 special session was the shortest in history lasting just under four hours in the senate. The 1985 legislative session lasted 135 calendar days.

Special sessions of the legislature may only be convened on the call of the governor.²⁸ After both houses have organized in special session, the governor is required by the constitution to state the purpose for which they have been convened. The legislature may not enact any bills or joint resolutions pertaining to subjects other than those for which they were convened. The governor, however, may expand his reasons for calling the legislature into session at any time during the session, thereby reducing the restrictions on legislative initiative,²⁹ and the legislature at times has adopted simple or concurrent resolutions to express its sentiments on matters not contained in the governor's call.

Legislative activities, including committee hearings, are open to the public. The constitution also requires that neither house may, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than 3 days, nor move to any place other than where it is holding its sessions.³⁰ The joint rules of the assembly and senate specify that one or more adjournments, for a duration of more than 3 days, may be taken to permit standing committees, select committees or the legislative counsel bureau to prepare the matters respectively entrusted to them for the consideration of the legislature as a whole. The total time taken for all such adjournments is not to exceed 20 days during any regular session.³¹ In the case of a disagreement between the two houses with respect to the time of the legislature's final adjournment, the governor is constitutionally empowered to adjourn the legislature to such a time as he deems proper. He may not, however, adjourn the legislature beyond the time fixed for the meeting of the next legislature.³²

Legislative Leadership

LEGISLATIVE OFFICERS: SENATE

To efficiently perform their proper roles, the two houses of the Nevada legislature are authorized by the constitution to choose their own officers (except for the president of the senate). They may determine the rules of their proceedings and punish their members for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected, expel a member.³³ From tradition and experience, both houses have created internal administrative structures which closely parallel one another. There are, however, certain differences in terminology and the assignment of responsibility which lend each of the houses a uniqueness.

The lieutenant governor is the presiding officer, sitting as the president of the senate. He is elected by the public for a 4-year term in November of even-numbered years between presidential elections and is the first in the line of succession to the governorship. Even though the lieutenant governor is the president of the senate, he is not a member of it and cannot vote on any question except to break a tie vote. He is not permitted to vote on any measure (bill or joint resolution) requiring a constitutional majority for passage.³⁴

The president calls the senate to order and chairs the conduct of business before the body, and he is responsible for the maintenance of decorum in the chamber. In addition, he recognizes senators during debate, decides questions of parliamentary procedure, subject to appeal to the whole senate, and signs all acts, addresses, joint resolutions, writs, warrants and subpoenas. The president has the general direction of the senate chamber and may name any senator to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution does not extend beyond an adjournment or authorize the senator so substituted to sign any document requiring the signature of the president.³⁵

The president pro tempore presides over the senate in the absence of the president. Unlike the president, the president pro tempore is a member of the senate and elected by it to his official position. As a senator, he may vote on all issues and may enter into debate by relinquishing the chair. He exercises all of the powers and responsibilities of the president.³⁶ Under Nevada's constitution, the president pro tempore is the second in the line of succession to the governorship, immediately after the lieutenant governor.³⁷

If both the president of the senate and the president pro tempore are absent or unable to discharge their duties, the standing rules of the senate stipulate that the chairman of the standing committee on legislative affairs and operations, or in his absence, the committee's vice chairman, should preside. In the event that none of the designated officers are able to preside, the rules provide for the senate to elect one of its members as the presiding officer for that occasion.³⁸

The secretary of the senate, elected by the senate from among qualified applicants, handles many of the administrative functions of the senate. The secretary reads official communications to the body, calls roll, tabulates votes, edits the journals and histories of the senate, records all floor action and acts as an administrator of the senate. The secretary also interviews and recommends to the committee on legislative affairs and operations persons to be considered for employment by the senate and supervises a cadre of assistant clerks and secretaries. At the end of each working day, unless otherwise ordered by the senate, the secretary transmits to the assembly those bills and resolutions upon which the next action is to be taken by that body.³⁹

The sergeant at arms of the senate is responsible for keeping order in and around the chambers, ensuring that only authorized persons are permitted on the floor and handling other duties as directed by the president. He is also responsible for upkeep of the senate's chamber, private lounge, and meeting rooms for committees.⁴⁰ His chief assistant acts as the senate *doorkeeper*⁴¹ and provides other assistance to the sergeant at arms.

In addition to these major senate officers, there are a number of employees hired to perform miscellaneous functions. Pages, clerks and other attachés are appointed to their positions via a one-house resolution. Both houses have such employees, appointed in exactly the same manner. The number of officers and employees of the senate and the assembly is determined each session by each respective house.⁴²

LEGISLATIVE OFFICERS: ASSEMBLY

The presiding officer of the Nevada assembly is the speaker. Unlike the president of the senate, the speaker of the assembly is elected from among the membership of the assembly. The assembly standing rules provide that the speaker shall, among other things: (1) preserve order and decorum and have general direction of the chamber; (2) decide all questions of order, subject to each member's right to appeal; (3) have the right to assign the duties of the chair to any member for up to 1 legislative day; (4) have the power to accredit the persons who act as representatives of the news media and assign their seats; (5) sign all bills and resolutions passed by the legislature and all subpoenas issued by the assembly or any committee thereof; and (6) vote on final passage of a bill or resolution. The speaker is not required to vote in ordinary legislative proceedings except where his vote would be decisive. In all aye and no votes, the speaker's name is required to be called last.⁴³ The speaker is third in the line of succession to the governorship, behind the lieutenant governor and president pro tempore of the senate.⁴⁴ The tenure of the president pro tempore and the speaker continue beyond the end of the session and until their successors are elected and qualified.⁴⁵

It has been customary for the assembly to elect a speaker pro tempore to preside in the temporary absence of the speaker. His duties are comparable to those of the president pro tempore of the senate, exclusive of the right of succession to the governorship. Assembly standing rule 1 requires that if a permanent vacancy occurs in the office of speaker, the assembly shall select a new speaker.⁴⁶

The assembly also elects a chief clerk, who functions in the same fashion as the secretary of the senate.⁴⁷ The law permits the senate and assembly to invite ministers of the different religious denominations to officiate alternately as chaplains of the respective houses.⁴⁸ By custom, the chaplains are usually selected from the local association of ministers and clergymen. Occasionally, however, ministers or clergymen from other locations serve as chaplains.

FLOOR LEADERS

In addition to the formal leadership in the two houses of the legislature, the partisan complexion of the chambers has necessitated the use of party leadership positions to manage the legislative workload. In both houses, majority and minority floor leaders of their respective parties are selected during party caucuses, and their election is announced from the floor of the houses. The senate and assembly have also, by custom, established the positions of assistant majority leader and assistant minority leader. Floor leaders are not legal officers of the houses, since their offices do not exist under provisions of law.⁴⁹ In Nevada, the senate majority leader is the actual leader of the senate, and his or her powers are similar to those of the speaker of the assembly.

Usually, the majority floor leader in each house refers to committee those bills which are received from the other house. He works closely with the presiding officer on parliamentary operations involving legislation being considered on the floor. Thus, it is obvious that a thorough knowledge of parliamentary procedure is an important attribute of a competent majority leader.

Floor leaders are party officials in the legislature and are responsible for maintaining party discipline in their respective houses. Straight party voting is relatively uncommon in the Nevada legislature, as members customarily exercise wide latitude in voting. But in certain critical areas (as in the organization of the assembly), the majority and minority leaders are expected to call a caucus to determine their party's stance on an issue. Once a position is agreed upon, the floor leaders act as "whips" to solidify partisan support for the caucus decision. The tenure of the floor leaders extends during the interim between regular sessions of the legislature and until the election of their successors at the next succeeding regular session.⁵⁰

Interest Groups and Media

PRESS

The news corps is an important adjunct to the legislature. Public awareness is vital to the democratic process and it is the function of the press to present, analyze and interpret the news so that the public is informed and can, therefore, more effectively express itself to and through its elected representatives.

Press representatives are granted official accreditation in each chamber through adoption of a simple motion to accredit named individuals at the beginning of the session or at selected times during the session. Space in each chamber is provided for members of the news media to televise or otherwise cover legislative proceedings.

LOBBYISTS

Legislative agents or representatives, commonly known as "lobbyists," are spokesmen before the legislature for various organizations, interests and causes. Like the news media, they are important to the legislative process as sources of information, channels of communication between constituents and their representatives and as major protagonists in efforts to influence legislation. They frequently point out faults in bills, suggest amendments, provide valuable testimony and, in general, assist the legislature in assessing the merits of proposed legislation.

The activities of lobbyists in Nevada are controlled by the "Nevada Lobbying Disclosure Act."⁵¹ The law requires a lobbyist to register with the director of the legislative counsel bureau and provide various information about himself and the group or individual he represents. A lobbyist must file a report within 30 days after the close of the session concerning his lobbying activities. In addition, each lobbyist who has expenditures of $50 or more during a month must file a report with the director detailing expenditures for entertainment, gifts and loans, and other expenditures directly associated with legislative action. Data on personal expenditures for food, lodging and travel expenses or membership dues are not required in the monthly reports. Violation of the Lobbying Disclosure Act is a misdemeanor.

Other sections in NRS also address improper influence exerted upon legislators. For example, any person who interferes with the legislative process is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.⁵² Any person who improperly obtains money or other things of value to influence a member of a legislative body in regard to any vote or legislative action is also guilty of a gross misdemeanor.⁵³ Moreover, both the giving of a bribe to a legislator and his reception thereof are crimes against the legislative power which are subject to severe punishments under the law.⁵⁴ Lobbying on the floor of the assembly at any time is prohibited by that body's standing rules.⁵⁵ Lobbyists, however, may appear before any committee of the legislature.

FINANCIAL OPERATION OF THE LEGISLATURE

The Legislative Fund

The legislative fund is the source of money for all financial operations of the legislative branch of government. At each session, the legislature appropriates from the general fund sufficient moneys to carry on its activities. These financial resources are deposited in a fund which is used to pay for the necessary operating expenses of the senate, the assembly and the legislative counsel bureau.⁵⁶ Expenses paid out of the legislative fund include such items as salaries of legislators and legislative employees, and legislative printing costs and operating costs of the legislative counsel bureau.

Compensation of Legislators

Senators and assemblymen elected on or after November 4, 1986, receive a salary of $130 per day for 60 days of a regular session. Each senator elected before November 4, 1986, receives a salary of $104 per day. Beyond the 60th day, their salaries cease and the legislators may only draw upon their expense allowances. During special sessions, salaries are paid for up to 20 days. Thus, at a regular session the maximum salary for a legislator would be $7,800 while he could receive up to $2,600 for service during a special session.⁵⁷

In addition to salary, however, legislators are entitled to be reimbursed for the financial demands placed upon them as a result of their legislative duties. For example, they receive the greater of $44 or the federal rate in effect for Carson City per diem to cover their expenses for each day of the legislative session. They are paid per diem and travel expenses in coming to and returning from a legislative session or a pre-session orientation conference.

Legislators also have a special supplemental travel allowance of up to $5,000 which they may use during the regular session and $1,000 which they may use during a special session.⁵⁸ They are entitled to use up to $60 worth of postage and stationery and are permitted to receive specified amounts of stationery, envelopes and business cards from the state printing and micrographics division of the department of general services. Finally, a legislator receives a telephone allowance of $1,800 for his use during a regular session and $300 during a special session.⁵⁹ Because of their added duties and responsibilities, the chairmen of standing committees and certain legislative leadership positions receive additional allowances for postage, telephone calls and other communication charges.⁶⁰ The speaker of the assembly and the lieutenant governor receive an additional $2 per day during the time of their actual attendance as presiding officer.⁶¹

Depending on the activity, when the legislature is not in session each senator and assemblyman is entitled to receive a salary of either $80 or $130 a day, and the per diem allowance and travel expenses provided by law for each day of attendance at a conference, meeting, seminar or other gathering at which he officially represents the State of Nevada or its legislature.⁶²

Legislators' Retirement

Members of the Nevada legislature must participate in the legislators' retirement system. The minimum requirement for retirement with monthly benefits is 10 years of accredited service at the age of 60 years. A lapse in service as a legislator is not just cause for forfeiture of any retirement rights accrued prior to such lapse.

A legislator entering into retirement receives a monthly retirement allowance of $25 for each year of service up to 30 years, with fractions of years prorated. This allowance is subject to the same cost of living increase received by the retirees and beneficiaries of the public employees' retirement system.

The legislators' retirement system permits survivor benefits for a legislator's dependents, allows several conversion options to be exercised by a legislator at the time of his retirement, permits purchase of previous creditable service performed in the legislature if such service was performed prior to the creation of the system, allows purchase of up to 5 years of out-of-state service performed with any federal, state, county or municipal public system if that service is no longer creditable in the other system and provides for coordination with other retirement systems. All of the provisions relating to legislative retirement are specified in the "Legislators' Retirement Law."⁶³

Compensation of Officers and Employees

During the 1987 legislative session, the officers and employees of the legislature are paid the following:

During periods of adjournment to a day certain, employees of the legislature whose service is required are required to perform duties as assigned and are entitled to be paid the amount specified for each day of service.

The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the assembly receive travel expenses and a subsistence allowance for initial travel and return from legislative sessions. They also receive a subsistence allowance for each day of travel and duty performed in connection with or during the session, and when the legislature is in adjournment for more than 3 days if their services are required. The travel expenses and subsistence allowances are required to be paid at the rates provided for state officers and employees generally.⁶⁴

LEGISLATIVE POWERS, PRIVILEGES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Privileges and Immunities

Members of the legislature are immune from arrest on civil process for 15 days prior to and during the course of a session.⁶⁵ Subpenas served on legislators and the lieutenant governor by administrative bodies are ineffective during legislative sessions.⁶⁶ The statutes also protect legislators by prohibiting employment contracts which work a loss of seniority on any person by reason of his absence from regular duties or place of employment while attending a legislative session.⁶⁷

Limitations on the Legislative Power

While the Nevada legislature has far-ranging authority to enact legislation dealing with social and political concerns, it is not without certain constitutional restrictions that circumscribe its powers. The legislature shall not pass any local or special laws covering the following cases:

1. The regulation of the jurisdiction and duties of justices of the peace and constables or the fixing of their compensation;
2. Punishments for crimes and misdemeanors;
3. The regulation of the practices of courts of justice;
4. Any changes in venue of civil or criminal cases;
5. The granting of divorces;
6. The changing of names of persons;
7. Vacating roads, town plots, streets, alleys and public squares;
8. The summoning and impaneling of grand and petit juries, and the provision for their compensation;
9. The regulation of county and township business;
10. The regulation of the election of county and township officers;
11. The assessment and collection of taxes for state, county and township purposes;
12. The regulation of the opening and conducting of elections of state, county and township officers, and the designation of places of voting;
13. The sale of real estate belonging to minors or other persons laboring under legal disabilities;
14. Giving effect to invalid wills, deeds or other instruments;
15. Refunding money paid into the state treasury or into the treasury of any county; or
16. The release of the indebtedness, liability or obligation of any corporation, association or person to the state or its subdivisions.⁶⁸

These restrictions, however, do not deny the power of the legislature to establish and regulate the compensation and fees of certain county officers, to authorize and empower the boards of county commissioners of the various counties of the state to establish and regulate the compensation and fees of township officers, to establish and regulate the rates of freight, passage, toll and charges of railroads, toll roads, ditch, flume and tunnel companies incorporated under the laws of this state or doing business in the state.⁶⁹ The legislature must exercise its powers through general laws of uniform operation. Laws cannot be specifically directed to special or local instances.⁷⁰

In addition, the state's constitution prohibits the legislature from authorizing a lottery in Nevada.⁷¹ It must establish a uniform system of county and township government throughout the state.⁷² It may not abolish any county without the approval of the electors residing within the county's jurisdiction.⁷³ Individual freedoms, as enumerated in article 1 of the Nevada constitution, may not be abridged by the legislature. These rights include such things as the freedom of speech, press, religion and assembly and prohibitions against bills of attainder, ex-post-facto laws and laws infringing the obligation of contracts. The list is varied, but most of the rights spelled out in article 1 of the Nevada constitution are included in the United States Constitution and, hence, are doubly safeguarded from legislative encroachment.⁷⁴ The constitution of Nevada also sets a state debt limitation of 1 percent, exclusive of interest, of the assessed valuation of the state⁷⁵ and prohibits state assumption of county, city and corporation debts, unless such debts have been incurred to repel invasion, suppress insurrection or provide for the public defense.⁷⁶ The legislature must provide a uniform rate of assessment and taxation throughout the state and may not permit a total tax levy in excess of 5 cents on the dollar of assessed valuation. Under NRS 361.453, the current limitation on total ad valorem tax levy is set at 3.64 cents on the dollar of assessed valuation. In the case of mines and mining claims, only the proceeds may be taxed. Personal property in interstate transit may not be taxed in Nevada, and the legislature may not impose an inheritance tax upon the inhabitants of the state. Business inventories are also exempt from taxation.⁷⁷

Obviously, the Nevada legislature cannot exercise powers reserved by the United States Constitution to the Federal Government, or those preempted by the Congress. The state cannot, for example, establish diplomatic relations with a foreign nation, declare war, or without the consent of the Congress, lay any impost or duties on imports or exports.⁷⁸ In some areas, however, the state and the Federal Government may exercise concurrent jurisdiction and the legislature, in these instances, may exercise its lawmaking powers.

Outside of these, and a few other minor restrictions mentioned in the state constitution, the legislature may enact any laws it deems necessary to promote the general health, welfare, safety or happiness of the people. Where the exercise of legislative prerogatives is questioned on constitutional grounds, it is within the purview of the courts to determine the legitimacy of any enactment. Until the courts have decided a question, there is a presumption of validity that adheres to all legislative acts.

Crimes Against the Legislative Power

It is unlawful in Nevada to interfere with the legislative process. Disruption of proceedings; defacing official documents or records of the legislature; withholding, altering or destroying property owned or used by the legislature; remaining in the legislative chambers or building after being asked to leave pursuant to the law or rule of the legislature; coercing or attempting to coerce any legislative member or employee to perform any official act or to refrain from doing so; and possessing firearms or deadly weapons in the legislative building all constitute unlawful interferences with the legislative process and are punishable as gross misdemeanors.⁷⁹ Similarly, it is a gross misdemeanor to refuse to testify or produce documents when summoned to appear before either house or any legislative committee.⁸⁰

It is a crime to alter legislative measures, enrolled bills or resolutions with fraudulent intent. Conviction may result in a fine of not more than $5,000, imprisonment in the state prison for not less than 1 year nor more than 6 years, or both fine and imprisonment.⁸¹

It is unlawful for a legislator to have a direct or indirect interest in any contract authorized by the legislature of which he is a member. While he cannot be a purchaser or be interested in any purchase or sale made by the legislature, this prohibition is lifted if he is the only source of supply of that item or commodity within the state. Legislators contracting unlawfully with the state or otherwise violating this law are guilty of a gross misdemeanor and must forfeit their offices.⁸²

As mentioned earlier under the section entitled "Lobbyists," anyone offering or giving a bribe or threatening a legislator to influence his vote or to absent himself from the house of which he is a member or a committee thereof must, under the law, be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than 10 years or a fine of not more than $10,000, or both.⁸³ Any legislator asking or receiving a bribe is liable to the same penalty.⁸⁴

In addition to these penalties, either house may imprison nonmembers for disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence. Such punishment, however, may not extend beyond the final adjournment of the session.⁸⁵

Ethics and Conflict of Interest

The Nevada Revised Statutes expands upon what constitutes legislators', and other public officers', breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest in the "Nevada Ethics in Government Law".⁸⁶ This law contains a code of ethical standards for a public officer relative to accepting gifts, preferences or advantages; disclosing financial interest in matters under consideration; negotiating or executing contracts in which the public officer has financial interest; accepting compensation from private sources for the performance of public duties; using information acquired through public duties to further the economic interests of himself or other persons or business; and suppressing any governmental report which might tend to affect unfavorably his private financial interests.⁸⁷

In addition to the general requirements of the code of ethical standards, the Nevada Ethics in Government Law specifies that a member of the legislative branch should not vote upon, but may otherwise participate in, the consideration of a matter with respect to which the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his situation would be materially affected by: (1) his acceptance of a gift or loan; (2) his private financial interest; or (3) his commitment in a private capacity to the interest of others.⁸⁸

The standing rules of both houses also address legislators' ethics. A committee on ethics is established under Assembly Rule 23 of the 63rd session. This rule states, in part, that, "A legislator who determines that he has a conflict of interest may vote upon, advocate or oppose any measure as to which a potential conflict exists if he makes a general disclosure of such conflict." Senate Rule 44 of the 63rd session provides that the senate committee on legislative affairs shall, among other things, hear complaints and questions regarding alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest.

Reporting of Campaign Contributions and Expenses

Everyone who is a candidate for any state or local office at any election (primary, general, special or recall) must report the total amount of all of his campaign contributions and expenses on affidavit forms designed and provided by the secretary of state. Such reports must be filed with the official with whom the candidate filed his declaration of candidacy. A candidate may mail his report to that official by certified mail and if certified mail is used, the date of mailing is deemed the date of filing.

Under the law, campaign contributions and expense reports for primary and general elections must be filed not later than:

- (a) Fifteen days before the primary election, for the period from the last election for that office up to 20 days before the primary election;
- (b) Fifteen days before the general election, whether or not the candidate won the primary election, for the period from 20 days before the primary election up to 20 days before the general election; and
- (c) Thirty days after the general election, for the remaining period up to the general election.⁸⁹

Subsection 6 of NRS 294A.010 requires separate identification of each campaign contribution in excess of $500 and contributions which a contributor has made cumulatively in excess of $500. Similar reporting and identification requirements for expenditures in excess of $500 by every person who advocates the election or defeat of a candidate are found in subsection 1 of NRS 294A.041.

Financial Disclosure

Every candidate for the legislature is required to file financial disclosure statements with the secretary of state for review by the commission on ethics. Such statements must be filed no later than the 10th day after the last day to qualify as a candidate for the office and within 6 months before the expiration of the term of office.⁹⁰

Under the law, statements of financial disclosure are required to contain specified information concerning the candidate including his: length of residence in Nevada and his district, sources of income, real estate holdings valued at $2,500 or more (except for his personal residence), and specified creditors to whom he, or members of his household, owe more than $5,000.⁹¹ A willful failure to file a statement of financial disclosure is a misdemeanor.⁹²

CHAPTER III
LEGISLATIVE PROCEDURE
AND ACTION

CHAPTER III

LEGISLATIVE PROCEDURE AND ACTION

LEGISLATIVE PROCEDURE

Parliamentary Procedure in the Senate and Assembly

The senate and the assembly function in accordance with constitutional and statutory provisions as well as standing rules.

The senate and assembly rules stipulate that Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure shall govern in all cases in which it is not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders and the joint rules of the two houses.¹ Under the standing rules of the assembly, precedence of parliamentary authority is as follows:

1. The constitution of the State of Nevada.
2. The statutes of the State of Nevada.
3. The standing rules of the assembly and the joint standing rules of the senate and assembly.
4. Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure.² The same precedence, while not explicitly stated in its standing rules, is followed in the senate.

The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the assembly serve as parliamentarians for their respective houses.

Time of Meeting

Under the rules of the senate, the president calls the chamber to order at 11 a.m. each day of sitting, unless the senate has adjourned to some other hour.³ The assembly meets daily at 11 a.m., unless it has previously adjourned to some other hour.⁴

Quorum

The Nevada constitution states that a majority of all members elected to each house constitutes a quorum to transact business. However, a number smaller than this quorum may adjourn from day to day and may compel the attendance of absent members.⁵

Order of Business

Each house has an official order of business incorporated into its standing rules. In the senate, the order of business is as follows:

1. Roll Call.
2. Prayer by the Chaplain.

3. Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.
4. Reading and Approval of the Journal.
5. Report of Standing Committees.
6. Messages from the Governor.
7. Messages from the Assembly.
8. Communications from State Officers.
9. Motions, Resolutions, and Notices.
10. Introduction, First Reading and Reference of Bills.
11. Consent Calendar.
12. Second Reading and Amendment of Bills.
13. Business on General File.
14. Unfinished business.
15. Special Orders of the Day.
16. Remarks from the Floor, Introduction of Guests.⁶

On the assembly side, the order of business varies slightly:

1. Roll Call.
2. Reading and Approval of Journal.
3. Presentation of Petitions.
4. Reports of Standing Committees.
5. Reports of Select Committees.
6. Messages from the Governor.
7. Messages from the Senate.
8. Motions, Resolutions and Notices.
9. Introduction and First Reading of Legislative Measures.
10. Reference of Measures to Committees.
11. Consent Calendar.
12. Second Reading and Amendment.
13. General File and Third Reading.
14. Unfinished Business of Preceding Day.
15. Special Orders of the Day.
16. Remarks from the Floor, limited to 10 minutes.⁷

Each item in the official order of business is considered as the house progresses through the day's program of business. From time to time, however, members may request that the presiding officer turn to items of business that are out of the usual order.

THE LEGISLATURE IN ACTION: A BILL BECOMES A LAW

The steps through which a bill progresses toward enactment are outlined in a chart entitled "Progress of a Bill through the Nevada Legislature," which is located at the end of this chapter of the manual. The following discussion provides a more detailed description of the process. During the 1985 legislative session, a total of 1,482 bills and resolutions were introduced, and 825 were enacted through this process. Six bills were vetoed by the governor.⁸

Organizing the Legislature

When the legislature convenes in January of odd-numbered years, there are no operative rules and, in the assembly, no presiding officer. The secretary of state calls the assembly to order at the beginning of a session and appoints a temporary chief clerk. After roll call, the secretary of state appoints a temporary committee on legislative functions, which examines the election certificate of each assemblyman and recommends the seating of legislators whose certificates are in order. Once the members of the assembly have been sworn in by the chief justice of the supreme court, the secretary customarily asks for nominations for speaker. Since the speakership is usually predetermined in caucus, by tradition the procedure is to nominate only one candidate, who is elected unanimously. The secretary then turns the chair over to the new speaker, who proceeds to conduct elections for the other major positions in the assembly. After the assembly is organized and standing rules are adopted, committees are appointed to inform the senate and governor that the assembly is ready for business.

On the senate side, the lieutenant governor presides over the chamber as president, in accordance with the provisions of the state constitution. The procedures followed, with the exception of the election of a presiding officer (which is dispensed with in the senate), parallel those of the assembly. The major difference is that the senate is not an entirely new body. As near as is possible to one-half of the senators are elected at each general election, the remainder serving in a holdover capacity.

Shortly after both houses have organized, they meet in joint session in the assembly chambers to hear the so-called "state of the state" address of the governor.⁹ In his message to the legislature, the governor outlines the major problems confronting the state and proposes legislative solutions for the consideration of the houses. Under usual circumstances, his speech highlights the most important elements of his party's legislative program. It constitutes the "action" agenda of the session, for even if the legislative majority party is not of his political persuasion, the governor's message will delineate the significant sphere of issues to be resolved.

Long before the legislature convenes on the 3rd Monday in January of an odd-numbered year,¹⁰ the legislative process is set in motion in subtle and frequently intangible ways. Social problems enter the forum of public debate and, through the exchange of ideas among the citizenry, certain opinions and issues are given the impetus needed to find expression in the legislative arena. Contending positions on public questions are identified, and proposed solutions to problems and conflicts are advocated by their spokesmen in the press, among the people, in the academic community, within various interest groups and among concerned governmental agencies and officials. But whatever the source of an idea for resolving a civic issue, that idea must be translated into a concrete legislative proposal for action, a bill or resolution, before it can formally enter the legislative forum for consideration.

In Nevada, only members of the legislature can introduce bills. Advocates of proposed legislation, therefore, must secure a legislator-sponsor if they hope to see their ideas enacted into law. Once a sponsor is obtained, a proposal may then be drafted in the form of a bill or a resolution, whichever is appropriate to the matter under consideration. It should be noted that much proposed legislation is initiated by the legislators themselves.

Bill Drafting

Before starting its journey through the legislature, each piece of proposed legislation must be drafted in suitable form and terminology. Under law, this function for the Nevada legislature is performed by bill drafters employed by the legislative counsel.¹¹ The legislative counsel and his or her bill drafting staff offer their facilities on a 12-month basis at no charge for all legislators, regardless of party. Moreover, the service is confidential, and contents of proposed legislation will not be divulged to anyone without the express consent of the sponsor or sponsors.

After obtaining the facts from a sponsor and trying to understand his policy and objectives, the bill drafter must translate these facts into proper legal terminology, form and style. The bill must be coherent, concise, understandable and free of ambiguity; it must be checked for conformance with the Constitution of the United States and the Nevada constitution; court decisions relevant to such legislation must be checked; and the Nevada statutes must be studied to ascertain whether or not there are conflicts. However, before making anything other than procedural changes in proposed legislation, the legislative counsel must obtain the consent of the author of the bill.¹²

The legislative counsel, insofar as it is possible, processes legislators' bill drafting requests in the order in which they are received. However, a legislator may designate a different drafting priority for his bills and resolutions. Bill drafting requests from the chairmen of committees cannot take precedence over the legislative counsel's processing order except where urgency is recognized.¹³

In addition to drafting bills for legislators, the legislative counsel also prepares bills for the executive branch when authorized by the governor or a designated member of his staff. At the written suggestion of any justice of the supreme court or judge of a district court, the legislative counsel prepares legislative measures which are transmitted to the chairman of the judiciary committee of each house at the next regular session. The legislative counsel maintains a record for bill drafting done for the executive and judicial branches of state government and, at a rate set by the legislative commission (the current flat rate is $25 per hour), charges those agencies for this service. After November 1 of the year preceding the next regular session, full priority is given to legislative members' requests for bill drafting, and the legislative counsel is not permitted to prepare any proposed legislation during any regular session of the legislature except upon the written request of either a member of the legislature or the governor.¹⁴

Fiscal Notes

A fiscal note is a document that details the fiscal effect of certain bills or joint resolutions and is attached as the last page(s) of the bill or joint resolution. The statutory provisions regarding fiscal notes are found in NRS 218.272 to 218.2758, inclusive. A bill or joint resolution is required to have a fiscal note attached if it does not contain an appropriation and meets any of the following criteria: has an adverse fiscal effect of more than $2,000 on any state agency; has an adverse fiscal effect on any local government; affects premiums for industrial insurance or the state insurance fund; or increases or newly provides for a term of imprisonment or makes release on parole or probation less likely. Information regarding the necessity of a fiscal note can be found in the bill summary.

When a bill is drafted, the legislative counsel consults with the fiscal analysis division to determine the appropriate information. The fiscal analysis division then informs the party requesting the bill draft that a fiscal note is required and requests written permission to begin preparing the fiscal note. If the requesting party does not give permission, the preparation of the fiscal note is started automatically upon introduction of the bill. Although a bill can be introduced without a fiscal note, the legislative committees may not hear nor act on the measure until the fiscal note is attached.

During the preparation of the fiscal note, the fiscal analysis division releases the contents of a bill on a need-to-know basis only and does not release the name of the party requesting the bill. Whenever a bill affects a state agency, the affected agency has five working days from the date of submission to prepare the fiscal information, send it to the department of administration for review and comments and return it to the fiscal analysis division. The fiscal analysis division may grant a ten-day extension if the subject requires extensive research. Fiscal information prepared by the state industrial insurance system is returned directly to the fiscal analysis division and is not subject to administration review. Local government fiscal notes are prepared by the fiscal analysis division after consulting with appropriate local government agencies.

Any legislator may request that a fiscal note be done or redone on any bill while it is before his house of the legislature or a standing committee of his house. Upon receiving the request, the presiding officer of the full house or the committee may direct the fiscal analysis division to prepare a fiscal note. A fiscal note is required only on the original bill or joint resolution unless an amendment by either house invalidates the original fiscal note and the presiding officer directs the fiscal analysis division to obtain a new fiscal note showing the effect of the amended bill or joint resolution.¹⁵

Introduction and First Reading

After a bill has been drafted, it is ready for introduction in the legislature. Under the Nevada constitution, any bill may originate in either house, and all bills passed by one may be amended in the other.¹⁶ This is a significant departure from the practice in the United States Congress, where appropriations bills must originate in the House of Representatives. But in Nevada, as in Congress, bills originating in one house must be sponsored by a member of that house. A senator cannot introduce a bill in the assembly, nor can an assemblyman introduce a bill in the senate. An executive agency has no means for introducing a bill except through a legislator.

In the senate, at least 1 day's notice must be given prior to the introduction of a bill, unless two-thirds of the membership consents to immediate introduction or the bill is introduced by a committee in the discharge of its duty.¹⁷

The senate and the assembly have a joint rule which places a time limit on legislators' requests for the drafting of bills and joint resolutions. The rule provides for a cutoff date for bill draft requests after the first 20 calendar days of a regular legislative session unless the drafting request is approved by: (1) a two-thirds vote of the members present in the house where it is to be introduced, or (2) a standing committee of that house if the request was approved by two-thirds of all the members of the committee. New introductions are permitted after the first 20 calendar days of a regular legislative session by: (1) a standing committee, (2) a member who had requested the drafting of the bill or joint resolution before the 21st calendar day of the legislative session, or (3) the suspension of the rule by a majority of the members elected to the house where it is to be introduced.¹⁸

All bills in Nevada, except for those placed on a consent calendar, are required by the constitution to be read by sections in each house on three separate days. In an emergency, two-thirds of the house where a bill is pending may order this rule dispensed with on the first and second readings, but the reading of a bill by sections on its final passage cannot be dispensed with.¹⁹ To comply with the constitutional requirements, the houses do have first, second and third readings on every bill and joint resolution. However, because of the volume of bills processed through the chambers, time considerations have necessitated a liberal interpretation of the meaning of the phrase "to read by sections." At the time the constitution was framed, printed bills were not available to each legislator for analysis, so that three full readings permitted a greater study and understanding of a bill's contents and any amendments added to it prior to the vote on final passage. Today, of course, bills are readily available with the latest amendments incorporated into their texts.

The first reading in both houses is for information only.²⁰ When the bills are introduced and first read, they are delivered by a legislator or legislative page to the desk of the chief clerk or secretary, as the case may be, who assigns numbers to the bills and gives them first reading by title. In the assembly, a motion is usually made for referral to committees by the introducer. In the senate, bills and resolutions are usually referred to committees with jurisdiction over measures affecting specific titles and chapters of NRS as prescribed in its Senate Standing Rule 40 of the 63rd session. Although the introducer normally makes a motion to refer a bill to a particular committee, on occasion different committees may be proposed from the floor. In such instances, the whole house votes on the question. The senate rules stipulate that the question shall be taken in the following order:

(1) the committee of the whole, and (2) a standing committee.²¹ The assembly rules are silent on this point, but the practice is generally the same. (When a bill, introduced and passed in the first house, is presented to the "other house," it is the majority leader who refers it to committee.) Shortly thereafter, the duplicate of each bill is sent to photo composition and the triplicate copy is referred to legal counsel.²² By the following day, printed copies of the bills or resolutions are inserted in the bill books of all members of the legislature, and the official copies are delivered to the chief clerk or secretary, as the case may be. Immediately thereafter, the official copies are delivered by receipt to the chairmen of the committees to which the bills or resolutions were referred.

Committee Hearing

The rules of both the assembly and the senate require all committees to consider all measures referred to them and report thereon.²³ Committees may also initiate legislation within their sphere of competence. In the senate, any bill or other matter referred to a committee may be withdrawn from it by a two-thirds vote of the senate. The senate rules require that at least 1 day's notice of a withdrawal motion be given to a committee and specify that no motion for withdrawal is in order on the last 2 days of the session.²⁴

At a committee hearing, the proponents and opponents of a measure are given an opportunity to present their cases. Testimony may be taken from lobbyists, academicians, public officials, special interest groups and private citizens. To avoid additional expense and duplication of effort for both witnesses and committee members, joint hearings by committees in both houses may be held.

In the assembly, when a measure is referred to two or more committees, the rules specify that it goes to the first committee named, where it is required to be acted upon. Then, the bill or resolution is required to be passed upon by the second committee named. If the first committee votes to amend the bill or resolution, the rules specify that the measure be reprinted with amendments and sent to the second committee. If one committee reports favorably and the other unfavorably, the measure cannot be reported to the assembly. However, the committee which votes not to report the bill or resolution out with favorable recommendation is required to report to the assembly in regular session stating the reasons for not approving the measure.²⁵

Witnesses summoned to appear before the senate or assembly or any of their committees are compensated at the same rate as witnesses required to attend a court of law in Nevada.²⁶ However, witnesses appearing on their own volition do so at their own expense.

As discussed under the heading "Committees," committees may or may not report bills out to the floor of the houses for further action, and they may report them out with a variety of recommendations. Minority reports may be submitted where there is disagreement within a committee regarding a proposed course of action. When a committee reports a bill and recommends a certain disposition of it, the bill is then placed on the second reading file for the next legislative day.

Notice of Bills, Topics and Public Hearings

Both senate and assembly rules require notice be provided on bills, resolutions and public hearings. The senate rules require "adequate notice." The assembly rules require a 5-day notice for committee hearings on "bills, resolutions or topics of high public importance." All other assembly committee meetings have a 24-hour notice requirement. The standing rules of both the senate and the assembly require that notices must include the date, time, place and agenda to be covered and must be: (1) posted conspicuously in the legislative building, (2) published in the daily history, and (3) made available to the press.²⁷ Both houses permit suspension of this requirement for an emergency by two-thirds affirmative vote of the committee members appointed.

As a means of processing bills of a noncontroversial nature in a more efficient and less time consuming manner, both the senate and assembly, as well as the Constitution of the State of Nevada, provide for the use of consent calendars by both houses of the Nevada legislature. Bills on a consent calendar are considered for final passage and do not require second or third readings.

The assembly standing rules specify that a standing committee, on or before the 80th calendar day of a regular session, may report a bill out with the recommendation that it be placed on a consent calendar. Such rules require that only a bill which has: (1) been recommended for passage, (2) no amendments recommended for it, and (3) received a unanimous vote by the standing committee to be placed on the consent calendar, may be placed on the consent calendar. The chief clerk of the assembly is required to maintain a list of bills recommended for the consent calendar and this list, including a summary of each bill and various other information pertaining to the bills on the consent calendar, is required to be printed in the daily history. Both the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the assembly are required to cause bills recommended for placement on the consent calendar to be engrossed. The assembly considers its consent calendars on Monday and Thursday. The senate does not set aside certain days to consider its consent calendars.

The standing rules of both the senate and the assembly require that a bill on a consent calendar must be transferred to the second reading file if any member objects to the bill's inclusion on the consent calendar or requests such bill's removal from the consent calendar.²⁸

Second Reading

Committees cannot amend bills; they can only suggest amendments for adoption by their respective houses. In fact, the rules of both chambers state that “no bill shall be * * * amended until twice read.”²⁹ Assembly rules require bills reported from committee to be held over to the next legislative day unless a different day is designated by motion.³⁰ If the committee recommends amendment, or individual legislators propose amendments, copies of the amendments can be placed on the members’ desks prior to actual adoption or rejection of the amendments proposed. Although the senate rules are silent on this point, the practice is generally the same.

On second reading, the chief clerk or secretary usually reads the history of the bill, its title, the various sections by number only and the amendments by number only. Assembly rules require, however, that amendments be read in full if a member so moves.³¹ Committee amendments or amendments from individual legislators are then adopted or rejected by simple majority vote of the members present and voting. Voting on second reading is normally by voice vote, although other methods, including roll calls, may be employed on demand of three members present or in order to determine the prevailing side.³² If a bill is amended on second reading, the presiding officer orders the bill reprinted, engrossed and placed on the general file for third reading and final action.

If a bill is not amended, it is ordered engrossed and to third reading for the next legislative day. The rules of both houses require that bills or joint resolutions originating in the house in which they are being considered be proofread before being placed on the general file for third reading.³³

At the end of each day’s session, the bills or joint resolutions placed on the general file for third reading and final passage are posted on the boards in the houses and, along with the second reading file and committee notices, the general file is printed in the daily history. When the order of business “general file and third reading” is reached on the following day, the bills are considered in their proper order, unless a motion is made and approved to move certain bills to a different position on the general file. The chief clerk or secretary reads the bill by title, enacting clause, and each section.³⁴ If new amendments are proposed and adopted, the process stops immediately, and the bill is sent back for reprinting and goes through the aforementioned reprinting and engrossment process once more. If there are no amendments, the merits of the bill are discussed and then the roll is called.

In debate, a legislator rises and addresses the chair (“Mr. Speaker,” “Mr. President”). He is expected to observe decorum at all times, to speak only on the subject under consideration and to avoid all references to personalities.³⁵ The presiding officer must recognize a speaker before he is entitled to the floor, and, when two or more legislators rise at the same time, it is the prerogative of the chair to name the one to speak first. However, in doing so, it is customary to give preference to the mover or introducer of the subject under consideration.³⁶

In debate, a legislator may not speak more than twice (except for explanation) during the consideration of any one question on the same day, nor a second time without leave of the body when others who have not spoken desire the floor. Incidental or subsidiary questions are not considered the same question.³⁷ In closing debate, the author of the bill, resolution or main question customarily has the privilege of speaking last, unless the previous question has been sustained.

In order for a bill or joint resolution to pass, the constitution requires that a majority of the members elected vote for the measure. All votes on final passage are by roll call and are recorded in the journal of the chamber taking the action.³⁸ After the announcement of the vote, the title and the preamble of the bill are open for amendment (amendments, of course, being unnecessary if the bill is defeated). If the title or preamble is amended, the bill is sent for engrossment and then to the state printing and micrographics division of the department of general services for reprinting. Upon completion of the process, it is transmitted to the opposite house. If there are no amendments, the bill is transmitted to the opposite house after adjournment for the day. It cannot be transmitted immediately because the standing rules provide that notice of reconsideration may be given on the day in which the bill is passed.³⁹

Notice of reconsideration must be made by a legislator voting on the prevailing side on the same day on which the final vote was taken. Reconsideration itself may not take place on the day on which the final vote was taken, except by unanimous consent, since normally one day's notice of a member's desire to reconsider a bill must be given. A motion to indefinitely postpone may not be reconsidered. Motions to reconsider a vote upon amendments may be made immediately after the vote.⁴⁰

After a bill has passed on third reading and been transmitted to the other house, the house of origin has relinquished physical control over the measure. To take further action on it, the house of origin must either petition the other chamber, through a one-house resolution, to return the bill or wait until it has finally passed in the other house and is returned for final disposition.

In the Other House and Conference Committees

Each bill must go through the entire process all over again when it is transmitted to the other house. If a bill is passed by the other house without amendment, it is sent back to the originating house for final enrollment and delivery to the governor. If the other house amends the bill, then it is necessary for the originating house to concur or not to concur with the amendments. If the originating house concurs in the amendments, the bill is ready for enrollment. If it does not concur and the other house does not recede, the bill must go to a conference committee, composed of an equal number of members from the senate and the assembly, for settlement of its final form. (See the section of the manual entitled "Committees" ["Select Committees and Committees of Conference"] for a discussion of the composition and duties of conference committees.)

Enrollment

After the bill has passed both houses in identical form, it is transmitted by the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the assembly (depending upon in which house the bill originated) to the legislative counsel to be enrolled.⁴¹ The legislative counsel then prepares the passed bill for the final printing (enrollment). The superintendent of the state printing and micrographics division is required to print one enrolled copy of the bill on bond paper. It is then inserted in a white cover which contains blanks for the signatures of the speaker and chief clerk of the assembly, the president and secretary of the senate, the governor and secretary of state. After final printing, the bill is returned to the legislative counsel who compares the enrolled copy with the engrossed copy. If the enrolled bill is found to be correct, the legislative counsel presents the measure to the proper legislative officials for their signatures.⁴² The bill is then delivered by the legislative counsel, or his or her designee, to the governor for his consideration.⁴³ At the same time, the official copy of the bill is delivered to the secretary of state for permanent filing.⁴⁴

Gubernatorial Action

The governor has the choice of signing bills, vetoing bills or allowing them to become law without his signature. If a bill is delivered to him while the legislature is in session, he has 5 days (Sundays excepted) to make his decision. If it is delivered to him after the legislature has adjourned sine die, he has 10 days to make his decision. If the governor vetoes a bill during the session, the measure is returned to the house of origin for further action and the veto may be either sustained or overridden by a two-thirds vote of the elected members of each house. If the governor vetoes a bill within 10 days after adjournment (Sundays excepted), he must file the bill, together with his objections to it, in the office of the secretary of state. When the next session of the legislature convenes, the secretary of state must present the vetoed bill to the house of origin for final disposition. If a two-thirds majority of the elected members of each branch of the legislature vote to override any gubernatorial veto on a recorded roll call vote, the measure becomes law despite the veto. If the governor does not sign or veto a bill in the allotted time, it becomes law without his signature.⁴⁵

Effective Date of the Bill

If no specific date is included in a bill to indicate when it will become effective (examples—"This act shall become effective upon passage and approval” or “This act shall become effective May 1, 1987”), it automatically becomes effective on July 1 of the year in which the bill is passed (July 1, 1987, for this session of the legislature).⁴⁶

Adoption or Passage of Resolutions

The constitution requires that bills and joint resolutions be processed and passed in an identical manner,⁴⁷ except that joint resolutions amending the constitution are not delivered to the governor for his signature, but are delivered to the secretary of state for safekeeping and then returned to the next chosen legislature for reconsideration.⁴⁸ If the next legislature approves the proposed constitutional amendment, it then must be submitted to the people, “in such manner and at such time as the legislature may prescribe,” for a vote.⁴⁹ The law currently requires that this be at the next general election.⁵⁰

Concurrent resolutions must be adopted by both houses; they may be adopted by a voice vote, and only a majority of the members present are necessary for the adoption. Concurrent resolutions are not signed by the governor and are delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

Simple senate or assembly one-house resolutions are adopted by a voice vote, by a simple majority of the members present, and are enrolled and delivered to the secretary of state. A count of the ayes and noes is required to be taken for both concurrent and one-house resolutions if such is requested by three members present.⁵¹

Petitions and Memorials

From time to time, the legislature is presented with petitions from various groups and individuals, as well as memorials from other legislatures. While the essence of these documents may vary from requests to take certain action to expressions of gratitude for courtesies extended, their contents are always made known to the chambers through a statement by the presiding officer or the legislator presenting the material. They then lie on the table or are referred to committee as deemed appropriate by the chair or the chamber.⁵²

The right to petition the government for redress of grievances is a time-honored tradition of our system of government. It is one means by which citizens can voice their opinions on the course of public affairs and, on occasion, have a direct impact on the legislative process.

DISTINCTION AMONG TYPES OF LEGISLATION

Several types of bills and resolutions may be acted upon by the Nevada legislature. Examples of these types of measures are presented at the end of this chapter.

Bill

A bill is a draft of a proposed statute, which, to become law, must be passed by both houses of the legislature on roll call vote and be approved by the governor.

Skeleton Bill

The introduction of a skeleton bill is permitted by senate and assembly rules after the beginning of a session when, in the opinion of the sponsor and the legislative counsel, the full drafting of the bill would entail extensive research or be of considerable length. Such a bill is a presentation of ideas or statements of purpose, sufficient in style and expression to enable the legislature and the committee to which the bill may be referred to consider the substantive merits of the legislation proposed. The committee, if it treats the skeleton bill favorably, must then request the drafting of a completed bill in such detail as would afford the committee the opportunity of considering the legislative ideas proposed in context with all their necessary ramifications.⁵³

One-house Resolution

A one-house resolution may be adopted by either house to express an opinion, appoint a committee, express regret on the death of a former member of the legislature or other person, recognize a meritorious service, commemorate a special day or occasion or appoint attachés, and to provide postage and stationery money for the members. A one-house resolution must be used to request the return of a bill from the other house. Except when three members request a roll call vote, a one-house resolution is acted upon by voice vote.

Concurrent Resolution

A concurrent resolution must be adopted by both houses to amend the joint rules, express facts, principles, opinions, and purposes of the senate and assembly, establish joint committees of the two houses, direct the legislative commission to conduct interim studies and to request the return from the governor of an enrolled bill. It may also be used to memorialize a former member of the legislature or other distinguished person upon his death or to congratulate or commend any person or organization for a significant and meritorious accomplishment. However, any request for drafting the resolution must be approved by the assembly committee on legislative functions or the senate committee on legislative affairs and operations before submission to the legislative counsel.⁵⁴ A concurrent resolution is acted upon by voice vote unless three members request a roll call vote.

Joint Resolution

A joint resolution is passed by both houses in the same manner as a bill. It, too, must be signed by the governor unless it is a measure amending the constitution of the State of Nevada. Joint resolutions are used for the purpose of requesting the Congress of the United States, the President, a federal agency, or members of the Nevada congressional delegation to perform some act believed to be for the best interests of the state or nation. The joint resolution is employed as indicated above to amend the constitution of the State of Nevada, and also to ratify an amendment to the constitution of the United States.⁵⁵

Progress of a Bill Through the Nevada Legislature

NOTES:

(1) Emergency Measures. Under the Constitution, bills must be read 3 times on 3 separate days, unless they are declared emergency measures with a 75% vote of the members present. This may occur at any time between steps (1) and (10), and enables the houses to pass bills in one day if necessary.

(2) Joint Resolutions. Under the Constitution, joint resolutions must be processed in the same manner as bills. However, joint resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution are not delivered to or signed by the Governor, but are deposited directly with the

(3) Concurrent and One-house Resolutions. There are no requirements that these be read on 3 separate days, nor that roll call votes be taken, nor that they be approved by the Governor. They are printed, enrolled, and signed by the proper officers of the houses, they are deposited directly with the Secretary of State, and they are included in the bound volumes of the session laws.

The above assumes no growth in exempt property. The property involved belongs to the UNLV or UNR Foundations. There could be more qualifying property which the Department and the County Assessors are presently unaware of. As we can best determine property with an assessed valuation amounting to $218,112 now exists. By next year $128,831 will be exempt, leaving $89,281 worth of assessed valuation amounting to a fiscal impact of around $1,800.00, should this legislation be enacted.

CHAPTER IV

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL BUREAU AND LEGISLATIVE BUILDING

ii

CHAPTER IV

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL BUREAU AND LEGISLATIVE BUILDING

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL BUREAU

Writing in 1968 in The American Legislative Process: Congress and the States, William J. Keefe stated, "The most significant contribution to legislative renewal in this century is found in the creation and development of service agencies to provide legislators with information and assistance."¹ This statement, although it minimizes the impact of reapportionment, the professionalization of legislatures and the general resurgence of state government in the federal system, is still a generally convincing assessment.

The legislative service agency as we know it today came into being in order to free legislators from their almost total dependence upon lobbyists representing those who could afford to pay them, and from the executive branch of state government. With service agencies, a legislator is not dependent upon a lobbyist or a governor to draft a bill for him, to provide him with research data or to keep him informed about his state and other states with similar problems. The more developed and expert the service agency staff, the less the dependence upon sources of support which, by definition, are biased.

Many states, including Nevada, use the basic legislative council pattern providing for a body composed of legislators from each house and from each party empowered to function during the interim between sessions, either annual or biennial. Powers and responsibilities vary among the states, but basically councils carry out functions assigned by the full legislatures. These functions range from simple administrative duties to extensive powers of legislative oversight, policy research and emergency appropriations.

The Nevada legislature in March of 1945 recognized a need for more information and assistance in order to deal with increasingly complex tasks. This situation was clearly pointed out in the preamble to the bill creating the legislative counsel bureau:

At each biennial session of the legislature, that body is confronted by requests for legislation expanding and changing the functions of and increasing the appropriations of numerous offices, departments, institutions, and agencies of the state government; and . . . notwithstanding the information provided by the messages and budgets of the governor and the reports of public officers, it is impossible for the legislature or its committees to secure sufficient information to act advisedly on such requests in the time limited for its sessions.²

The 1945 law establishing the bureau charged it with assisting the legislature in finding facts concerning government, proposed legislation and various other public matters.³

During the next several years, the duties of the bureau and its staff were modified and expanded. However, the next major change in the bureau came 18 years later.

In 1963, the Nevada legislature undertook a major overhaul of the legislative counsel bureau which gave it a structure and responsibilities very similar to those it has today.⁴ One part of this change was the incorporation of the statute revision commission into the legislative counsel bureau as the legal division of the bureau. The statute revision commission was originally created under the supreme court in 1951 and became involved in bill drafting as an adjunct to its statute revision work. Another change was the separation of the bureau staff into divisions. In addition to the legal division, already noted, a fiscal and audit division and a research division were established.

Today, the legislative counsel bureau consists of the legislative commission, an interim finance committee, a director, an audit division, a fiscal analysis division, a legal division, a research division and an administrative division.⁵ The following sections of the manual describe the activities of these units of the legislative counsel bureau.

The Legislative Commission

The legislative commission consists of 12 legislators who exercise general policymaking and supervising authority over the operations of the legislative counsel bureau. At every regular session of the legislature, the senate and the assembly each designate six members and six alternates to serve on the commission. The legislature is required to determine, by joint rule at each regular session in odd numbered years, (1) the method of determining the majority and minority party regular and alternate membership on the commission, (2) the method of filling vacancies on the commission, (3) the terms of office of the commission members, (4) the method of selecting the chairman, and (5) the term of office of the chairman.⁶ These provisions are currently enumerated in Joint Rule 11.

Members of the legislative commission serve until their successors are appointed, notwithstanding that their terms of office may have expired. However, retiring legislators, or those who have been defeated for reelection, serve only until the day after the general election. Resultant vacancies are filled in the same manner as vacancies arising from other causes.⁷

For each day's attendance at a meeting of the legislative commission or while engaged in official legislative counsel bureau business, commission members receive a salary of $130 plus the standard per diem and travel allowances. An alternate who attends a meeting of the commission, but does not replace a regular member, is entitled to travel expenses, but not salary.⁸

The director of the legislative counsel bureau acts as the nonvoting recording secretary of the legislative commission, which meets periodically, as the accumulation of business requires, on call of the chairman or by decision of a majority of the commission. Seven members of the commission constitute a quorum.⁹

The legislative commission is designated by law as Nevada's commission on interstate cooperation. In this capacity, the commission is charged with the responsibility of working with The Council of State Governments and The National Conference of State Legislatures in the exchange of ideas and information with other states, so that the legislature may have the benefit of the latest thinking on matters falling within its purview. Nevada is a member of The Council of State Governments and The National Conference of State Legislatures and its annual dues for membership in these organizations are paid by the commission out of the legislative fund.¹⁰

The commission, which is basically designed to assist the legislature in maintaining its independent and coordinate status with the executive and judicial branches of the state government, may investigate and inquire into any area within the competence of the legislature. Normally, the investigative responsibilities of the commission are delegated to subcommittees of the commission which are assisted by the staff of the legislative counsel bureau. When it holds hearings, the commission is required to receive recommendations and suggestions for legislation or investigation from state and local governments, officers and legislators, and may receive recommendations and suggestions from specified private groups or any citizens desiring to report to it.¹¹ It also has the subpoena power and may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents necessary to the discharge of its duties.¹²

The commission appoints the Nevada representatives to the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws¹³ and other interstate bodies, formulates proposals for interstate compacts and agreements and, in general, facilitates Nevada's contacts with the other states, the Federal Government and with local units of government.¹⁴

Between sessions of the legislature, the legislative commission fixes the work priority of all studies and investigations assigned to it by concurrent resolutions of the legislature. Normally, such studies are carried out by subcommittees of the commission or counsel bureau staff under the direction and supervision of the commission. The commission may, between sessions, authorize the initiation of additional studies or investigations not specifically requested by the legislature at the preceding session.¹⁵

Interim Finance Committee

In 1969, the legislature created the interim finance committee to function within the legislative counsel bureau between sessions and administer a $1 million contingency fund. This fund, which is now approximately $6 million, was set up to provide provisional funds for state agencies when the legislature is not in session. To obtain funds, agencies must submit their requests to the state board of examiners for review and recommendation. Members of this board may require from the requestor such additional information as they deem appropriate. If the board finds sufficient justification for the requests submitted to it, it must make such recommendation to the interim finance committee by transmitting it to the director of the legislative counsel bureau, who is required to notify the chairman of the interim finance committee of it. Upon receiving the recommendation, the chairman of the committee must call a meeting to act upon the agency requests. The interim finance committee is not bound to follow the recommendation of the state board of examiners. The committee, by resolution, may allocate an amount for the purposes requested. In authorizing an allocation, the committee directs the state controller to transfer the approved amount from the contingency fund account to the appropriate agency account.¹⁶

The interim finance committee also reviews state agency requests to accept certain gifts and grants, to modify legislatively approved budgets, and to reclassify state merit system positions in certain circumstances. Legislation approved by the 1979 legislature requires that state agencies receive prior approval of the interim finance committee before they: (1) accept federal grants in excess of $50,000 or accept any federal grant which involves the employment of additional staff; (2) accept gifts or donations of a monetary value over $10,000; (3) amend legislatively approved budgets by either increasing or decreasing a budget category by the lesser of 10 percent or $25,000; or (4) convert, or reclassify, a merit system position to another type of position when this conversion significantly changes the job scope or job duties of the position as budgeted by the legislature.¹⁷

In 1983, the legislature passed legislation which requires that the state public works board consult with the interim finance committee before approving final plans for capital improvement projects including new construction, major repairs and landscaping.

The interim finance committee is composed of the members of the assembly standing committee on ways and means and the senate standing committee on finance during the immediately preceding session. Chairmanship of the interim finance committee alternates between immediate past chairmen of the two legislative committees. Membership on the committee terminates at the beginning of the next legislative session for any legislator who retires or is defeated for reelection.¹⁸

In voting on matters before the interim finance committee, a vote is taken of the senate and assembly members separately. No action can be taken unless a majority of both groups votes in the affirmative.

The Director

The director functions as the executive head of the counsel bureau and supervises all of its daily administrative and technical activities.¹⁹ The legislative commission appoints the director of the legislative counsel bureau and sets the compensation for the position. The director, in turn, appoints the chiefs of the divisions, subject to the approval of the legislative commission.²⁰

The director employs staff for the bureau at salaries within the limits of legislative appropriations and the salary schedule approved by the legislative commission, and authorizes claims against the legislative fund.²¹ In that capacity he signs payroll checks and checks for the special intergovernmental account and makes the necessary deductions and contributions for legislator's retirement.²² The director, in his assigned capacity as chief of the administrative division, is ex officio legislative fiscal officer.²³ His other duties and responsibilities are discussed in the section on the administrative division.

As noted in the section of the manual entitled "The Legislative Commission," the director serves as secretary to the legislative commission. He is also required to report inventory and purchases of supplies for each session and to assign space in and supervise the upkeep of the legislative building and grounds.²⁴

The director is given the statutory responsibility of registering lobbyists and is charged with receiving and filing administrative regulations.²⁵ He also serves as secretary to the interim finance committee,²⁶ the interim retirement committee and the Marlette Lake Advisory Committee. In addition, the director is the federal-state legislative coordinator for Nevada.²⁷

With the consent of the legislative commission, the director may appoint one of the remaining division chiefs or an employee of the legislative counsel bureau as his deputy.

The Audit Division

The audit division performs postaudits of all accounts, books and other financial records of all state departments, agencies and officials using or managing public funds. The audit division must get legislative commission approval prior to starting an audit. The audit division, with the approval of the audit subcommittee of the legislative commission, also performs specialized audits of state agencies to determine compliance with federal regulations. These audits are primarily accomplished by private accounting firms under contract with the legislative auditor.²⁸

Reports written by the audit division or contract auditors are furnished to audited agencies and discussed with their officials on a confidential basis. The head of an agency has 10 days to submit to the legislative auditor a written statement of explanation or rebuttal. Any statement submitted is then included in the final report issued by the audit division. After a report has been submitted to the legislative commission, or the audit subcommittee if the audit was conducted solely to determine compliance with federal regulations, copies are made available to all members of the legislature and other appropriate state officers and officials.²⁹

All state agencies must provide the audit division with any books, accounts, claims, reports, vouchers or other records of information requested by the legislative auditor for inspection.³⁰

The legislative auditor prepares a biennial report, for the members of the legislature and the governor, which analyzes the audit program and recommends necessary improvements to the financial operations of state government. The biennial report includes a summary of changes made in the agencies' systems of accounts and records included in the audits presented in the past biennium and specific recommendations to the legislature for the amendment of existing laws or the enactment of new laws.³¹

Under NRS 218.850, the legislative commission may direct the legislative auditor to make special audits or investigations it considers necessary to assist the legislature in the proper discharge of its duties. The legislature itself may direct the legislative auditor to conduct special audits or investigations.

The audit division is headed by the legislative auditor, who must be a certified public accountant or a public accountant qualified to practice public accounting in Nevada. He must have at least 5 years of progressively responsible experience in governmental accounting and auditing, and have a comprehensive knowledge of the principles and practices of public budgeting, governmental accounting, finance, auditing standards, statistical methods and operational analysis.³²

Annually, the legislative auditor must verify the increase in taxable revenue for the purpose of determining if the contribution rates to the public employees' retirement system must be increased.³³

Copies of the annual audit reports on professional boards and commissions are required to be filed with the legislative auditor.³⁴ If a contract audit is performed on a state agency, a copy of the report also must be furnished to the legislative auditor. Such audit reports received are enumerated in a special report issued every 6 months.

The Legal Division

The legal division, with a staff of lawyers and technicians, is responsible for the publication of Nevada Revised Statutes, Annotations to Nevada Revised Statutes, *Nevada Digest*³⁵ and several compilations of selected portions of Nevada Revised Statutes. The staff also provides bill drafting³⁶ and certain other assistance when requested. As legal adviser to the legislature, the legislative counsel or legal division staff on direction of the legislative commission may appear in, commence, prosecute, defend or intervene in any action, suit or other judicial or administrative proceeding to protect the official interests of the legislature or any of its committees.³⁷

Upon request, the legal division prepares or assists in the preparation of legislative measures for members of the legislature, state agencies and departments, the governor, local governments and members of the judiciary. However, the division cannot prepare or assist in the preparation of any measures proposed by the executive branch unless a request has been approved by the governor and is received before September 1 preceding the convening of a session. The limit for local governments is the same. During regular sessions, the division can only work on legislative measures upon the written request of a legislator or the governor.³⁸

The preparation of bills and resolutions entails research into the legal effect of proposed changes in existing laws, the development of sufficient background information to enable the bill drafter and the legislative sponsor to understand fully the ramifications of the suggested legislation, and the actual drafting of the measures in proper form and style. The staff of the division, as well as other officers and employees of the legislative counsel bureau, is prohibited from urging or opposing any legislation and is bound to observe the confidentiality of all matters within the work assigned unless those matters have become public records or the sponsor has granted consent for release.³⁹

Before introduction, every request for a bill must be delivered to the legal division to be put in the proper form. The legislative counsel may correct any clerical errors in a proposed bill or resolution, but if a correction might change the substance of a measure, permission of the measure's author must be obtained before making the change.⁴⁰ All bills or resolutions of both houses designated for reprinting, engrossment, reengrossment or enrollment must be routed directly through the legal division, so that amendments which have been adopted may be inserted preparatory to engrossment or enrollment.⁴¹

The legal division is headed by the legislative counsel, who must be an attorney licensed to practice law in one of the United States. The legislative counsel, must be versed in some or all of the following fields: political science, parliamentary practice, legislative procedure and the methods of research, statute revision and bill drafting.⁴² The legislative counsel is ex officio one of Nevada's three commissioners on uniform state laws.⁴³

The legislative counsel is the legal adviser to the legislative branch of government and provides legal counsel for legislative committees and subcommittees. He or she may issue legal opinions which may influence the construction and application of statutes. Just as the attorney general responds to requests within the executive branch, the legislative counsel only issues opinions upon the request of a member or committee of the legislature or the legislative commission.⁴⁴ Neither the opinions of the attorney general nor those of the legislative counsel have any binding force but are intended to guide public officials in the absence of an authoritative decision rendered by a court of law.

The legislative counsel through the staff of the legal division performs engrossing and enrolling for the legislature. Whenever a bill or resolution has passed both houses of the legislature, the measure is transmitted to the legislative counsel for enrollment, at which time he or she must issue a receipt to the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the assembly bearing the date of delivery. When the measure is delivered to the governor, the legislative counsel must note this fact over the legislative counsel's signature as a part of the bill's history.⁴⁵ The official engrossed bill is then delivered to the secretary of state.⁴⁶ The legislative counsel also makes recommendations to the legislature for the clarification of specific statutes, the elimination of obsolete sections of Nevada Revised Statutes and the resolution of conflicting portions of the law.⁴⁷

The legislative counsel is responsible for revising Nevada Revised Statutes, Annotations to Nevada Revised Statutes, Nevada Digest and all other authorized publications of the legal division of the legislative counsel bureau. Additional responsibilities of the legislative counsel include indexing Nevada Revised Statutes, Statutes of Nevada, and other publications and legal materials of the legislative counsel bureau.

The legal division is also responsible for preparing the Nevada Administrative Code.⁴⁸ This requires examining all regulations adopted by the agencies of the executive branch, determining which provisions are current and arranging them in logical sequence. Every proposed regulation must also be examined and revised if necessary to fit into the existing regulations. The code is designed to present the regulations in clear and concise language and make those on a particular subject easy to find. The legislative counsel also provides legal advice to the legislative commission in its review of adopted administrative regulations for compliance with legislative intent.⁴⁹

The legislative counsel hires and directs the staff of attorneys and other members of the legal division engaged in the legal work of the bureau.

The Research Division

The research division is the general information arm of the legislature.⁵⁰ It conducts research into a myriad of subjects at the request of legislators, standing committees, other state and local officials and citizens of Nevada. It also responds to inquiries concerning Nevada's government, laws and public policy issues from residents, counterpart agencies and public officials in other states.

Most of the statutory duties of the division and its director are described in NRS 218.731 and 218.735, and include:

1. Providing the legislature and the members and committees thereof with comprehensive and accurate reports and background information on subjects of legislative interest.
2. Analyzing and evaluating the long-range planning activities and programs of the State of Nevada and its political subdivisions when authorized by the legislature, the legislative commission or the director of the legislative counsel bureau.
3. Analyzing and evaluating the public policies of the State of Nevada and its political subdivisions and making appropriate recommendations regarding those policies when authorized by the legislature, the legislative commission or the director of the legislative counsel bureau.
4. Advising the legislature and the members and committees thereof regarding matters relating to the resources and procedures which are necessary to conduct research.
5. Preparing publications relating to the legislature and the legislative counsel bureau.
6. Providing necessary personnel to standing and interim committees as assigned by the director, the legislature or the legislative commission.
7. Maintaining the library of the legislative counsel bureau.

8. Providing information and assistance to the legislature and the members and committees thereof concerning the apportionment of legislative districts and any other political districts the boundaries of which are determined by the legislature.

9. Performing such other functions as may be assigned by the legislature, the legislative commission or the director of the legislative counsel bureau.

The research division also is required to work with the legal division in the preparation of language which appears on the ballot regarding proposed constitutional amendments and other statewide measures which must be voted on by the people.⁵¹

The general function of the research division is the provision of information. The work of the division is determined, to a large degree, by the legislative cycle. Throughout the cycle, however, a major responsibility is the preparation of responses to requests from individual legislators for information and assistance.

During the months prior to the legislative session, the division prepares the Nevada Legislative Manual. This manual includes short biographies of members of the legislature, copies of the rules of each house, a roster of public officials, and other useful information about how the legislature works. The manual is widely used by legislators, staff members, lobbyists and citizens. The division also prepares background papers on issues which are likely to be prominent during the legislative session and a brochure entitled "The Nevada State Legislature" which is designed for public distribution.

During legislative sessions, members of the division's professional staff are assigned to standing committees to assist the chairmen and other members by providing background information on bills which are considered by the committees. On occasion, staff members will appear before legislative committees to provide information or respond to questions regarding specific bills. Division personnel also assist individual legislators in developing ideas for legislation and preparing bill analyses and summaries.

Following the legislative session, the research division summarizes all the bills which have been enacted and compiles these summaries into the Summary of Legislation. This summary provides a convenient guide to the actions of the legislature during the previous session. The division also compiles sponsor lists, showing the bills sponsored by each legislator and each legislative committee, and a comprehensive end-of-session presentation.

During the period between sessions, the staff of the research division is assigned to subcommittees on various interim legislative studies. The staff members prepare background material for the subcommittees, arrange subcommittee hearings, and prepare each subcommittee's final report to the legislative commission. The recommendations from all the interim study subcommittees are compiled in the Summary Bulletin which also is prepared by the research division.

The research staff is available to individual legislators to do research and prepare written analyses on specific topics throughout the legislative cycle. At times, the staff also may assist legislators in preparing for speeches and other public presentations. In addition to assisting legislators, the division answers requests for information from state agencies, legislative staff in other states, businesses and the general public.

The research library endeavors to maintain a collection of materials which are of immediate use to legislators and legislative staff in answering questions which arise during the legislative process. These materials include a full set of Nevada's session laws, Nevada Reports, the journals of the senate and assembly, legislative research bulletins, and bills from previous sessions. The library also contains standard reference works, legal codes from surrounding states, statistical compilations, periodicals and writings on subjects of significance to the legislature. In addition, the library acts as custodian of the minutes and tapes for legislative proceedings for the last two sessions. The research library also maintains subject files containing the results of previous research prepared by the division staff and files of current newsclippings on topics of interest to the legislature.

In summary, the primary function of the research division is to provide Nevada legislators and others with all types of information regarding legislative issues which are not specifically fiscal or legal in nature.

The research director, or his designee, is the nonvoting recording secretary of the Nevada legislature's committee on public lands.⁵²

The Fiscal Analysis Division

The fiscal analysis division provides the legislature with the capability for independent review and analysis of budgetary and fiscal matters. It examines the Executive Budget and suggests possible changes; provides expenditure and revenue projections to aid the legislative money committees; and assists the legislature in the interpretation of factual data related to the fiscal aspects of the operation of state and local government.

Other duties of the fiscal analysis division are (1) analyzing the past history and probable future trends of the state's financial position in order that a sound fiscal policy may be developed and maintained for the state, (2) analyzing appropriations bills, revenue bills, and bills having a fiscal impact upon the operation of the government of the State of Nevada or its political subdivisions, and (3) compiling and disseminating budget and financial information on local governments within the state.⁵³

Because of the critical importance of adequate financial data on which to base legislative decisions, the fiscal analysis division is an indispensable adjunct of the legislature. The services it provides help the legislature to set economically sound policies for the state, anticipate future needs and objectively analyze budgetary requests submitted to it.

Administrative Division

The administrative division is responsible for providing support to the other divisions of the legislative counsel bureau and to the legislature. The division is responsible for accounting; communications equipment; control of inventory; data processing; janitorial services, maintenance of buildings, grounds and vehicles; purchasing; security; shipping and receiving; photocopying; utilities and warehouse operations.⁵⁴

The chief of the division is ex officio legislative officer and maintains a complete set of accounting records and reports for all legislative operations. The payroll records for all legislators and employees of the legislative branch of government are maintained by the chief.

Summary

Through the organizational structure outlined above, the legislative counsel bureau meets the basic needs for assistance to legislators. The demand for increased governmental services, as well as competition among governmental units for revenue to finance their programs, makes it increasingly mandatory that policymakers be thoroughly and impartially informed regarding public issues.

The staff services of the legislative counsel bureau are furnished throughout the year for any legislator. Legal advice, fiscal information and spot research are furnished upon request, but services of a more extensive nature are executed when the legislature so orders by means of a law or resolution. Between sessions, such projects can be requested through the legislative commission.

THE LEGISLATIVE BUILDING

Located on the Legislative Mall, which covers an area of seven former city blocks, south of the capitol, the legislative building contains 96,000 usable square feet and adequate facilities for the Legislature and the Legislative Counsel Bureau. Included within the building are equipment and accommodations for the public and the legislature which make the building one of the finest in the nation for its purpose.

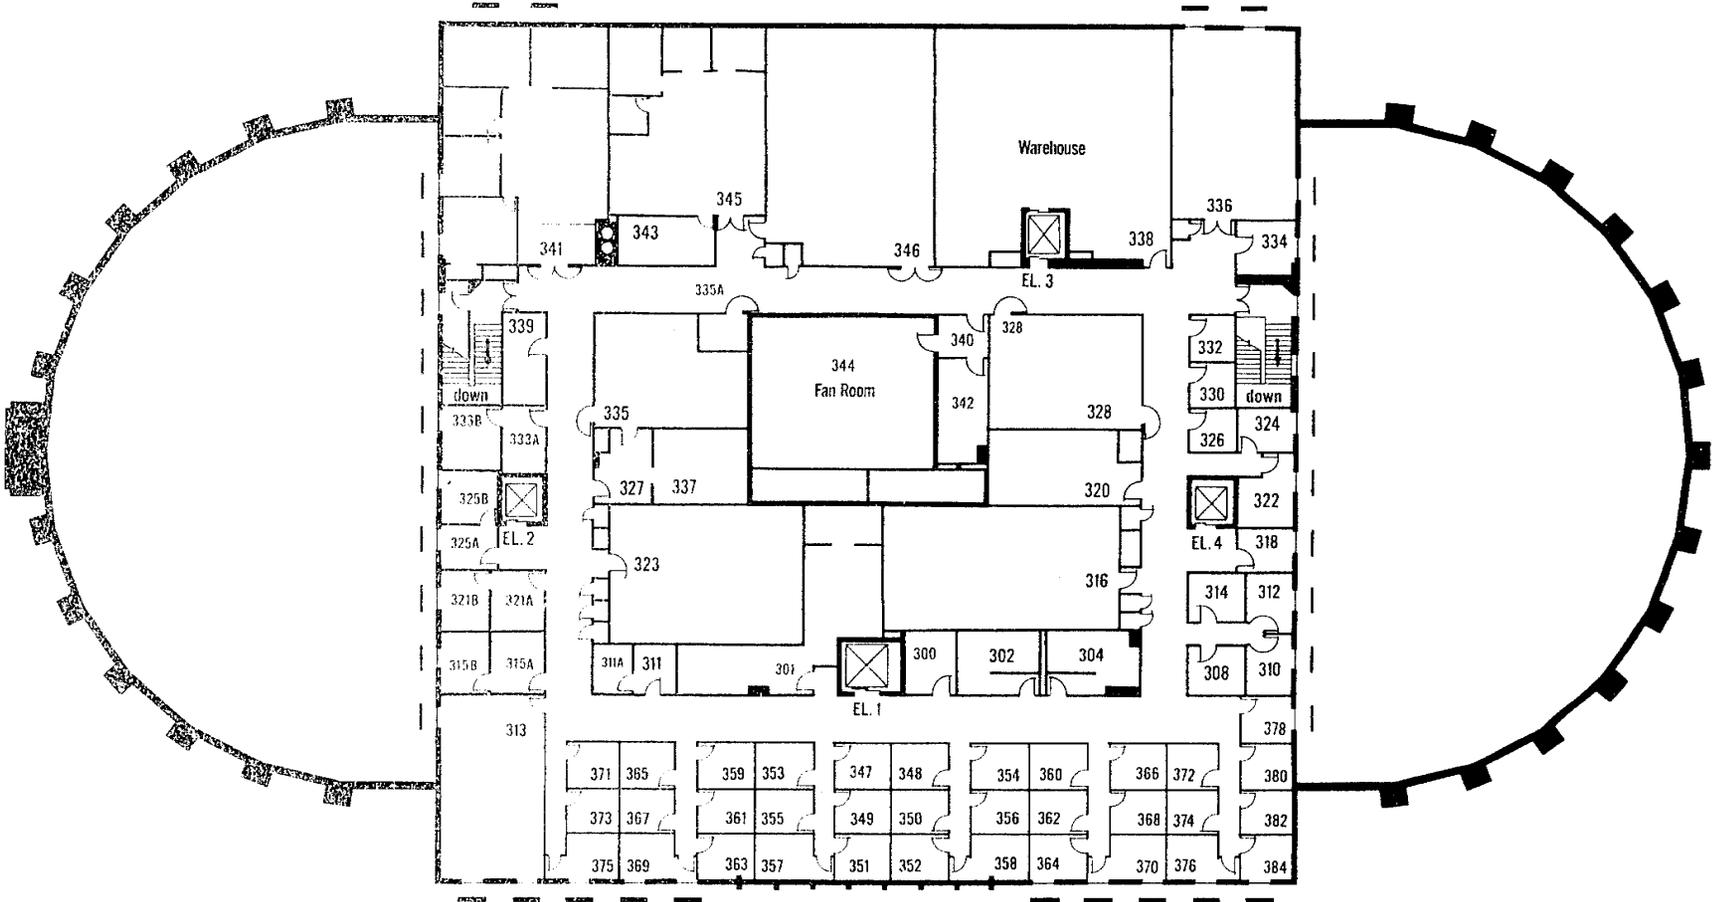

The legislative building was designed by the architectural firms of Ferris and Eskine, Vhay and Ferrari, and Raymond Hellman, in association, and constructed by Walker Boudwin Construction Company. Construction began in September 1968. The building was dedicated on June 9, 1970.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATIONS

Three basic types of telephone communications services are available in the legislative building as follows:

- State Capitol Telephone Service
- State Legislature Message Center
- Coin Telephone

State Capitol Telephone Service

The telephones in the offices of legislators and staff within the legislative building are part of the "CENTREX" (Centralized Exchange Telephone Service) system. CENTREX offers direct in-dialing, station-to-station calls within the system, and direct out-dialing.

The public can reach a legislator or staff in the legislative building directly by dialing a seven-digit telephone number. The way of handling direct calls to legislators' offices when they are not in the office is discussed below under the heading "State Legislature Message Center."

Numbers within the CENTREX system may be identified by their 885 prefix. Station-to-station calls within the system may be completed by dialing the last four digits of the desired telephone number. In addition to the legislative offices, the offices of most state agencies located in Carson City are part of the CENTREX system.

Direct out-dialing to reach numbers outside of the CENTREX system is also available. Local calls (Carson City, Reno, Sparks, Crystal Bay-Incline Village, Dayton and Virginia City) may be placed by dialing "9" and the desired 7-digit telephone number. A new computerized least cost routing long distance dialing system allows legislators to place calls directly from their offices on a 24 hours per day basis. Long distance calls may be placed as follows:

To call the Las Vegas local dial area:

- Dial 117 (Dial Tone)
- Dial 9 (Dial Tone)
- Dial 7-digit number

To call all other areas in Nevada:

- Dial 9 (Dial Tone)
- Dial 1
- Dial 7-digit number

To call all areas outside Nevada:

- Dial 9 (Dial Tone)
- Dial 1
- Dial Area Code
- Dial 7-digit number

Calls made from legislators' offices are automatically billed to their office telephone number.

Special calls (credit card, collect, "800" and non-7-digit numbers) cannot be placed through the computerized least cost routing system. These types of calls should be placed in the same manner as they are from any other telephone in the state. However, the caller must dial "9" to obtain an outside line before placing these special calls.

State Legislature Message Center

Incoming calls for a legislator will go directly or be transferred to the legislator's office. If the telephone is not answered by the third ring, the call will forward automatically to the message center, located on the first floor of the legislative building. All telephone messages for legislators will be taken by this message center. A message waiting lamp will be activated on the legislator's office telephone indicating that a message has been received. At his convenience he may call extension 3008 to receive his messages. After hours, messages will be placed in the legislator's mailbox in the respective sergeant at arms' offices.

The message center is also provided as a public service for the convenience of the general public for receiving telephone calls during the legislative session. The number for the message center is 885-4848. The message center opens daily no later than 8 a.m. and closes at the end of the day's activities.

Coin Telephones

Coin operated pay telephones are located throughout the legislative building. All outgoing calls (local and long distance) made by the general public must be placed through these telephones. Calling instructions are posted at the coin telephones. Appropriate credit (calling) cards may be obtained from the local telephone company.

Billing of Legislators for Telephone Service

Each legislator receives a $1,800 telephone allowance during a regular session to help defray telephone charges incurred in the performance of his official duties. Each member is responsible for payment of telephone bills incurred.

Legislators are billed for long distance calls made from their office telephones on a monthly basis by the state department of general services. Charges for calls made on the least cost routing system are based on time and distance, and are lower than regular long distance rates. Questions about telephone billing should be discussed with the accounting division in the Nevada department of general services at 885-3183 or 885-4127. Payment of a legislator's state telephone bill should be made to:

General Services Accounting
Capitol Complex
Carson City, Nevada 89710

Toll Free Services for Constituents

LONG DISTANCE CALLS TO LEGISLATORS

Constituents outside the local calling area may make toll free calls to their legislators from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. by dialing 1-800-992-0973 for all of Nevada except Las Vegas. Las Vegas area callers may call 384-2225. All calls will be put through to the legislator's office. If the legislator is not available, the call will automatically transfer to the message center where a message for the legislator will be taken.

STATE LIBRARY AND ARCHIVES LEGISLATIVE HOTLINE SERVICE

To receive information concerning legislative bill status, committee hearing dates and the specific activities of the legislature, constituents outside the local calling area may dial 1-800-992-0973 and ask for extension 5545. Las Vegas area callers should dial 384-2225 and ask for extension 5545. Constituents within the local calling area may call 885-5545. This service is offered by the State Library and Archives Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

POSTAL SERVICE

United States Postal Service facilities are available in the legislative building at one location. A mailing receptacle for U.S. mail has been placed next to the wall between rooms 104 and 107 in the inner lobby on the first floor of the legislative building.

Each house of the Legislature independently provides for the distribution of mail to its own members.

Mail chutes throughout the building are for state and interagency mail only—not U.S. mail.

FIRE AND EMERGENCY EVACUATION PLAN

1. In the event of sounding the fire alarm system, it is to be assumed that the alarm is real and all personnel are to evacuate the building immediately, using the nearest stairs. The elevators are not on emergency power circuits and valuable time might be lost in attempting to use them. If the nearest stairwell is smokefilled or access to it blocked in any way, then use another stairwell.

2. All doors to the stairwell enclosures, particularly those exiting the main portions of the building, are intended to be closed in the event of fire to protect the enclosure from fire and keep it clear of smoke. If any of these doors are found open on leaving the building, they should be closed. As a general item of information, similar considerations apply to doors to corridors. These doors are sometimes found to be blocked open. If a fire occurs in a room, all doors to the room should be closed in order to contain fire and smoke within the room and prevent its further spread in the building.

3. After evacuating the building, reentry will not be made until the fire department has specifically determined that this is permissible.

Emergency Telephone Numbers

Fire: 9 + 911
 Ambulance: 9 + 911
 First Aid: 5655
 Sheriff: 9 + 911
 Legislative Security: 5648 or 5655
 or: Dial "O" for Operator

Elevator Telephones

Each elevator in the legislative building is equipped with an emergency telephone. In the event of fire, a stalled elevator or any other emergency, assistance may be obtained by dialing 5648 or 5655 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. or 5300 between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m.

CHAPTER V
RESOURCES FOR LEGISLATORS

CHAPTER V

RESOURCES FOR LEGISLATORS

During every session of the Nevada legislature, senators and assemblymen find themselves deluged with a massive number of official reports, documents and communications. Filtering the significant from the insignificant materials frequently becomes a sizeable chore. However, there are a few key resources with which legislators should become familiar, for they bear more directly and more constantly on the work of the legislature than any others likely to cross their desks.

These resources may be described in two categories—basic printed resources and library services. The basic printed materials may be supplemented by additional information which is available through the libraries.

BASIC PRINTED RESOURCES

The basic printed resources are primarily issued by the legislature and the legislative counsel bureau. However, at least four documents issued by the executive branch, the Executive Budget, the Nevada state planning board's Recommended Schedule of Priorities for Capital Improvements, the Nevada Statistical Abstract, and the Biennial Report of Nevada State Agencies should also receive legislators' scrutiny. The major printed resource tools at the disposal of the Nevada legislators are briefly highlighted below.

Statutes of Nevada

The Statutes of Nevada, sometimes called the session laws, are a bound compilation of all general and special laws and resolutions enacted in a specific year. They have been published for every session since territorial days. Thoroughly indexed, they are normally available within a few months following the close of a session. Between the end of a session and the publication of the Statutes of Nevada, a temporary compilation of the session laws, known as the advance sheets, is available to interested parties. This softbound publication contains all of the laws and resolutions adopted at the recently adjourned session in the same order of appearance as in the Statutes of Nevada with index and locator tables.

The text of all bills and resolutions enacted at a session appears in the statutes in the same form as enrolled copies filed with the secretary of state. With some exceptions, new material is printed in italics, while material enclosed in brackets is struck out of the existing law. Laws are arranged in the statutes by chapter number assigned by the secretary of state on the basis of the time he or she received them from the governor.

Besides the complete texts of all laws and resolutions adopted during a session, the Statutes of Nevada contain indexed copies of the United States and Nevada constitutions. There are also several helpful tables useful in determining the current state of law in Nevada prior to the issuance of the looseleaf supplements to Nevada Revised Statutes containing the statutory changes adopted at the previous session. These tables are:

1. A table of bills and resolutions passed at the session showing their location in the Statutes of Nevada.

2. A table of sections of Nevada Revised Statutes amended or repealed at the session.

3. A table of chapters of Nevada Revised Statutes amended by the addition of new sections.

4. A table of titles of Nevada Revised Statutes amended by the addition of new chapters.

5. A list of selected special and local acts amended or repealed at the session.

6. A table of statutes, or sections thereof, repealed or amended by subsequent action of the same legislature.

7. A table of contents showing the titles and chapters numbers (or file numbers for resolutions) of all the measures enacted during the session.

Nevada Revised Statutes

Nevada Revised Statutes is a codification of all statute laws in Nevada of a general, public and permanent nature. Officially cited as NRS, the code consists of 37 looseleaf volumes, including the indices and comparative tables.

The Nevada Revised Statutes is revised and published by the service arm of the legislature—the legislative counsel bureau. It is organized according to subject matter, but unlike the codes of some states, there is a single, unified system of section numbers running from beginning to end, so that codes, titles and chapters need not be cited. The four broadest divisions are codes:

1. The Remedial Code, which deals with court structure and organization and civil procedure and remedies.

2. The Civil Code, which deals with relationships between individuals.

3. The Penal Code, which encompasses crimes and punishments and criminal procedure.

4. The Political Code, which relates to the structure and organization of state and local governments and with the services rendered and the regulation exercised by government.

Within the codes are the titles, numbered consecutively from 1 through 58, with each title embracing a major subject area of law. The titles, in turn, are broken down into chapters, and within the chapters are the specific provisions of the law set forth as sections which are given identifying numbers. In citing a law contained in NRS, the numbers preceding the decimal point indicate the chapter in which the provision is located, while those following the decimal pinpoint the specific section referred to in the citation. Hence, a citation reading NRS 218.340 would mean that the law in question is found in chapter 218 of Nevada Revised Statutes, while 340 indicates its place in that chapter. The system is truly decimal; that is, NRS 218.5333 lies between NRS 218.533 and 218.534.

The numbers, dates and symbols at the conclusion of each NRS section refer to the statutory history of the sections and permit the quick location of their statutory antecedents. An explanation of the code employed is contained in the Legislative Counsel's Preface in volume 1.

The rules of Nevada's courts are also printed in NRS. Volume 1 contains the rules of the Nevada supreme court and the district courts. These rules, and all the court rules, are not assigned chapter numbers and are arranged simply in numerical order by rule. They may be cited as "Supreme Court Rule 4" or "District Court Rule 17." The Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure and the Nevada Rules of Appellate Procedure are contained in volume 2 and the Nevada Justices' Courts Rules of Civil Procedure are found in volume 3. Citations for these rules may be given as N.R.C.P. 65(a), N.R.A.P. 1(a) or N.J.R.C.P. 73(a).

Volume 31 of Nevada Revised Statutes contains the Nevada admission acts, the Nevada Constitution and the United States Constitution with its index, as well as the final portion of the political code. Volume 32 contains a selection of local and special acts which appear to have a continuing effect and which apparently have a significant degree of public interest. Major inclusions are city charters, water and sewer districts, convention centers and other special acts. Volumes 33 through 36 comprise the comprehensive index to NRS, while the last volume, volume 37, provides comparative tables relating NRS sections to those found in the compilation superseded by NRS and to new sections added to NRS by statutes enacted subsequent to the adoption of NRS as the law of Nevada. Also included is a table of all sections repealed or replaced in revision since the enactment of NRS.

At each session of the legislature, numerous changes are made in the existing body of law contained in NRS. To keep NRS current, the legislative counsel prepares biennial supplements which contain all changes made in NRS at the immediately preceding session.

Nevada Revised Statutes currently sell for $450 per set and may be ordered through the legislative counsel bureau. Legislators desiring to obtain a personal set of NRS may order it directly from the legislative counsel bureau at a cost of $50. This fee entitles a legislator to a complete set of the code, along with sets of replacement or supplementary pages as issued during his term of office, without additional charge.

Annotations to Nevada Revised Statutes

Annotations to Nevada Revised Statutes is a six-volume compilation of notes keyed to Nevada Revised Statutes, which is designed to assist in interpreting the meaning of statutory language appearing in NRS. The annotations contain six basic aids to understanding Nevada law:

1. Reviser's Notes. The Reviser's Notes explain the reasons for omissions, changes of wording and reorganizations made during the revision of NRS. They also set forth preambles, legislative policy statements and other provisions of law having more than temporary effect which are not included in NRS. In a few instances they provide additional information about the source or effective date of a provision.

2. Legislative Histories. The legislative histories appearing at the beginning of each Title of the annotations trace the enactment, amendment and repeal of various provisions existing before the enactment of NRS. The dates given refer to the Statutes of Nevada for the years cited. The numbers following the dates locate the statutory provision by page within the statutes for the year listed. This information permits one to review the evolution of the body of law that comprises Nevada Revised Statutes.

3. Notes of Opinions of the Attorney General. Where appropriate, the annotations contain brief notes on pertinent opinions of the attorneys general of the State of Nevada since 1865. These are identified by the citation prefix "AGO," followed by the number of the opinion and its date of issuance.

4. References to Nevada Constitutional Debates and Proceedings. Annotations to the constitution of the State of Nevada contain references to the Debates and Proceedings in the 1864 Constitutional Convention of the State of Nevada, as reported by Andrew J. Marsh and published in 1866.

5. Notes of the Advisory Committees of the Nevada Supreme Court. The annotations to Nevada Rules of Appellate Procedure, Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure and Nevada Justices' Courts Rules of Civil Procedure contain notes as prepared by the respective advisory committees appointed by the Nevada supreme court.

6. Relevant Judicial Decisions. The annotations contain notes and citations for decisions of the Nevada supreme court, federal courts and courts of other jurisdictions which bear upon the provisions of Nevada Revised Statutes. Also included are statements of holdings in cases decided under former statutes which were substantially the same as the provisions in Nevada Revised Statutes.

Annotations to Nevada Revised Statutes currently sell for $95 per set of six volumes.

Nevada Digest

A legal research tool, the Nevada Digest summarizes all Nevada case law since 1864, together with federal and other cases applicable to Nevada. It contains collateral references to other publications, including:

American Jurisprudence (1st and 2nd editions); and American Law Reports (1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th series).

The 49-volume set is arranged by alphabetical topic headings generally paralleling those found in California Jurisprudence, 2nd Edition.

For those legislators interested in pursuing a subject in depth, the Nevada Digest can be a valuable source of information. Its use is more fully explained in the preface, which appears in volume 1 of the digest.

The Nevada Digest currently sells for $500 for the 49-volume set.

Daily Histories

The Nevada legislature considered 1,482 legislative measures during the 1985 session. Keeping track of the progress of such a massive number of bills and resolutions would tax the energies of any legislator if he had to trace their current status himself; but fortunately this service is provided through the Assembly Daily History and the Senate Daily History.

The daily histories list each bill and resolution introduced in the respective chambers for which they are reporting in numerical sequence by bill number or the number of the resolution. Following the bill number is the name of the introducer and the date of introduction of the measure. Below this information there is a brief summary of the measure and the number of the bill drafting request. Then, in chronological order, the measure's legislative history is traced up to the date of publication. Thus, at a moment's glance, a legislator or interested citizen can locate any bill or resolution and determine its status.

Daily histories, which are printed each day the legislature is in session and are also printed in cumulative volumes every 2 weeks (on an alternating basis between the senate and assembly), record all action taken on bills and resolutions.

They also contain a complete listing of the daily files scheduled during the day and a notation of committee meetings.

At the conclusion of each session, final volumes of the assembly history and the senate history are printed and made available upon request. These volumes contain the legislative history of each measure through the last day of the session and are arranged in the same fashion as the daily histories.

Measures enacted into law are traced through the date of the governor's signature (or the date on which they became law without his signature), with notations citing their assigned chapter number in the Statutes of Nevada and their effective dates, unless vetoed, in which case the date of veto is noted. The final volumes include additional relevant information on the personnel of the session, committee assignments, a legislative box score and other items of general interest.

Index of Bills and Resolutions

The index to senate and assembly bills and resolutions is a document which may be used to determine if a measure has been introduced on a particular subject area. The index, which shows all introduced bills and resolutions by subject matter, is printed each week during the session. Bills approved by the governor are indicated by asterisks, and a final edition of the index is printed shortly after adjournment.

Legislative Journals

Each house of the Nevada legislature publishes a daily journal of its proceedings. While the journals are not verbatim transcriptions of floor activity, they do record all official action taken on measures pending before the chambers and frequently include the text of remarks made by legislators, as well as gubernatorial messages. Journals for the preceding day are distributed to the legislators in their respective chambers at the beginning of each day's session.

After the legislature has adjourned sine die, the daily journals are gathered together, indexed and bound in permanent publications. Hardbound copies of the journals also contain certain ancillary information relating to the legislative calendar and the personnel of the legislature.

State Statistical Abstract and Consolidated Biennial Report

The office of community services compiles a biennial report which describes the operations and functions of state agencies. The report includes the governor's state of the state message delivered at the most recent regular session, an organizational chart of state government and separate sections relating to each state department and other selected agencies of the executive branch of state government. Each section on state departments or agencies contains information on the agencies' budgets, programs, activities, purpose and publications during the biennium.

The office of community services also compiles and publishes a statistical abstract. The statistical abstract contains significant statistical information for the current biennium pertaining to the federal, state and local governments. It also contains data relating to business and economy in Nevada.

Political History of Nevada

One of the most comprehensive historical reference works on Nevada state government and politics is the Political History of Nevada, the eighth revised edition of which was issued by the secretary of state in the fall of 1986.

The political history contains background data on the historical development of the state (including the texts of many rare and important documents), descriptive material on the state symbols and mottoes, lists of territorial and state elective officials, maps and complete statewide election returns for every special, primary and general election since 1864. A special section entitled "Legislatures—Today and Yesterday," highlights valuable information regarding apportionment of the Nevada legislature since 1861 and lists the membership of each session of the territorial and state legislatures.

Audits of State Agencies

The audit division of the legislative counsel bureau periodically issues audits and other reports of value to legislators. Because of the technical nature and complexity of these reports, it is recommended that interested legislators consult with the legislative auditor for assistance in obtaining and interpreting audit reports.

Every legislator receives a copy of the Biennial Report of the Legislative Auditor which summarizes audit reports on state agencies and money counts of the state treasury. This report also includes specific recommendations to the legislature for laws to improve the efficiency and to reduce the cost of state government.

Legislative Videocassettes

The legislative counsel bureau provides a videocassette, entitled "The Nevada Legislature," produced by the Public Broadcasting System's TV Channel 5 of Reno. It is about 20 minutes in length and is suitable for viewing by all age groups. The videocassette is available for checkout to legislators.

The National Conference of State Legislatures also provides several videocassettes on various legislative topics. For specific information, contact the Research Library, Legislative Counsel Bureau, Legislative Building, Carson City, Nevada 89710.

Recommended Schedule of Priorities for Capital Improvements

Section 341.191 of Nevada Revised Statutes requires the state public works board to recommend to the governor and to the legislature a schedule of priorities for the construction of proposed capital improvements. The State Administrative Manual requires all institutions and departments to submit to the state public works board for consideration and recommendation their requests for capital improvements estimated to cost in excess of $10,000, or which affect the structure of an existing facility. The publication containing the long-range perspective of the capital construction needs and ultimate level of financing required is Recommended Capital Improvement Program for 1987-1989.

The recommended schedule assigns each proposed capital improvement project a project number and title. This information is followed by a cost estimate and description of the project. In appropriating funds to carry out a program of capital improvements, the legislature normally makes reference in the appropriations act, or in supplementary materials to this act, to the project numbers assigned to various projects by the state public works board in its recommended schedule. Hence, the recommended schedule is the key to understanding the capital improvements appropriations act and the state's capital improvement program.

Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure

The standing rules of both houses of the Nevada legislature designate Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure as the parliamentary authority to be followed in the absence of any constitutional provisions, statutes or standing rules governing the conduct of proceedings in the chambers. Mason's Manual, because of its official standing, is thus one of the major printed resources for legislators.

The manual contains a complete outline of parliamentary laws and rules, explaining questions of precedence of motions, the conduct of debate, methods of voting and other intricacies of procedure. Citations to collateral parliamentary authorities permit in-depth analysis of specific issues, while the narrative itself (which is organized by topical sections for purposes of citation) offers a statement of general principles applicable in most given situations.

In addition to an extensive table of contents, the manual has an index, a brief index and a table of cases cited. A limited number of copies of Mason's Manual is available for check-out from the research library. Copies are also available for purchase by legislators at $15.00 per copy from the publications office of the legislative counsel bureau.

The Nevada Legislative Manual

Each legislator is provided with a copy of the Nevada Legislative Manual, which contains materials designed to acquaint him with the structure and processes of the legislature, the nature of his responsibilities and the types of services that are available to him as a legislator. The manual also includes miscellaneous orientation information to assist new legislators and ease some of the minor strains associated with the legislative life.

Legislative Counsel Bureau Publications

The legislative counsel bureau issues several reports and publications which legislators should find useful. These publications are the: Legislative Appropriations Report, Summary of Legislation, legislative counsel bureau bulletins and various background papers.

1. Legislative Appropriations Report. This report produced biennially by the fiscal analysis division details all the appropriations made by the legislature for the operation of Nevada state government. It is distributed to all members of the legislature as soon after the adjournment of the legislative session as possible.

2. Summary of Legislation. This report, produced biennially by the research division, summarizes most legislation enacted during the most recent session. Certain measures with widespread interest are given detailed treatment.

3. Legislative counsel bureau bulletins. The legislative commission, responding to directions contained in concurrent resolutions, normally assigns a number of interim studies on legislative problems to its subcommittees, the staff of the legislative counsel bureau or both.

Upon their completion, these studies, together with recommendations for appropriate legislative action, are published by the legislative counsel bureau and distributed to the members of the next session of the legislature. Each publication is given a bulletin number. A complete listing of LCB bulletins issued to date is included as one of the appendices in this Nevada Legislative Manual. The numbering system for bulletins was changed in 1976 so that a bulletin now has a two-part number. The first part is the year of the regular session to which the report was made and the second part is a sequence number for that session. Thus, the first bulletin to the 1987 session is 87-1.

While an attempt is made to maintain a sufficient supply of each bulletin to accommodate requests for additional copies, certain numbers are now out of print. Persons wishing to review the contents of out of print bulletins may do so by consulting the issues retained by the legislative counsel bureau in its research library.

4. Background papers. These reports, which are produced prior to each legislative session by the research division as part of its requirements under NRS 218.731, discuss subjects which may be of major legislative interest during legislative sessions. The division welcomes legislators' suggestions for topics to be covered in the background papers. As noted under "The Legislative Counsel Bureau," in the Nevada Legislative Manual, the research division also handles a wide assortment of research assignments for legislators upon request.

Executive Budget

The major fiscal document used by legislators in Nevada is the Executive Budget, which contains revenue projections, actual appropriation and expenditure figures for past fiscal years, agency requests for the future biennium and the gubernatorial recommendations which endorse or modify agency budgetary requests. Included in the budget document are program statements which preface the detailed fiscal information for the various departments, boards, commissions and other agencies of the state. The program statements describe the major functions and requirements of the agencies in narrative form and offer explanations for any unusual budget items requiring clarification. The budget document is organized functionally, by agency. It provides details relating to personnel requests, i.e., it describes the number and type of positions being budgeted by agency, the salaries involved and the secondary costs to the state (insurance, retirement and other fringe benefits) for the actual and contemplated work forces included within each agency's projected budget.

The introductory materials located at the front of the budget document provide general interest data relating to the Nevada economy, taxation, employment, traffic flow, personal income and fiscal trends. This information is useful in understanding the factors involved in calculating budget projections, but it is equally useful as a statistical reference work on the State of Nevada.

LIBRARY SERVICES FOR LEGISLATORS

Nevada's State Library and Archives

Nevada's State Library and Archives was established in 1861 as the territorial library for service to attorneys and justices. Today it provides programs of library and information services to all Nevadans. The State Library and Archives acts as the information service center for all functions of state government as well as coordinating many activities for public libraries in the State.

Among the full range of information services to all Nevadans provided by the State Library and Archives, the following are of special use to members of the legislature:

PUBLIC AND TECHNICAL SERVICES DIVISION

Reference/research/interlibrary loan and circulation services from in-depth collections of public administration, business, education, human resources, taxation and census are available. Materials in all formats on these and many other subjects include the historical and all current newspapers published in Nevada. Comprehensive collections of statistical and demographic information, telephone and other directories, and locator types of reference sources enable quick access to information essential to legislative action.

The reference staff answers all questions of a general or special nature, performs manual and database literature searches, compiles bibliographies or lists of information sources on any subject, and obtains difficult-to-find materials through interlibrary loan from other libraries in and out of state. To keep legislators informed on current developments in their areas of particular interest, the reference staff will survey current periodicals and scan newspapers for pertinent information requested.

The state publications distribution center, created within the state library by the 1971 legislature, has organized Nevada state and local agency publications for use at the State Library and Archives with depository service points at Elko, Clark and Washoe County libraries and the University of Nevada, Reno and Las Vegas campuses. Reference service is provided from the state and local government documents collection as well as the special LEGISLATIVE HOTLINE offered to state agencies and to the general public during the legislative session. The hotline answers questions concerning bill status, committee hearing dates and other requests specific to the activities of the legislature.

The State Library and Archives is a federal documents depository, maintaining a current and historical collection of 250,000 federal documents which includes congressional bills, statutes, hearings and reports as well as executive publications. A limited collection of out-of-state and intergovernmental documents is also available. Full reference service, computer search services, photocopy and microform reader-printer services are available for all collections.

The talking book program offers library service to the blind and physically handicapped on a statewide basis. Legislators are invited to inspect the operation of this program and the unique and varied materials and equipment utilized. There is a high degree of interagency cooperation involved.

The technical services section coordinates library services on a statewide basis relating to cataloging library materials and information sharing. The section develops and maintains a statewide computer database for the interlibrary loan network, and it catalogues and coordinates the development of circulation databases.

• LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT DIVISION

The library development division provides consultation on library and information services to localities and state institutions; promotes coordination and improvement of library services on a statewide basis; collects data and publishes statistics and directories; monitors, evaluates and assists with administration of state and federal grants for library development; assists with development of library automation projects statewide; and develops training and continuing education activities for library staff members and public library trustees.

DIVISION OF ARCHIVES AND RECORDS

The division houses territorial and state records having research value, including many records of the legislative, judicial and executive branches of government, as well as some local government records. The staff provides research, retrieval and photocopying of records housed at the State Archives and referral services to government records and other historical material maintained elsewhere.

Hours for all divisions of the State Library and Archives are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Nevada Supreme Court Law Library

Located in the basement of the supreme court building, the law library provides legal information and research services to legislators, including reference, interlibrary loan and photocopy. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Telephone: 885-5140; for paging: 885-5183.

Research Library—Legislative Counsel Bureau

The research division of the legislative counsel bureau maintains a research library. This library contains current materials of interest to legislators and legislative counsel bureau staff. Documents cover a wide range of topics and are cataloged by title and chapter in the Nevada Revised Statutes. In addition to materials on the shelf, the library maintains a current clipping file of relevant newspaper articles. The library's periodicals cover legislative activities across the nation as well as specific topics of interest. The library houses a master set of Nevada Revised Statutes, standing committee minutes and tapes for the last two sessions, and bill books which contain all bills and reprints introduced in the legislature from 1911 to 1987. The library has computer access to several online databases for responding to research requests. Legislators may obtain library assistance from the librarians in room 235 of the legislative building.

SENATE STANDING RULES

[Current through adjournment sine die of the 1985 legislative session]

I. OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Duties of Officers

President.

The President shall take the chair and call the Senate to order precisely at the hour appointed for meeting, and if a quorum be present shall cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read. He shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct within the Chamber, shall order the Sergeant at Arms to suppress the same, and may order the arrest of any person creating any disturbance within the Senate Chamber. He may speak to points of order in preference to members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide questions of order without debate, subject to an appeal to the Senate by two members, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the Senate. He shall sign all acts, addresses and joint resolutions, and all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the Senate; all of which shall be attested by the Secretary. He has general direction of the Senate Chamber, and may name any Senator to perform the duties of the Chair—but such substitution does not extend beyond an adjournment, or authorize the Senator so substituted to sign any document requiring the signature of the President.

[Statutes of Nevada 1977, 1649]

President pro Tem.

The President pro Tem shall have all the power and authority, and discharge all the duties of the President during his absence or inability to discharge the duties of his office. In the absence or inability of the President pro Tem to discharge the duties of the President's office, the Chairman of the Committee on Legislative Functions shall preside. In the absence of the Chairman, the Vice Chairman of the Committee on Legislative Functions shall preside. In the absence of the Vice Chairman of the Committee on Legislative Functions, the Senate shall elect one of its members as the presiding officer for that occasion.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1865]

Secretary.

1. The Secretary of the Senate is elected by the Senate, and shall:
 - (a) Interview and recommend to the Committee on Legislative Affairs persons to be considered for employment to assist the Secretary.
 - (b) See that these employees perform their respective duties.
 - (c) Administer the daily business of the Senate, including the provision of secretaries to its committees.
 - (d) Unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, transmit at the end of each working day those bills and resolutions upon which the next action is to be taken by the Assembly.
2. The Secretary is responsible to the majority floor leader.
[Statutes of Nevada 1981, 2062]

Sergeant at Arms.

1. The Sergeant at Arms shall attend the Senate during its sittings, and execute its commands and all process issued by its authority. He must be sworn to keep the secrets of the Senate.
2. The Sergeant at Arms shall:
 - (a) Superintend the upkeep of the Senate's chamber, private lounge, and meeting rooms for committees.
 - (b) Interview and recommend to the Committee on Legislative Affairs persons to be considered for employment to assist the Sergeant at Arms.
3. The Sergeant at Arms is responsible to the majority floor leader.
[Statutes of Nevada 1981, 2062]

Assistant.

- The Assistant Sergeant at Arms shall be doorkeeper and shall preserve order in the Senate Chamber and shall assist the Sergeant at Arms. He shall be sworn to keep the secrets of the Senate.
[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1866]

Reserved.

The next rule is 10.

II. SESSIONS AND MEETINGS

Time of Meeting.

- The President shall call the Senate to order each day of sitting at 11:00 o'clock a.m., unless the Senate has adjourned to some other hour.
[Statutes of Nevada 1983, 2104]

Call of Senate—Moved by Three Members.

A call of the Senate may be moved by three Senators, and if carried by a majority of all present, the Secretary shall call the roll and note the absentees, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called over. The doors shall then be closed and the Sergeant at Arms directed to take into custody all who may be absent without leave, and all Senators so taken into custody shall be presented at the bar of the Senate for such action as to the Senate may seem proper.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1866]

Absence—Leave Required.

No Senator shall absent himself from the service of the Senate without leave, except in case of accident or sickness, and if any Senator or officer shall so absent himself his per diem shall not be allowed him.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1866]

Open Meetings.

1. Except as provided in the constitution of the State of Nevada and in subsection 2 of this rule, all meetings of the Senate and its committees shall be open to the public.

2. A Senate committee meeting may be closed if, in an open meeting of the committee, two-thirds of the members of the committee determine that such action is in the public interest and vote to close the meeting for the hearing of specified testimony. Final action on a bill or resolution shall not be taken at a closed meeting.

[Statutes of Nevada 1975, 1880]

The next rule is 20.

III. DECORUM AND DEBATE

Points of Order.

If any Senator, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any Senator may, call him to order, and when a Senator shall be so called to order he shall sit down and shall not proceed without leave of the Senate; which leave, if granted, shall be upon motion, "That he be allowed to proceed in order," when he shall confine himself to the question under consideration and avoid personality. Every decision of points of order by the President shall be subject to appeal, and no discussion of a question of order shall be allowed, except upon appeal of two Senators, and in all cases of appeal the question shall be, "Shall the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the Senate?"

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1867]

Breaches of Decorum.

In cases of breaches of decorum or propriety any Senator, officer or other person shall be liable to such censure or punishment as the Senate may deem proper, and if any Senator be called to order for offensive or indecorous language or conduct, the person calling him to order shall report the language or conduct excepted to, which shall be taken down or noted at the Secretary's desk, and no member shall be held to answer for any language used on the floor of the Senate if business has intervened before exception to the language was taken.

Indecorous conduct or boisterous or unbecoming language shall not be permitted in the Senate Chamber.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1867]

The next rule is 30.

IV. QUORUM, VOTING, ELECTIONS

30

Recorded Vote—Three Required to Call For.

A recorded vote must be taken upon final passage of a bill or joint resolution, and in any other case when called for by three members, and every Senator within the bar of the Senate shall vote "aye" or "no" or record himself as "not voting," unless excused by unanimous vote of the Senate, and the votes and names of those absent or recorded as "not voting" must be entered on the Journal, and the names of Senators demanding the recorded vote must also be entered on the Journal.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1925]

President to Decide—Tie Vote.

A question is lost by a tie vote, but when the Senate is equally divided on any question except the passage of a bill or joint resolution, the President may give the deciding vote.

[Statutes of Nevada 1977, 1650]

Manner of Election—Voting.

In all cases of election by the Senate the vote shall be taken viva voce. In other cases, if a vote is to be recorded, it may be taken by oral roll-call or by electronic recording, and no Senator or other person may remain by the Secretary's desk while the roll is being called or the votes are being counted. When a recorded vote is taken, no Senator may vote except when at his seat, nor upon any question in which he is in any way personally or directly interested, nor explain his vote or discuss the question while the voting is in progress, nor change his vote after the result is announced, and the announcement of the result of any vote shall not be postponed.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1926]

The next rule is 40.

V. LEGISLATIVE BODIES

40

Standing Committees.

The standing committees of the Senate and their respective jurisdiction for the reference of bills and resolutions are as follows:

1. Commerce and Labor, seven members, with jurisdiction over measures affecting primarily Titles 52-57, and chapters 461, 461A, 489, 703-704A and 707-712 of NRS.
2. Human Resources and Facilities, seven members, with jurisdiction over measures primarily affecting Titles 33, 34, 37-39 and 42 and chapters 439-460 and 583-585 of NRS.
3. Natural Resources, seven members, with jurisdiction over measures primarily affecting Titles 26 and 45-50 and chapters 488, 581, 582 and 586-590 of NRS, the Tahoe Regional Planning Compact and the Nevada Tahoe regional planning agency.
4. Finance, seven members, with jurisdiction over measures primarily affecting chapter 286 of NRS and over appropriations, operating and capital budgets, bonding and any measures carrying or requiring appropriations and favorably reported by any other committee unless such reference is dispensed with by a two-thirds vote of the Senate.
5. Government Affairs, seven members, with jurisdiction over measures affecting primarily the districts from which members of the legislature are elected and Titles 18-22, 24, 25, 27-31 and 36 and chapters 281-285, 287, 288, 289 and 407 of NRS, except measures affecting primarily the Tahoe Regional Planning Compact and the Nevada Tahoe regional planning agency.
6. Judiciary, seven members, with jurisdiction over measures affecting primarily Titles 1-16 and 41 of NRS.
7. Legislative Affairs and Operations, seven members, with jurisdiction over measures affecting primarily Title 17 of NRS, except the districts from which members of the legislature are elected, and the operation of the legislative session.
8. Taxation, seven members, with jurisdiction over measures affecting primarily Title 32 of NRS.

9. Transportation, seven members, with jurisdiction over measures affecting primarily Title 44 and chapters 403–406, 408–410, 481–487, 705 and 706 of NRS.

[Statutes of Nevada 1985, 2327]

Reserved.

42

Committee Expenses.

No committee shall employ assistance or incur any expense, except by permission of the Senate previously obtained.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1868]

Duties of Committees.

The several committees shall fully consider all measures referred to them and report thereon. They shall acquaint themselves with the interests of the State specially represented by the committee, and from time to time present such bills and reports as in their judgment will advance the interests and promote the welfare of the people of the State, and shall fully consider and report their opinion upon any matter committed or referred to them by the Senate.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1868]

Committee on Legislative Affairs.

The Committee on Legislative Affairs shall recommend by resolution the appointments of all attachés and employees of the Senate not otherwise provided for by law. It shall have authority to suspend any attaché or employee for incompetency or dereliction of duty, pending final action by the Senate. It shall hear complaints on alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interests, brought by legislators and others, and it may advise legislators on questions of breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest. All proceedings by the committee on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest shall be confidential.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1868]

Reserved.

46

Forming Committee of the Whole.

In forming the Committee of the Whole, the Senator who has so moved shall name a chairman to preside, and all bills considered shall be read by sections, and the chairman shall call for amendments at the conclusion of the reading of each section. All amendments proposed by the committee shall be reported by the Chairman to the Senate.

[Statutes of Nevada 1977, 1651]

Rules Applicable to Committee of the Whole.

The Rules of the Senate shall apply to proceedings in Committee of the Whole, except that the previous question shall not be ordered, nor the ayes and noes demanded, but the committee may limit the number of times that any member may speak, at any stage of proceedings, during its sitting. Messages may be received by the President while the committee is sitting; in which case the President will resume the chair, receive the message, and vacate the chair in favor of the chairman of the committee.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1869]

48

Motion to Rise Committee of the Whole.

A motion that the committee rise shall always be in order, and shall be decided without debate.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1869]

49

Reference to Committee.

When a motion is made to refer any subject, and different committees are proposed, the question must be taken in the following order:

1. The Committee of the Whole Senate.
2. A Standing Committee.

[Statutes of Nevada 1983, 2105]

50

Return from Committee.

Any bill or other matter referred to a committee of the Senate shall not be withdrawn or ordered taken from such committee for consideration by the Senate, recommitment, or for any other reason without a two-thirds vote of the Senate, and at least one day's notice of the motion therefor. No such motion shall be in order on the last day of the session, or on the day preceding the last day of the session. Nothing in this rule shall be construed to take from any committee the rights and duties of committees provided for in Rule 43 of Senate Standing Rules.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1869]

51

Reserved.

Reserved.

Committee Rules.

1. The rules of the Senate, as far as applicable, are the rules of committees of the Senate; and procedure in committees, where not otherwise provided in this rule, shall follow the procedure of the Senate. For matters not included in the rules of the Senate or these rules, Mason's Manual shall be followed.

2. A majority of any committee constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business.

3. A meeting of a committee shall not be opened without a quorum present.

4. In addition to regularly scheduled meetings or those called by the chairman, meetings may be set by a written petition of a majority of a committee and filed with the chairman of a committee.

5. A bill may be passed from a committee only by a majority of the committee membership. A simple majority of those present and voting is sufficient to adopt committee amendments. A committee shall not recommend a bill for placement on the consent calendar if it makes any substantive change in the law or if an amendment of the bill is recommended.

6. Subcommittees may be appointed by committee chairmen to consider subjects specified by the committee and shall report back to the committee.

7. A committee shall act only when together, and all votes shall be taken in the presence of the committee. A member shall not be recorded as voting unless he was actually present in the committee at the time of the vote. The chairman shall vote on all final actions on bills or resolutions.

8. All committee and subcommittee meetings are open to the public, except that a meeting may be closed if, in an open meeting of the committee or subcommittee, two-thirds of the members determine that such action is in the public interest and vote to close the meeting for the hearing of specified testimony. Final action on a bill or resolution shall not be taken at a closed meeting.

9. Before reporting a bill or resolution to the Senate, a committee may reconsider its action. A motion to reconsider must be made by a member who voted with the prevailing side.

10. Committee chairmen shall determine the agenda of each meeting except that committee members may request an item for the agenda by communicating with the chairman at least 4 days before the meeting. A majority of a committee may, by vote, add an item to the agenda of the next regularly scheduled meeting.

11. Secretaries to committees shall give notice of hearings on bills to anyone requesting notices of particular bills.

12. All committees shall keep minutes of meetings. The minutes shall cover members present and absent, subjects under discussion, witnesses who appear, committee members' statements concerning legislative intent, action taken by the committee, as well as the vote of individual members on all matters on which a vote is taken. Any member may submit to the secretary additional remarks to be included in the minutes and records of committee meetings. At the conclusion of the legislative session, the Secretary of the Senate shall deliver all minutes and records of committee meetings in her possession to the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau.

13. In addition to the minutes, the committee secretary shall maintain a record of all bills, including:

- (a) Date bill referred;
- (b) Date bill received;
- (c) Date set for hearing the bill;
- (d) Date or dates bill heard and voted upon; and
- (e) Date report prepared.

14. Each committee secretary shall file the minutes of each meeting with the Secretary of the Senate within 2 weeks after the meeting.

15. All committee minutes are open to public inspection upon request and during normal business hours.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1927]

Review of State Agency Programs.

In addition to or concurrent with committee action taken on specific bills and resolutions during a regular session of the legislature, each standing committee of the Senate is encouraged to plan and conduct a general review of selected programs of state agencies or other areas of public interest within the committee's jurisdiction.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1977]

The next rule is 60.

VI. RULES GOVERNING MOTIONS

A. Motions Generally

60

Entertaining.

No motion shall be debated until announced by the President. It shall be reduced to writing and read by the Secretary, if desired by the President or any Senator, before it shall be debated, and by consent of the Senate may be withdrawn before amendment or decision.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1870]

Precedence of Motions.

When a question is under debate no motion shall be received but the following, which shall have precedence in the order named:

1. To adjourn.
2. For a call of the Senate.
3. To lay on the table.
4. For the previous question.
5. To postpone to a day certain.
6. To commit.
7. To amend.
8. To postpone indefinitely.

The first four shall be decided without debate.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1870]

62

When Not Entertained.

When a motion to commit, to postpone to a day certain, or to postpone indefinitely has been decided, it shall not be again entertained on the same day and at the same stage of proceedings, and when a question has been postponed indefinitely it shall not again be introduced during the session except this rule be suspended by a two-thirds vote, and there shall be no reconsideration of a vote on a motion to indefinitely postpone.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1871]

B. Particular Motions

63

To Adjourn.

A motion to adjourn shall always be in order. The name of the Senator moving to adjourn, and the time when the motion was made, shall be entered on the Journal.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1871]

64

Lay on the Table.

A motion to lay on or take from the table shall be carried by a majority vote.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1871]

65

Reserved.

66

To Strike Enacting Clause.

A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill or resolution shall have precedence of a motion to commit or amend, and if carried shall be equivalent to its rejection.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1871]

Division of Question.

Any Senator may call for a division of a question, which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Senate; but a motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1871]

68

To Reconsider—Precedence of.

A motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn; and when the Senate adjourns while a motion to reconsider is pending, or before passing the order of Motions and Resolutions, the right to move a reconsideration shall continue to the next day of sitting. No notice of reconsideration of any final vote shall be in order on the day preceding the last day of the session.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1871]

69

Explanation of Motion.

Whenever a Senator moves to take a bill off general file and return it to the Secretary's desk or to make any other disposition of a bill that has been reported out of committee, he shall describe the subject of the bill, explain the purpose of his motion and state the reasons for his requesting the change in the processing of the bill.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1928]

The next rule is 80.

VII. DEBATE

Speaking on Question.

Every Senator when he speaks, shall, standing in his place, address "Mr. President," in a courteous manner, and shall confine himself to the question before the Senate, and when he has finished, shall sit down. No Senator shall speak more than twice (except for explanation) during the consideration of any one question on the same day, nor a second time without leave when others who have not spoken desire the floor; but incidental and subsidiary questions arising during debate shall not be considered the same question.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1871]

81

Previous Question.

The previous question shall not be put unless demanded by three Senators, and it shall be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" When sustained by a majority of Senators present it shall put an end to all debate and bring the Senate to a vote on the question or questions before it, and all incidental questions arising after the motion was made shall be decided without debate. A person who is speaking on a question shall not while he has the floor move to put that question.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1928]

The next rule is 90.

VIII. CONDUCT OF BUSINESS

A. Generally

90

Mason's Manual.

The rules of parliamentary practice contained in Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure shall govern the Senate in all cases in which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Senate, and the joint rules of the Senate and Assembly.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1872]

Suspension of Rule.

No standing rule or order of the Senate shall be rescinded or changed without a vote of two-thirds of the Senate and one day's notice of the motion therefor; but a rule or order may be temporarily suspended for a special purpose by a vote of two-thirds of the members present. When the suspension of a rule is called for, and after due notice from the President no objection is offered, he can announce the rule suspended and the Senate may proceed accordingly; but this shall not apply to that portion of Senate Standing Rule No. 109 relating to the third reading of bills, which cannot be suspended; and further, this rule shall not apply to the suspension of Senate Standing Rule No. 50.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1872]

Notices of Bills, Topics and Public Hearings.

Adequate notice shall be provided to the legislators and the public by posting information relative to the bills, topics and public hearings which are to come before committees. Notices shall include the date, time, place and agenda, and shall be posted conspicuously in the legislative building, shall appear in the daily history, and shall be made available to the news media.

This requirement of notice may be suspended for an emergency by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the committee members appointed.

[Statutes of Nevada 1977, 1677]

93

Protest.

Any Senator, or Senators, may protest against the action of the Senate upon any question, and have such protest entered upon the Journal.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1872]

94

Privilege of the Floor.

No person, except state officers and officers and members of the Senate and Assembly, shall be admitted within the bar of the Senate, except by special invitation on the part of some member; and a majority may authorize the President to have the Senate Chamber cleared of all persons except Senators and officers of the Senate; and the Senate Chamber shall not be used for any but legislative business except by permission given by a two-thirds vote.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1873]

Material Placed on Legislator's Desks.

All papers, letters, notes, pamphlets and other written material placed upon a Senator's desk must contain the name of the legislator requesting the placement of such material on the desk or contain a designation of the origin of such material. This rule does not apply to books containing the legislative bills and resolutions, the legislative daily histories, the legislative daily journals, or Legislative Counsel Bureau material.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1929]

96

Reserved.

97

Petitions and Memorials.

The contents of any petition or memorial shall be briefly stated by the President or any Senator presenting it. It shall then lie on the table or be referred, as the President or Senate may direct.

102

Objection to Reading of Paper.

Where the reading of any paper is called for, and is objected to by any Senator, it shall be determined by a vote of the Senate, and without debate.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1873]

103

Questions Relating to Priority of Business.

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided without debate.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1873]

B. Bills

104

Reserved.

105

Reserved.

106

Skeleton Bills.

The introduction of skeleton bills is authorized after the beginning of a session when, in the opinion of the sponsor and the legislative counsel, the full drafting of the bill would entail extensive research or be of considerable length. A skeleton bill will be provided for purposes of introduction and committee referral. Such bill will be a presentation of ideas or statements of purpose, sufficient in style and expression to enable the legislature and the committee to which the bill may be referred to consider the substantive merits of the legislation proposed. The committee, if it treats the skeleton bill favorably, shall then request the draft of a completed bill in such detail as would afford the committee the opportunity of considering the legislative ideas proposed in context with all their necessary ramifications.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1874]

Information Concerning Bills.

Bills introduced may be accompanied by information relative to witnesses and selected persons of departments and agencies who should be considered for committee hearings on the proposed legislation. At the time of introduction of a bill, a list may be given to the Secretary of witnesses who are proponents of the measure together with their addresses and telephone numbers. This information may be provided by:

(a) The Senator introducing the bill;

(b) The person requesting a committee introduction of the bill; or

(c) The chairman of a committee introducing the bill. The Secretary shall deliver this information to the chairman of the committee to which the bill is referred. Members of the committee may suggest additional names for witnesses. The legislator may provide an analysis which may describe the intent, purpose, justification and effects of the bill, or any of them.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1929]

108

Reserved.

109

Reading of Bills.

At least one day's notice shall be given of the introduction of a bill unless by consent of two-thirds of the Senate, or the bill be presented by a committee in the discharge of its duty. Every bill shall receive three readings previous to its passage, unless, in case of emergency, two-thirds of the Senate shall deem it expedient to dispense with this rule. The President shall give notice at each whether it be first, second, or third reading. The first reading of the bill shall be for information, and if opposition be made to it, the question shall be, "Shall this bill be rejected?" If no opposition be made, or if the question to reject be negatived, the bill shall then take the usual course. No bill shall be committed until once read, nor amended until twice read. The third reading of every bill shall be by sections.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1874]

Second Reading File—Consent Calendar.

1. All bills reported by committee shall be placed on a second reading file unless recommended for placement on the consent calendar. Senate bills recommended for placement on the consent calendar must be engrossed upon receipt by the Secretary of the committee's recommendation. Upon the request of any Senator, at any time before the consent calendar is called, a bill placed on the consent calendar shall be transferred to the second reading file.

2. When the consent calendar is called, the bills remaining on the consent calendar shall be read by number and summary, and the vote shall be taken on their final passage as a group.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1979]

111

Printing.

One thousand copies of all bills and resolutions of general interest shall be printed for the use of the Senate and Assembly, and two hundred and fifty copies of such as are of only local interest; also such other matter shall be printed as may be ordered by the Senate.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1875]

Reserved.

113

Reading of Bills—General File.

All bills on the second reading file shall be read in the order in which they are reported by committees. Upon reading of bills on the second reading file, Senate bills reported without amendments shall be engrossed and placed on the general file, and Assembly bills reported without amendments shall be placed on the general file. Committee amendments reported with bills shall be considered upon their second reading and such amendments may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present. Senate bills so amended shall be reprinted, engrossed, and placed on the general file, and Assembly bills so amended shall be reprinted, reengrossed and placed on the general file. Engrossed bills shall be placed at the head of the file in the order in which they are reported engrossed, except general appropriation bills, which shall be at the head of the file. The file, with each bill in order, shall be conspicuously posted in the Senate Chamber each day by the Secretary.

Any member may move to amend a bill during its reading on the second reading file or during its third reading and the motion to amend may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present. Bills so amended on second reading shall be treated the same as bills with committee amendments. Any bill so amended upon the general file shall be reprinted and reengrossed.

The reprinting of amended bills may be dispensed with only in accordance with the provisions of law. Unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, one thousand copies of all amended bills shall be printed.

[Statutes of Nevada 1977, 1652]

114

Commitment of Bill with Special Instructions.

A bill may be committed with special instructions to amend at any time before taking the final vote.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1875]

Reconsideration of Vote on Bill.

On the day next succeeding the final vote on any bill, said vote may be reconsidered on motion of any member, provided notice of intention to move a reconsideration was given on the day such final vote was taken, by a Senator who voted on that side which prevailed, and no motion to reconsider shall be in order on the day such final vote was taken, except by unanimous consent. Motions to reconsider a vote upon amendments to any pending question may be made and decided at once.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1876]

116

Reserved.

117

Different Subject Not Admitted as Amendment.

No subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted as an amendment; and no bill or resolution shall be amended by incorporating any irrelevant subject matter or by association or annexing any other bill or resolution pending in the Senate, but a substitute may be offered at any time so long as the original is open to amendment.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1876]

C. Resolutions

118

Treated as Bills.

Resolutions addressed to Congress, or to either House thereof, or to the President of the United States, or the heads of any of the national departments, or proposing amendments to the State Constitution are subject, in all respects, to the foregoing rules governing the course of bills. A joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution shall be entered in the journal in its entirety.

[Statutes of Nevada 1977, 1757]

119

Treated as Motions.

Resolutions, other than those referred to in Rule 118, shall be treated as motions in all proceedings of the Senate.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1876]

Order of Business.

1. Roll Call.
 2. Prayer by the Chaplain.
 3. Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.
 4. Reading and Approval of the Journal.
 5. Report of Standing Committees.
 6. Messages from the Governor.
 7. Messages from the Assembly.
 8. Communications from State Officers.
 9. Motions, Resolutions and Notices.
 10. Introduction, First Reading and Reference of Bills.
 11. Consent Calendar.
 12. Second Reading and Amendment of Bills.
 13. Business on General File.
 14. Unfinished Business.
 15. Special Orders of the Day.
 16. Remarks from the Floor, Introduction of Guests.
- [Statutes of Nevada 1985, 2319]

Privilege.

Any Senator may rise and explain a matter personal to himself by leave of the President, but he shall not discuss any pending question in such explanation.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1877]

Reserved.

Reserved.

Preference to Speak.

When two or more Senators rise at the same time the President shall name the one who may first speak—giving preference, when practicable, to the mover or introducer of the subject under consideration.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1877]

Special Order.

The President shall call the Senate to order on the arrival of the time fixed for the consideration of a special order, and announce that the special order is before the Senate, which shall be considered, unless it be postponed by a two-thirds vote, and any business before the Senate at the time of the announcement of the special order shall go to Unfinished Business.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1877]

126

Reserved.

127

Messages.

Messages from the Governor, state officers and from the Assembly may be considered at any time by a vote of the Senate.

D. Contests of Election

Procedure.

1. The Senate shall not dismiss a statement of contest for want of form if any ground of contest is alleged with sufficient certainty to inform the defendant of the charges he is required to meet. The following grounds are sufficient, but are not exclusive:

(a) That the election board or any member thereof was guilty of malfeasance.

(b) That a person who has been declared elected to an office was not at the time of election eligible to that office.

(c) That illegal votes were cast and counted for the defendant, which, if taken from him, will reduce the number of his legal votes below the number necessary to elect him.

(d) That the election board, in conducting the election or in canvassing the returns, made errors sufficient to change the result of the election as to any person who has been declared elected.

(e) That the defendant has given, or offered to give, to any person a bribe for the purpose of procuring his election.

(f) That there was a possible malfunction of any voting or counting device.

2. The contest must be submitted so far as may be possible upon depositions or by written or oral arguments as the Senate may order. Any party to a contest may take the deposition of any witness at any time after the statement of contest is filed with the secretary of state and before the contest is finally decided. At least 5 days' notice must be given to the prospective deponent and to the other party. If oral statements are made at any hearing before the Senate or a committee thereof which purport to establish matters of fact, they must be made under oath. Strict rules of evidence do not apply.

3. The contestant has the burden of proving that any irregularities shown were of such nature as to establish the probability that the result of the election was changed thereby. After consideration of all the evidence, the Senate shall declare the defendant elected unless the Senate finds from the evidence that a person other than the defendant received the greatest number of legal votes, in which case the Senate shall declare that person elected.

[Statutes of Nevada 1981, 2145]

The next rule is 140.

IX. LEGISLATIVE INVESTIGATIONS

140

Compensation of Witnesses.

Witnesses summoned to appear before the Senate, or any of its committees, shall be compensated as provided by law for witnesses required to attend in the courts of the State of Nevada.

ASSEMBLY STANDING RULES

ASSEMBLY STANDING RULES

[Current through adjournment sine die of the 1985 legislative session]

I. OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Speaker of the Assembly.

1. All officers of the Assembly are subordinate to the Speaker in all that relates to the prompt, efficient and correct discharge of their official duties under his supervision.

2. Possessing the powers and performing the duties described in this rule, the Speaker shall:

(a) Take the chair at the hour to which the Assembly stands adjourned, call the members to order, and upon the appearance of a quorum, proceed to business.

(b) Preserve order and decorum and have general direction of the chamber of the Assembly and the approaches thereto, and in the event of any disturbance or disorderly conduct therein, order the same to be cleared.

(c) Decide all questions of order, subject to a member's right to appeal to the Assembly. On appeal from such decisions, the Speaker has the right, in his place, to assign the reason for his decision.

(d) Have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond one legislative day.

(e) When the Assembly resolves itself into Committee of the Whole, name a chairman to preside thereover and call him to the chair.

(f) Have the power to accredit the persons who act as representatives of the press, radio and television, and assign them seats.

(g) Sign all bills and resolutions passed by the legislature as provided by law.

(h) Sign all subpoenas issued by the Assembly or any committee thereof.

(i) Receive all messages and communications from other departments of the government and announce them to the Assembly.

(j) Represent the Assembly, declare its will and in all things obey its commands.

(k) Vote on final passage of a bill or resolution, but he shall not be required to vote in ordinary legislative proceedings except where his vote would be decisive. In all aye and no votes, the Speaker's name shall be called last.

3. If a vacancy occurs in the office of Speaker, through death, resignation or disability of the Speaker, the Speaker pro Tempore shall temporarily and for the period of vacancy or disability conduct the necessary business of the Assembly.

4. If a permanent vacancy occurs in the office of Speaker, the Assembly shall select a new Speaker.

Time of Meeting.

The Assembly shall meet each day at 11 a.m., unless the Assembly adjourns to some other hour.

[Statutes of Nevada 1975, 1857]

Open Meetings.

All meetings of the Assembly and its standing committees shall be open to the public.

The next rule is 20.

III. DECORUM AND DEBATE

Points of Order.

If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of the Assembly, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain; and if called to order by a member, such member shall immediately state the point of order. If the point of order be sustained by the Speaker, the member shall not be allowed to proceed; but if it be not sustained, then he shall be permitted to go on. Every such decision from the Speaker shall be subject to an appeal to the house; but no discussion of the question of order shall be allowed unless an appeal be taken from the decision of the Speaker.

Committee on Ethics.

1. The Committee on Ethics consists of:
 - (a) Two members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker from the majority political party;
 - (b) One member of the Assembly appointed by the Minority Leader from the minority political party; and
 - (c) Two qualified electors of the state, neither of whom is a present or former member of the legislature or employed by the State of Nevada.
2. The speaker shall appoint two members of the Assembly, one from the majority political party and one from the minority political party to serve as alternate members of the committee. If a member is disqualified, the alternate appointed from the same political party shall serve as a member of the committee during the consideration of a specific question.
3. A member is disqualified if he is the requester of advice concerning a question of ethics or conflict of interest, or if the advice is requested by another member of the Assembly and a reasonable person in his situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.
4. The committee shall hear complaints on alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest, brought by legislators and others, and it may advise legislators on questions of breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest. All proceedings by the committee on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest are confidential unless a legislator:

- (a) Against whom a complaint is brought requests a public hearing;
- (b) Discloses the opinion of the committee at any time after his hearing; or
- (c) Discloses the content of an advisory opinion issued to him by the committee.

5. A complaint which alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest shall be in writing and signed by the person making the allegation. The complaint shall be filed with the chairman and he shall send a copy of the complaint, within 24 hours after receiving it, to the legislator against whom the complaint is brought.

6. The criterion to be applied by the committee in determining whether a legislator has a conflict of interest is whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his position upon the matter in question would be materially affected by:

- (a) His acceptance of a gift or loan; or
- (b) His private economic interest.

7. A legislator who determines that he has a conflict of interest may vote upon, advocate or oppose any measure as to which a potential conflict exists if he makes a general disclosure of such conflict.

[Statutes of Nevada 1977, 1706]

The next rule is 30.

IV. QUORUM, VOTING, ELECTIONS

30

Manner of Voting.

1. The Speaker shall declare all votes but the ayes and noes shall be taken when called for by three members present, and the names of those calling for the ayes and noes shall be entered in the Journal by the Chief Clerk.

2. The Speaker shall call for ayes and noes by a division or by a roll call, either electronic or oral.

3. When taking the ayes and noes on any question, the electronic roll call system may be used, and when so used shall have the force and effect of any roll call under these rules.

4. When taking the ayes and noes by oral roll call, the Chief Clerk shall take the names of members alphabetically except that the Speaker shall be called last.

5. The electronic roll call system may be used to determine the presence of a quorum.

6. The ayes and noes shall not be taken with the electronic roll call system until all members present are at their desks. The Speaker and the Speaker pro Tempore may vote at their desks or at the rostrum.

7. Only a member, certified by the Committee on Credentials of the Assembly, may cast a vote in the Assembly. A member shall not vote for another member on any roll call, either electronic or oral. Any member who votes for another member may be punished in any manner deemed appropriate by the Assembly.

[Statutes of Nevada 1975, 1879]

32

Announcement of the Vote.

1. A member may change his vote at any time before the announcement of the vote if the voting is by voice, or at any time before the votes are electronically recorded if the voting is conducted electronically.

2. The announcement of the result of any vote shall not be postponed.

[Statutes of Nevada 1975, 1876]

33

Voting by Division.

Upon a division and count of the Assembly on any question, no person without the bar shall be counted.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1887]

The next rule is 40.

V. LEGISLATIVE BODIES

40

Standing Committees.

The standing committees of the Assembly are as follows:

1. Ways and Means, thirteen members.
2. Judiciary, thirteen members.
3. Taxation, eleven members.
4. Elections, seven members.
5. Education, nine members.
6. Legislative Functions, seven members.
7. Natural Resources, Agriculture and Mining, seven members.
8. Labor and Management, nine members.
9. Transportation, nine members.
10. Commerce, thirteen members.
11. Economic Development and Tourism, nine members.
12. Health and Welfare, seven members.
13. Government Affairs, thirteen members.

[Statutes of Nevada 1985, 2315]

41

Appointment of Committees.

Except as otherwise provided in Rule 23, all committees must be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise directed by the Assembly. The Speaker shall designate the chairman and vice-chairman of each committee.

[Statutes of Nevada 1985, 2315]

42

Committee Action.

The committee shall have regular meetings scheduled by the Assembly leadership. A quorum of the committee is a majority of its members and may transact business except as limited by this rule. Motions may be moved, seconded and passed by voice vote by a simple majority of those present, except that definite action on a bill or resolution will require a majority of the entire committee. A two-thirds majority of all the committee is required to reconsider action on a bill or resolution. Committee introduction requires concurrence of two-thirds of the committee and does not imply commitment to support final passage. The Chairman shall vote on all final action regarding bills or resolutions. No member of the committee may vote by proxy under any circumstances.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1903]

Subcommittees.

Subcommittees made up of committee members may be appointed by the chairman to consider and report back on specific subjects or bills.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1903]

Committee on Legislative Functions.

The Committee on Legislative Functions has jurisdiction over matters relating to personnel. It shall recommend by resolution the appointment of all attachés and employees of the Assembly not otherwise provided for by law. It may suspend or remove any such attaché or employee for incompetency or dereliction of duty. It shall function as the Committee on Rules and as the Committee on Credentials of the Assembly.

[Statutes of Nevada 1985, 2316]

45

Reports of Committees.

All bills, resolutions, or other matter referred to any committee shall be reported back by such committee to the Assembly, together with the action of the committee thereon, as soon as practicable after such reference.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1885]

Committee Action on Reports.

Committee reports shall be adopted at a committee session actually assembled and meeting as a committee with a quorum present. Every committee vote on a matter pertaining to a bill or resolution shall be recorded. The vote may be taken by roll call at the discretion of the chairman.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1903]

47

Committee Records.

The chairman of each committee shall keep, or cause to be kept, a complete record of the committee proceedings in which there shall be entered:

1. The time and place of each meeting;
2. The attendance and absence of members;
3. The names of all persons appearing before the committee, with the names of persons, firms, corporations or associations in whose behalf such appearance is made; and
4. The subjects or measures considered and action taken.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1903]

48

Disposition of Committee Records.

All minutes, records and documents in the possession of committees and their chairmen shall be filed in the offices of the Legislative Counsel Bureau upon adjournment sine die.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1904]

49

Committee Hearings.

Public hearings shall be held on important bills and other matters of high public interest. Presence of a quorum of the committee is desirable but not required. Public hearings are opened by the chairman who announces the subject under consideration and provides for those wishing to address the committee to be heard. These persons shall rise in an order determined by the chairman, address the chair, furnish their names, addresses and firms or other organizations represented. Committee members may address the chairman for permission to question the witness. When all persons present have been heard, the chairman may declare the public hearing closed on the matter before proceeding to other matters.

52

Concurrent Referrals.

When a bill or resolution is referred to two committees the bill or resolution will go to the first committee named, where it will be acted upon; then, the bill or resolution will pass to the second committee named, and that committee will pass upon it. If the first committee votes to amend the bill or resolution, it shall be reprinted with amendments and then sent immediately to the next committee. If there is no amendment proposed by the first committee, the bill or resolution shall be sent with the committee recommendation immediately to the second committee. If one committee reports unfavorably and the other favorably, the bill or resolution will not be reported to the Assembly. However, the committee which votes not to report the bill or resolution out with favorable recommendation shall report to the Assembly in regular session, stating the reasons for not approving the bill or resolution.

[Statutes of Nevada 1975, 1909]

The next rule is 60.

VI. RULES GOVERNING MOTIONS

60

Entertaining.

No motion shall be debated until the same be distinctly announced by the Speaker; and it shall be reduced to writing, if desired by the Speaker or any member, and be read by the Chief Clerk before the same shall be debated. A motion may be withdrawn by the maker at any time before amendment or before the motion is put to vote.

Particular Motions

63

Reserved.

64

Reserved.

65

Indefinite Postponement.

When a question is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be considered again during the session and the question shall not be subject to a motion for reconsideration.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1889]

66

To Strike Enacting Clause.

A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill or resolution shall not take precedence over any other subsidiary motion. If the motion is carried, it shall be considered equivalent to the rejection of such bill or resolution.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1889]

Division of Question.

Any member may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided, if it comprehend propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Assembly. A motion to strike out being lost shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1889]

68

To Reconsider—Precedence Of.

A motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn, or to fix the time to which to adjourn; and when the Assembly adjourns, while a motion to reconsider is pending, or before passing the order of Motions and Resolutions, the right to move a reconsideration shall continue to the next day of sitting. No notice of reconsideration of any final vote shall be in order on the day preceding the last day of the session.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1890]

The next rule is 80.

80

Speaking on Question.

No member shall speak more than twice during the consideration of any one question, on the same day, and at the same stage of proceedings, without leave. Members who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) to the exclusion of others who have not spoken.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1890]

81

Previous Question.

The previous question shall be put only when demanded by three members. The previous question shall not be moved by the member last speaking on the question.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1890]

The next rule is 90.

VIII. CONDUCT OF BUSINESS

A. Rules and Procedure

90

Mason's Manual.

The rules of parliamentary practice contained in Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure shall govern the Assembly in all cases in which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the Standing Rules and orders of the Assembly, and the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1890]

Suspension of Rule.

No standing rule or order of the Assembly shall be rescinded or changed without a vote of two-thirds of the members elected, and one day's notice being given of the motion therefor; but a rule or order may be suspended temporarily by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1890]

Notices of Bills, Topics and Public Hearings.

All committees shall provide notice of public hearings on bills, resolutions or topics of high public importance at least 5 calendar days before such hearings. Notice shall also be provided for all other committee meetings at least 24 hours in advance of such meetings. Notices in all cases shall include the date, time, place and agenda to be covered and shall be posted conspicuously in the legislative building, appear in the daily history and be made available to the press.

The noticing requirements of this rule may be suspended for emergency situations but only after approval by a two-thirds vote of a committee.

[Statutes of Nevada 1975, 1915]

93

Reserved.

94

Privilege of the Floor and Lobbying.

No person, except Senators, former Assemblymen and state officers, may be admitted at the bar of the Assembly, except by special invitation on the part of some member; but a majority may authorize the Speaker to have the Assembly cleared of all such persons. No person may do any lobbying upon the floor of the Assembly at any time, and it is the duty of the Sergeant at Arms to remove any person violating any of the provisions of this rule.

[Statutes of Nevada 1983, 2152]

Material Placed on Legislators' Desks.

All papers, letters, notes, pamphlets and other written material placed upon an assemblyman's desk shall contain the signature of the legislator requesting the placement of such material on the desk or shall contain a designation of the origin of such material. This rule does not apply to books containing the legislative bills and resolutions, the legislative daily histories, the legislative daily journals or Legislative Counsel Bureau material.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1891]

96

Peddling and Soliciting.

Peddling, begging and soliciting are strictly forbidden in the Assembly Chamber, and in the lobby, gallery and halls adjacent thereto, and no part of said chamber or halls shall be used for, or occupied by signs or other devices for any kind of advertising.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1891]

Petitions and Memorials.

Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the Assembly, shall be presented by the Speaker, or by a member in his place. A brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made verbally by the introducer. They shall not be debated on the day of their being presented, but shall be on the table, or be referred, as the Assembly shall determine.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1891]

98

Request of Purpose.

A member may request the purpose of a bill or joint resolution upon its introduction.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1891]

Remarks.

It shall be in order for members to make remarks and to have such remarks entered in the Journal.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1891]

100

Precedence of Parliamentary Authority.

The precedence of parliamentary authority in the Assembly shall be as follows:

1. The Constitution of the State of Nevada.
2. The Statutes of the State of Nevada.
3. The Standing Rules of the Assembly and the Joint Standing Rules of the Senate and Assembly.
4. Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure.

105

Substitute Bills.

A substitute bill shall be deemed and held to be an amendment, and treated in all respects as such. However, a substitute bill may be amended after its adoption, in the same manner as if it were an original bill.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1893]

Skeleton Bills.

The introduction of skeleton bills is authorized after the beginning of a session when, in the opinion of the sponsor and the legislative counsel, the full drafting of the bill would entail extensive research or be of considerable length. A skeleton bill will be provided for purposes of introduction and committee referral. Such bill will be a presentation of ideas or statements of purpose, sufficient in style and expression to enable the legislature and the committee to which the bill may be referred to consider the substantive merits of the legislation proposed. The committee, if it treats the skeleton bill favorably, shall then request the draft of a completed bill in such detail as would afford the committee the opportunity of considering the legislative ideas proposed in context with all their necessary ramifications.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1893]

Reserved.

108

Committee Referral.

After a bill or resolution is introduced, unless the Assembly acts upon it without referral, it must lie on the Chief Clerk's desk until the next legislative day before it may be referred to a committee.

[Statutes of Nevada 1985, 2316]

109

Reading of Bills.

The Speaker shall announce at each reading of a bill whether it be the first, second or third reading. The first reading of a bill shall be for information. If there is objection, the question shall be, "Shall the bill be rejected?" If the question to reject fails to receive a majority vote by the members present, or if there is no objection, the bill shall take the proper course. No bill shall be referred to a committee until after the first reading, nor amended until after the second reading.

[Statutes of Nevada 1973, 1894]

Second Reading and Amendment of Bills.

All bills shall be read the second time on the first legislative day after which they are reported by committee, unless a different day is designated by motion. Upon second reading, Assembly bills reported without amendments shall be engrossed and placed on the General File and Senate bills reported without amendments shall be placed on the General File. Committee amendments reported with bills shall be considered upon their second reading, and such amendments may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present. Any amendment which is numbered, copied and made available to all members shall be moved and voted upon by number unless any member moves that it be read in full. Assembly bills so amended shall be reprinted, engrossed, and placed on the General File, and Senate bills so amended shall be reprinted, reengrossed, and placed on the General File.

Any member may move to amend a bill during its second or third reading, and such motion to amend may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present. Bills so amended on second reading shall be treated the same as bills with committee amendments. Any bill so amended upon the General File shall be reprinted and reengrossed.

The reprinting of amended bills may be dispensed with only in accordance with the provision of law.

[Statutes of Nevada 1975, 1915]

Consent Calendar Procedures.

1. On or before the 80th calendar day of a regular session, a standing committee may by unanimous vote of the members present report a bill with the recommendation that it be placed on the consent calendar. The question of recommending a bill for the consent calendar may be voted upon in committee only after the bill has been recommended for passage and only if no amendment is recommended. If the bill is an Assembly bill, it shall be engrossed upon receipt by the Chief Clerk of the committee's recommendation.

2. The Chief Clerk shall maintain a list of bills recommended for the consent calendar. The list shall be printed in the daily history and shall include the summary of each bill, and the date the bill is scheduled for consideration on final passage.

3. Unless postponed by motion, the consent calendar shall be considered on Monday and Thursday. A bill reported on Friday to Monday, inclusive, is eligible to be considered on the following Thursday; a bill reported on Tuesday to Thursday, inclusive, is eligible to be considered on the following Monday.

4. At any time before the presiding officer calls for a vote on the passage of the consent calendar, a member may give written notice to the Chief Clerk or state orally from the floor of the Assembly in session that he objects to the inclusion of a particular bill on the consent calendar. If a member so objects, the Chief Clerk shall remove the bill from the consent calendar and transfer it to the second reading file. A bill removed from the consent calendar shall not be restored to that calendar.

5. During floor consideration of the consent calendar, members may ask questions and offer explanations relating to the respective bills.

6. When the consent calendar is brought to a vote, the bills remaining on the consent calendar shall be read by number and the vote shall be taken on their final passage as a group.

General File.

All bills reported to the Assembly, by either standing or special committees, after receiving their second readings shall be placed upon a General File, to be kept by the Chief Clerk. No bill shall be considered by the Assembly until the regular order of business shall have been gone through. Then bills shall be taken from the General File and acted upon in the order in which they were reported, unless otherwise specially ordered by the Assembly. But engrossed bills shall be placed at the head of the file, in the order in which they are received. The Chief Clerk shall post, in a conspicuous place in the Chamber, a daily statement of the bills on the General File, setting forth the order in which they are filed, and specifying the alterations arising from the disposal of business each day. He shall likewise post notices of special orders as made.

115

Reconsideration of Vote on Bill.

On the first legislative day that the Assembly is in session succeeding that on which a final vote on any bill or resolution has been taken, a vote may be reconsidered on the motion of any member. Notice of intention to move such reconsideration shall be given on the day on which such final vote was taken by a member voting with the prevailing party. It shall not be in order for any member to move a reconsideration on the day on which such final vote was taken, except by unanimous consent. But there shall be no reconsideration of a vote on a motion to indefinitely postpone. Motions to reconsider a vote upon amendments to any pending question may be made at once.

Vetoed Bills.

Bills which have passed both houses of the Legislature and are transmitted to the Assembly accompanied by a message or statement of the Governor's disapproval or veto of the same, shall be taken up and considered immediately upon the coming in of the message transmitting the same, or shall become the subject of a special order, and when the message is received, or (if made a special order) when the special order is called, the said message or statement shall be read together with the bill or bills so disapproved or vetoed; and the message and bill shall be read by the Chief Clerk without interruption, consecutively, one following the other, and not upon separate occasions; and no such bill or message shall be referred to any committee, or otherwise acted upon save as provided by law and custom; that is to say, that immediately following such reading the only question (except as hereinafter stated) which shall be put by the Speaker is, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" It shall not be in order, at any time, to vote upon such vetoed bill without the same shall first have been read, from the first word of its title to and including the last word of its final section; and no motion shall be entertained after the Speaker has stated the question, save a motion to adjourn or a motion for the previous question, but the merits of the bill itself may be debated. The message or statement containing the objections of the Governor to the bill shall be entered upon the Journal of the Assembly. The consideration of a vetoed bill, and the objections of the Governor thereto, shall be a privileged question, and shall take precedence over all others.

JOINT RULES

JOINT RULES

[Current through adjournment sine die of the 1985 legislative session]

COMMITTEES OF CONFERENCE

To Be Appointed by One House at Request of the Other.

In every case of an amendment of a bill, or joint or concurrent resolution, agreed to in one house, dissented from in the other, and not receded from by the one making the amendment, each house shall appoint a committee to confer with a like committee to be appointed by the other; and the committee so appointed shall meet publicly at a convenient hour to be agreed upon by their respective chairmen and announced publicly, and shall confer upon the differences between the two houses as indicated by the amendments made in one and rejected in the other and report as early as convenient the result of their conference to their respective houses. The report shall be made available to all members of both houses. The whole subject matter embraced in the bill or resolution shall be considered by the committee, and it may recommend recession by either house, new amendments, new bills or resolutions, or other changes as it sees fit. New bills or resolutions so reported shall be treated as amendments unless the bills or resolutions are composed entirely of original matter, in which case they shall receive the treatment required in the respective houses for original bills, or resolutions, as the case may be.

The report of a conference committee may be adopted by acclamation, and such action may be considered equivalent to the adoption of amendments embodied therein. The report is not subject to amendment. If either house refuses to adopt the report, or if the first conference committee has so recommended, a second conference committee may be appointed. No member who served on the first committee may be appointed to the second.

There shall be but two committees of conference on any bill or resolution. A majority of the members of a committee of conference from each house must be members who voted for the passage of the bill or resolution.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 1964]

MESSAGES

Procedure Concerning.

Proclamations by the Governor convening the Legislature in extra session shall, by direction of the presiding officer of each House, be read immediately after the convening thereof, filed and entered in full upon the Journal of proceedings.

Whenever a message from the Governor is received the Sergeant at Arms will announce: "Mr. President, or Mr. Speaker, the Secretary of the Governor is at the bar." The secretary will, upon being recognized by the presiding officer, announce: "Mr. President, or Mr. Speaker, a message from His Excellency, the Governor of Nevada, to the Honorable, the Senate or Assembly," and hand same to the Sergeant at Arms for delivery to the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the Assembly. The presiding officer will direct the biennial message of the Governor to be received and read, and all special messages to be received, read and entered in full upon the Journal of proceedings.

Messages from the Senate to the Assembly shall be delivered by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary, and messages from the Assembly to the Senate shall be delivered by the Chief Clerk or Assistant Clerk, who shall be announced by the doorkeeper, enter within the bar, announce and deliver his message.

BILLS

Communications.

Each House shall communicate its final action on any bill or resolution, or matter in which the other may be interested, in writing, signed by the Secretary or Clerk of the House from which such notice is sent.

[Statutes of Nevada 1931, 410]

BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

Signature.

Each enrolled bill or joint resolution shall be presented to the presiding officers of both Houses for signature. They shall, after announcement is made of their intention to do so, sign it in open session and their signature shall be followed by those of the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

[Statutes of Nevada 1977, 1656]

Reserved.

PRINTING

Each House may order the printing of bills introduced, reports of its own committees, and other matter pertaining to that House only; but no other printing may be ordered except by a concurrent resolution passed by both Houses. Each Senator is entitled to the free distribution of 4 copies of each bill introduced in each House, and each Assemblyman to such a distribution of 2 copies. Additional copies of such bills may be distributed at a charge to the person to whom they are addressed of $70 for the cost of handling and postage for the entire session.

[Statutes of Nevada 1983, 2108]

RESOLUTIONS

1. A joint resolution must be used to:
 - (a) Propose an amendment to the Nevada constitution.
 - (b) Ratify a proposed amendment to the United States Constitution.
 - (c) Address the President of the United States, Congress, either House or any committee or member of Congress, any department or agency of the Federal Government, or any other state of the Union.
2. A concurrent resolution must be used to:
 - (a) Amend these joint rules.
 - (b) Request the return from the governor of an enrolled bill for further consideration.
 - (c) Express facts, principles, opinion and purposes of the Senate and Assembly.
 - (d) Establish a joint committee of the two Houses.
 - (e) Direct the legislative commission to conduct an interim study.
3. A concurrent resolution or a resolution of one House may be used to:
 - (a) Memorialize a former member of the legislature or other notable or distinguished person upon his death.
 - (b) Congratulate or commend any person or organization for a significant and meritorious accomplishment, but any request for drafting the resolution must be approved by the committee on legislative functions of the appropriate House before submission to the legislative counsel.
4. A resolution of one House must be used to request the return of a bill from the other House.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 2035]

VETOES

Special Order.

Bills which have passed a previous Legislature, and which are transmitted to the Legislature next sitting, accompanied by a message or statement of the Governor's disapproval, or veto of the same, shall become the subject of a special order; and when the special order for their consideration is reached and called, the said message or statement shall be read, together with the bill or bills so disposed or vetoed; and the message and bill shall be read by the Clerk without interruption, consecutively, one following the other, and not upon separate occasions; and no such bill or message shall be referred to any committee, or otherwise acted upon, save as provided by law and custom; that is to say, that immediately following such reading the only question (except as hereinafter stated) which shall be put by the Chair is, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" It shall not be in order, at any time, to vote upon such vetoed bill without the same shall have first been read, from the first word of its title to and including the last word of its final section; and no motion shall be entertained after the Chair has stated the question save a motion for "The previous question," but the merits of the bill itself may be debated.

[Statutes of Nevada 1920-21, 410]

ADJOURNMENT

1. In calculating the permissible duration of an adjournment for 3 days or less, the day of adjournment shall not be counted but the day of the next meeting shall be counted, and Sunday shall not be counted.

2. The Legislature may adjourn for more than 3 days by concurrent resolution. One or more such adjournments, for a total of not more than 20 days during any regular session, may be taken to permit standing committees, select committees or the Legislative Counsel Bureau to prepare the matters respectively entrusted to them for the consideration of the Legislature as a whole.

[Statutes of Nevada 1977, 1698]

EXPENDITURES FROM THE LEGISLATIVE FUND

Except for routine salary, travel, equipment, and operating expenses, no expenditures shall be made from the Legislative Fund without the authority of a Concurrent Resolution regularly adopted by the Senate and Assembly.

[Statutes of Nevada 1955, 956]

LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION

1. When members of the minority party in the Senate or in the Assembly comprise less than 34 percent of the total number elected to that house, minority party membership for that house on the Legislative Commission must be:

(a) One, if such membership is less than 21 percent.

(b) Two, if such membership is between 21 percent and 33 percent. If the members of the minority party in the Senate or in the Assembly comprise more than 33 percent of the total number elected to that house, minority party membership for that house on the Commission must be three, being equal to the membership of the majority party.

2. Each house shall select one or more alternate members for each member from that house, designating them according to party or according to the individual member whom the alternate would replace.

3. A vacancy in the regular Senate or Assembly membership created by death or by resignation or by the legislator's ceasing to be a member of the Legislature shall be filled by the proper alternate member as designated by that house. If there is no proper alternate member, the Legislative Commission shall fill the vacancy by appointing a senator or assemblyman of the same party.

4. If for any reason a member is or will be absent from a meeting and there are no alternates available, the chairman of the commission may appoint a member of the same house and political party to attend the meeting as an alternate.

5. The members shall serve until their successors are appointed by resolution as provided in NRS 218.660, notwithstanding that their terms of office may have expired, except that the membership of any member who does not become a candidate for reelection or who is defeated for reelection shall terminate on the day next after the election and the vacancy shall be filled as provided in this rule.

6. The chairman shall be selected at the first meeting of the newly formed Legislative Commission and shall serve until his successor is appointed following the formation of the next Legislative Commission.

[Statutes of Nevada 1981, 2147]

RECORDING COMMITTEE PROCEEDINGS ON AUDIO TAPE

1. Each standing committee of the legislature shall record on audio tape the proceedings of its meetings.

2. The secretary of a standing committee shall:

(a) Label each tape with the date, time and place of the meeting and also indicate on the label the numerical sequence in which the tape was recorded;

(b) Keep the tapes in chronological order; and

(c) Deposit the tapes immediately following the final adjournment of any regular or special session of the legislature with the director of the legislative counsel bureau.

3. The director of the legislative counsel bureau shall:

(a) Index the tapes;

(b) Make the tapes available for listening by any person during office hours under such reasonable conditions as he may deem necessary;

(c) Maintain a log as a public record containing the date, time, name and address of any person listening to any tapes and identifying the tapes listened to; and

(d) Retain the tapes for two bienniums and at the end of that period dispose of the tapes in any manner he deems reasonable.

[Statutes of Nevada 1979, 2012]

REAPPORTIONMENT

The Committee on Government Affairs of the Senate and the Committee on Elections of the Assembly are respectively responsible for measures which primarily affect the designation of the districts from which members are elected to the legislature. Any request for research concerning the population of proposed districts must be submitted to the research division of the legislative counsel bureau through one of these committees.

[Statutes of Nevada 1981, 2068]

LIMITATION ON INTRODUCTION AND REQUESTS FOR DRAFTING OF LEGISLATIVE MEASURES

1. After the first 20 calendar days of a regular legislative session, requests submitted to the legislative counsel for the drafting of bills and joint resolutions will not be honored by the legislative counsel unless the request is approved by:

(a) A two-thirds vote of the members present in the house where it is to be introduced; or

(b) A standing committee of that house if the request was approved by two-thirds of all the members of the committee.

2. After the first 20 calendar days of a regular legislative session, bills and joint resolutions may be introduced by:

(a) Standing committees without consent.

(b) A member who had requested the drafting of the bill or joint resolution by the legislative counsel before the 21st calendar day of the legislative session.

3. Consent to suspend this rule may be given only by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the house where it is to be introduced, which must be entered in its journal for that day, and the consent may apply to no more than one bill or joint resolution or request for drafting.

[Statutes of Nevada 1983, 2101]

Continuation of Leadership of the Senate and Assembly During the Interim Between Sessions.

The tenure of the president pro tem, majority leader and minority leader of the Senate and the speaker, speaker pro tem, majority leader and minority leader of the Assembly extends during the interim between regular sessions of the legislature and until the election of their successors at the next succeeding regular session.
