❖ from the editor

Fall is a magical time

The fall is the perfect time to enjoy the outdoors in Carson City. The air is crisp, the sky the bluest of blues and the warm colors of the fall foliage create a beautiful canvas only nature can paint.

As shown on the cover of this publication, ours may not be the dramatic palette of reds and oranges found in New England, but softer gold, greens and browns that just beg to be photographed, especially when the trees are reflected in the Carson River. The newer planted maple trees, however, do give additional color to the downtown and in some of our parks.

By Nevada Day, the historic downtown will don its fall colors to create a magical setting that will take one back to an earlier time when history was being made that still affects us today.

The trees will soon shed their leaves and we will enter our winter season. We are fortunate to be able to live so close to world-class ski resorts. We just strap our skis to the roof of our cars and off we go to enjoy all the snow we want in the mountains and then come home to more mild conditions, for we average only about 22 inches of snow annually.

When some complain there is little to do in our city, challenge them! For a community of our size (approximately 56,000), there are many wonderful city, state and federal parks, trails and sports fields for those who enjoy fresh air and want to remain fit.

Back in the day, Carson City attracted ranchers and farmers by giving away town lots to entice people to settle. Today, the Lompa Ranch along Fifth Street and a small open range on the Anderson Ranch in west Carson City remains to provide us with a glimpse of what was once the norm in Carson City. Instead of the fertile ranch land where once children enjoyed riding horses and cattle grazed, we now have well-maintained sports fields filled with active children and adults and as much open space as one would need to enjoy the outdoors.

Because we continue to attract many new residents, we like to feature historical articles to show the depth of this great little city. As in past issues, I call upon our local historian, Willa Oldham Ramsden, who authored a wonderful book on our city, "Carson City, Nevada's Capital City." Willa has been kind enough to give me blanket authorization to use her articles, and in this issue, you will be able to enjoy her article on former ranches.

This is the season for our annual Ghost Walk and, of course, Nevada Day, so I've included articles on those events that you may find of interest. Also featured is our historic Lone Mountain Cemetery where one can learn of our past and see a cemetery of stark contrasts where the newly buried mingle with those buried long since.

Enjoy our fall and coming winter. Take a little time to know your city and open your eyes to all that we are.

THE OTHER CARSON CITY

Unless you live in the more rural section of our consolidated municipality, you would not equate Carson City with wide open spaces and extreme outdoor recreation, yet many are surprised to learn that about 80 percent of the city is comprised of open spaces offering unlimited recreational opportunities.

Carson City encompasses only 146 square miles and it is easy to walk the less than 9 miles from the boundaries of Washoe County to Douglas County along Carson Street. The walk is through the most inhabited and commercial part of the city providing visitors with the impression that we are far more urban than rural.

Many are unaware of the wild country found mostly to the east and along the west side mountain area that is also Carson City. The Bureau of Land Management maintains 46,766 acres of uninhabited land mostly on the east side, and the US Forest Service lays claim to 11,811 acres primarily on the west side. Bears, deer, wild horses and various small and furry creatures also call the uninhabited areas home.

(Left) Though private property, the west side residents are able to enjoy the view shed provided by the open space in an otherwise densely populated area east and west of this meadow.

So much emphasis has been centered on the downtown core, once the political seat of Ormsby County, that forgotten is how beautiful the rest of the city truly is. We're a metropolitan area enjoying most of the amenities such a designation provides, yet we can easily don our hiking boots, gather our fishing poles, mount our horses for a relaxing and scenic ride along the Carson River and jump in our 4WD vehicle for a thrilling ride on Prison Hill all without leaving the city limits. Even those who love to raft will find the usually tame Carson River somewhat wild during the spring when the snows melt and flow to the river.

Once occupied by beautiful ranches providing dairy and meat for residents, Carson City has changed immensely over the years. However, thanks to government foresight, in this case the Bureau of Land Management and the Carson City Open Space program, much of the ranchland has remained as open spaces for current and future residents to enjoy.

Much of the credit for keeping so much of the city uninhabited must go to the forward thinking citizens of Carson City who, in 1996, voted to approve Question 18, the Quality of Life Initiative, adding ¼ cent on the sales tax to allow the parks department to purchase and maintain land for open spaces and parks. It is because of this historic vote that much of Carson City remains a recreation Mecca for locals and visitors.

Further, on April 6, 2006, the Carson City Board of Supervisors adopted the Unified Pathways Master Plan with emphasis on incorporating the Carson River Aquatic Trail Master Plan into the Unified Pathways Master Plan. This will further make hiking and biking around the city easier for all.

With its year-round mild climate, Carson City truly is a city for those who love the outdoors. ❖

challenging for hikers & bikers

Fit hikers and bikers can enjoy the beautiful and challenging hike that begins at the end of Kings Canyon Road along the 1860's toll road that became part of the famous Lincoln Highway in 1913. The 9-mile hike climbs up to 7,000 feet across Spooner Summit and ends around the southern end of Lake Tahoe to Stateline on the CA side. The less fit are welcome to enjoy their 4WD vehicle though know that the road can be narrow and rough.

It's in this general area that one can find what is known as the "waterfall area" where four waterfalls provide a scenic rest stop.

Those who have taken this route state the first two miles are the most challenging.

Bicyclist love Carson City

From the Bike Carson website www.bikecarson.com: "Carson City has a wide variety of cycling opportunities. Steep, tall mountains and numerous canyons provide wonderful mountain biking. Long valleys and twisty mountain roads are great for road biking. Carson City is mostly flat, has plenty of sunshine, and low levels of precipitation. This allows for bicycle commuting year round."

Alan Vance and Nacho enjoy biking on

Lincoln Highway, also known as Kings Canyon.

Most of our land is owned by public agencies

❖ recreation

Carson City encompasses 87,173.820 acres and of that only 17,930.047 is owned by the private individuals according to the city assessors rolls. The remaining acreage belongs to government agencies. The breakdown:

- BLM owned: 46,766.146
- US Forest Service: 11,811.820 (most of west side)
- City Owned: 7,103.077 (includes school district and city parks and open spaces)
- State owned: 2,920.250 (much of the downtown)
- Bureau of Indian Affairs: 642.480
- Well over one-half the city is open spaces since most of the BLM and USFS land is undeveloped

How Carson City parks and open spaces are funded

In 1996, Carson City voters approved the Quality of Life Initiative (Question 18) that provided a 1/4-cent sales tax which was to be used as follows:

- 40% to acquire and maintain open space
- 40% to develop community park facilities and trails
- 20% to maintain and operate the park facilities developed through Q-18

Additional funding was granted through the Conservation and Resource Protection Grant Program, known as the Question 1 Program, in 2001 when the Proposal to Issue Bonds for Conservation and Resource Protection under Assembly Bill 9 of the 17th Special Session first appeared on the ballot. Nevada voters passed Question 1, authorizing the state to issue general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200 million "to preserve water quality; protect open space, lakes, rivers, wetlands, and wildlife habitat; and restore and improve parks, recreational areas and historic and cultural resources."

Of the total bond issue, $65.5 million was provided to the Nevada Division of State Lands to provide grants for state agencies, local governments, or qualifying private nonprofit organizations for various programs including:

- Recreational trails
- Urban parks
- Habitat conservation plans
- Open space plans
- Acquisition of land and water related to resource protection
- Carson River corridor
- Lake Tahoe path system

A new launch site for boats and rafts at Morgan Mill Park just off Morgan Mill Road was built and is maintained by the Carson City Parks and Recreation Division. This site is near Empire Ranch Golf Course and provides a quiet respite and beautiful views for residents.

The Carson River provides many recreational opportunities for the public

The area along the Carson River in east Carson City provides many opportunities to enjoy the outdoors. Much of the public land was purchased through the Open Space Program and some of the land is jointly managed by the Bureau of Land Management.

Properties obtain owned by the city for recreational use include:

- Desormier property, 19 acres
- Mexican Dam property, 57 acres
- The Jarrard Ranch, 368 acres
- Riverview Park, 105 acres
- Empire Ranch Golf Course trail
- Morgan Mill Park, site of the new boat launch

Property co-managed by Open Space and BLM:

- Prison Hill, 3,000 acres of BLM open space
- The Silver Saddle Ranch, 750 acres that are jointly managed by the Bureau of Land Management and Friends of the Silver Saddle Ranch which will soon be transferred to Carson City under the Federal Lands Bill Act. ❖

Our city parks offer freedom to roam

With our year-round mild four-season climate and estimated almost 300 days of sunshine and blue skies, Carson City is a great outdoor destination attracting energetic folks of all ages who love what our community has to offer whether it is the many hiking/biking trails, the sports fields or the smallest of our neighborhood parks.

Many of us do not have the luxury of owning 5-acre parcels or 80-acre ranches where we can spread our wings, walk our dogs or exercise our horses, thus we appreciate all the city has done to provide outdoor recreation. However, the real thanks go to the enlightened citizens who, in 1996, voted to pass Question 18, the Quality of Life Initiative.

Of the 21 neighborhood and regional parks, many are not just for those with two legs. Our four-legged furry canine friends, too, enjoy the freedom to roam and socialize. Fuji Park is the ultimate of dog parks and soon, thanks to the dedicated Parks 4 Paws volunteers, there will be a fenced in dog park within the Fuji complex. Our neighboring counties are not as considerate as our forward thinking parks department and many dog owners from outside the community come to Carson City for the benefit of their pet. Riverview Park, at the end of Fifth Street, finds dog and horse owners vying for space in this wonderfully natural scenic park that fronts the

Mills Park is the favored site of many community events and is the perfect spot for family picnics. # City parks

Both Mills and Fuji Parks are so popular that Vern Krahn, Carson City Park Planner states, "We love these two parks to death and it is a wonder that grass grows there at all!"

Krahn is now planning the trails for the 8-acre wetlands area near Lompa Lane and Northridge Drive that will provide residents yet another outdoor alternative adjacent to the bike path along the freeway right-of-way. Plans show the extension of the Northridge Linear Park to the entrance of the Fulstone Wetlands Park. Wide trails will allow for wheelchairs and strollers allowing those who need access the ability to enjoy this park that incorporates a covered picnic area.

The wetlands acreage was a gift to the city by developers Dwight Millard and Jim Bawden, both of whom built the various Northridge subdivisions. The monies to improve the land came primarily from grants and Juan Guzman, Open Space Manager states, "This will be a passive recreation area and it is out intent to preserve the viewshed and provide for easy public access." The new park is slated to open by the end of the year.

The Fulstone Wetlands project is a cooperative venture between Open Spaces and the Park Planning Department and will marry a natural open space setting with groomed trails. When finished, the Northridge subdivision will be home to five area parks that can be used by residents. Krahn cites the Northridge subdivision as "the best example of urban planning" incorporating the five distinct and separate parks in one subdivision providing relief from small yards and dense rooftops.

Enjoy the varied parks offered and be certain to pick up after yourself and your pets. We are a community that takes pride in its open spaces and parks. ❖

Carson City Open Space Manager Juan Guzman (left) and Parks Planner Vern Krahn show plans for the Fulstone Wetlands Park that will combine open space with park amenities in the Northridge wetlands area.

Clean up volunteers paint and prepare the tree trunks of the aspen trees along the Carson River at Carson River Park to keep the beavers from falling the trees.

Invest in our parks

Community volunteers have graciously adopted parks to assist the parks and recreation department in maintaining the integrity of the parks and allowing citizens to make the parks their "own." The philosophy is that perhaps by creating "ownership," our parks will be used wisely and appreciated even more.

Want to learn how to adopt-a-park? Contact Scott Fahrenbruch, Operations Director, Carson City Parks & Recreation Department 887-2262 x7340. Civic Clubs, families, neighborhoods are welcome to join in keeping our parks well maintained.

Early intervention to address drug and alcohol addictions often result in the most promising solutions. And, as is most often the case, if you suspect there is a problem, it is likely the addiction has already taken on a stronghold. Family, close friends and co-workers will have opportunities to intercede long before anyone else and may have greater successes. So, what would you do if you believed someone close to you was exhibiting signs of drug or alcohol addictive compulsions?

Early Signs and Symptoms: The signs are easily recognized and should not be ignored: Rapid changes in mood or behavioral patterns, social disruptions, drop in academics, lowering of work productivity, excess absenteeism, diminishing health, suspected social acquaintances, isolation at home, paranoid or aggressive behaviors, mood swings, strange odors or unexplained objects.

Who to Contact: There are a number of resource agencies in the local area that can help. Contacting one for an evaluation and removing yourself from the objective assessment role is always advisable. Remember to use a licensed provider and follow their instructions. You too may change a life. Consult your telephone directory or contact one of our local partners:

Little is left of our ranching heritage

By Willa Oldham Ramsden

Ranching was the reason the first settlers stayed in Eagle Valley. The grasses were sweet, green and lush, the soil was rich. Streams from the mountains brought more than ample water.

The six men of Eagle Valley Ranch made a good living supplying hay and produce to emigrants headed for the California gold mining districts in the 1850's.

Statistics in the HISTORY OF NEVADA, Thomson and West, are revealing. In 1880 the Surveyor General's report to the state showed Ormsby County had 1,164 acres cultivated, which produced 3,890 bushels of wheat, 12,330 bushels of barley, 3,687 bushels of oats and 12,240 bushels of potatoes.

Livestock recorded show 623 horses, 180 mules, no cattle or sheep, and 230 hogs. There were 200 apple trees, the same of peaches, 1,050 pear trees, 650 plums, 610 cherry and 60 apricots. Gooseberries, raspberries and strawberries were plentiful but only 50 grapevines were listed.

In later years cattle and sheep seemed to take over. It was not unusual to see some 2,000 sheep

Once a mighty cattle ranch in what is almost the center of Carson City, the Lompa Ranch still today provides a glimpse into the ranching heritage of the city.

The weathered Lompa Ranch sign gives identification to the last of the ranch land still in operation today along Fifth Street.

grazing below “C” Hill on the west side of town. Over against Lakeview Hill the owner of the Little Ranch also raised 1,000 head of sheep and milked 100 goats – a popular beverage in the town. On his 80 acres, Little had a commercial apple orchard as did August Metzger, who purchased what is know as the Joost Ranch. Few are aware that Mrs. Campbell, of Campbell Soup fame, owned a large ranch on the west side of town, in the area of Ormsby Boulevard and King Street.

Robert “Doc” Schulz, former superintendent of mails at the post office, owns one of the old cattle ranches up canyon from the west side of town. His grandfather started the family in ranching, at the south end of Carson City, along with Henry Dangberg, who sold his holdings to the state for what is now the Nevada Correctional Center.

Many names are identified with Carson City ranching, beginning with Samuel Nevers, John and Henry Bath, in 1885. These include Ned Farthingill, the Olivers, the Garner Ranch, the Foggets, the Winters family. The Ault holdings and those of the Raycrafts, the Raffetos, and Winnies were purchased by Hartoonian. Chang Aldax was into ranching as were the Ambrosettis, Aaron Treadway, John Ellisonberry, the Anderson family, the Quillici brothers, the Cook Ranch, Salvadore Pierini, Ed Springmeyer, Henry Rabe. These ranches ranged in size from 80 acres to 320 acres or more.

In the past, three dairies supplied milk products for Carson City. The Christensen Dairy run by his son-in-law, Stan Whitty, the Ellis Folsom Dairy on the west side of town along with the Sanitary Dairy started by Ira Winters.

The Steinheimer Ranch, east of Lone Mountain, was the delight of the boys in town. Its huge pond made both a summer swimming pool and a winter ice skating rink. Originally people name Blackwell owned the ranch.

The Anderson Ranch at the end of Fifth Street is now a scenic open space where riders are welcome to exercise their horses.

Ranching

Most of the early day barn roofs had big signs on them usually advertising Bull Durham Tobacco or Cyrus Noble Whiskey.

Ranching has not entirely disappeared. Drive east of Fifth Street and the Lompa Ranch is on both sides of the road. Further on, if you cut to the right on the River Road, you'll come to Donald "Buzz" Anderson's ranch and may see a part of his spread that he now keeps to about 150 head. The home ranch of the Andersons was up King's Canyon, west of Ormsby Boulevard, settled by the elder Anderson in 1880.

Starting in 1953 "Buzz" drove his heard from the river ranch to the home ranch for summer pasture and back to his own ranch in the fall – using the most direct route – straight through Carson City's main street – U.S. Highway 395.

In an article on Carson City in the CARSON REVIEW, Jeannine Yeomans, wrote, "this is probably the only capital city in the world where you can stand in the middle of town at 6 a.m. and see cowboys herding cattle past glittering casinos." It hit the AP news circuit from San Diego to Florida. The last drive Anderson took through town was in 1983 when Jana Jarrad helped her grandfather move the Herfords, using Fifth, Roop and Washington streets. ❖

Willa Oldham Ramsden, then simply Willa Oldham, published her CARSON CITY Nevada's Capital City in 1991, still today considered one of the finest compilations of Carson City's history. Willa lives in Carson City and will be 99 years young on November 27.

John Mankins owned the first ranch in the Eagle Valley

Early pioneer John Bracken Mankins came to the Eagle Valley from Arkansas in 1857. The North Carolina native purchased "for a mere trifle" the possessory claims to land abandoned by Mormons called back to Salt Lake City by leader Brigham Young. The property was known as Mankins Ranch before he sold it to Abe Curry, John J. Musser and Frank Proctor on August 12, 1858. In less than a month's time, the California newspapers were noting the new town of Carson City.

History lessons easy to find at Lone Mountain Cemetery

Local graveyard tells stories about fame, fortune, war and tragedy

There are those of us who love wandering through historic old cemeteries wherever we visit. As a consummate traveler, I have taken the opportunity to visit cemeteries in Argentina, Portugal, most of the United Kingdom (my favorite) and other international destinations. Most recently, I had the opportunity to pay respect to the 4,402 American soldiers who are buried in the Florence American Cemetery and Memorial about seven miles south of Florence, Italy in beautiful Tuscany.

As I travel in our own country, I stop to pay tribute to those who passed before us and have enjoyed reading tombstones from Martha's Vineyard to Rosecrans Cemetery in San Diego. In our most historic cities such as Philadelphia and Boston, graveyards are a must see for visitors, for that is where those who shaped our country are now eternally resting.

Visiting graveyards really is not so macabre when you think about their historical significance. Those buried there were once very much alive and probably did not realize they would one day be the subject of history lessons. It is very possible there are now those who walk amongst us of whom future authors will write as having made a historic impact upon this city.

Few may be aware we have a gem of a graveyard right here in Carson City.

Within Lone Mountain Cemetery, just off Roop and Beverly Streets, one can visit the grave sites of those who were instrumental in shaping our destiny. This is a cemetery of stark contrasts and features seven cemeteries in one. According to the Lone Mountain Cemetery website, the 40-acre cemetery contains sections for the Masons, Oddfellows, Catholics, two Babyland areas, Hebrew, Grand Army of the Republic, Veterans, and a city cemetery section which dates back to the territorial days and represents a unique cross-section of early-day Nevada.

The contrast is apparent when one enters the cemetery grounds. There's the lush green grassy site one sees upon entering the graveyard where those who served in the military are now resting. Here, the tombstones are buried within the grass, many designated by American flags. The center of this area features a beautifully restored memorial completed last year by the Carson City Leadership Class of 2009.

To the west side, is the ancient cemetery where so many of those who carved out this city have been buried in the sandy soil since the mid-1800s. If one knows Carson City history, the names will be quite familiar. Unfortunately, there are few left to tend the graves in this section and many of the ancient tombstones are in major disrepair, some having actually broken in several pieces.

To the north, nestled against Lone Mountain, is the Civil War section, Nevada's tribute to the soldiers and sailors who had served in the Civil War. The now rusted stars designate the burial site of these heroes. To the east is the Catholic Cemetery designated by a large white cross and this section, too, features graves as old as those in the west section and most are buried in sandy graves.

Local resident Cindy Southerland took it upon herself to do research on those buried in Lone Mountain. In 1997, she published a pamphlet that included a map showing the more historic sites. It is from her research that we learn of our most famous buried there. The epitaphs on tombstones can make for interesting reading and speculation. Some simply state the name and birth and death dates, while others tell a story. Many headstones are beautifully carved providing insight into the symbolism of the times.

Most of our historical figures are buried in what is known as the "west section," nestled against Lone Mountain and along Beverly Drive. Here lie the remains of such notables as Abram Curry, the "Father of Carson City"; H.M. Yerington, the Superintendent of the Virginia & Truckee Railroad; five governors and their spouses and other movers and shakers such as Anne H. Martin, editor and proprietor of the Carson Daily Morning News later acquired by Lone Mountain residents Henry and Nellie Mighels, editors of the then named Morning Appeal later becoming the Carson Daily Appeal (forerunners of today's Nevada Appeal), and the infamous Hank Monk of Mark Twain's book "Roughing it." Hank's original tombstone has been replaced by a newer stone with remnants of the old stone still on the plot.

Looking for your long lost ancestors?

The Carson City Clerk's office maintains a data base of all those buried within Lone Mountain and the Empire Cemeteries dating from the 1850's through today. The index includes the burial date, birth and death dates and actual location of the burial site. The data base includes birth and death records from 1857-1957. Log on to www.carson.org/Index.aspx?Page=2193 and enjoy browsing through the past.

who died in 1969. He was the third cousin of Will Rogers and one of the early 20th century's biggest cowboy stars who lived in Reno.

In researching the residents of Lone Mountain, we learn of the various businesses once here. Domina Circe operated the Carson City Exchange Hotel and the French Hotel. Dominioe Brault operated a hotel named after him that catered strictly to French Canadian woodcutters; John Sweeney operated a dairy ranch along with the Ozark Saloon, Theron Winston owned Winston's New Exchange saloon, Jacob Klein founded the Carson Brewery with John Wagner, the Rinckels owned Eagle Market and one of the most luxurious mansions in the city and the list goes on. Here are buried soldiers and statesmen and the children of founding fathers.

Enjoy wandering the lanes of Lone Mountain and be proud of our history and those who made it.

While the research we have ends with those buried before 1997, we can guarantee more historic persons have been buried since and it probably is time to update the list.

Wandering through a cemetery is like reading a great history book, but instead of turning pages, one gently walks from grave site to grave site. Enjoy wandering the lanes of Lone Mountain and be proud of our history and those who made it. The long departed deserve a visit and your respect. Perhaps take a flower along to place on a grave, for many of the relatives who may have tended the grave could be long-gone as well.

Consider, perhaps, those departed may still be watching over our city and their grave – one will never know, will one? ♦

Nevada Day!

Each year, expectations run high in the early fall as Carson City prepares to showcase and celebrate yet another Nevada Day.

A tradition in our city since 1938, the Carson City Nevada Day Parade was co-founded by Thomas C. Wilson of Reno and Judge Clark Guild, also known as the “father of the Nevada State Museum.” These two Nevada patriots enlisted the support of the Carson City Rotary, Lion’s Club and the 20-30 Club to make this a permanent and highly anticipated annual event in our city.

The second year of the Carson City Nevada Day Parade coincided with the state’s 75th Anniversary of statehood and, from all accounts, was a historic three-day celebration. It is written that 42,000 people from all over the state lined Carson Street to join in the festivities. Ormsby County Assemblyman Peter A. Amodei introduced a bill during the legislative session of 1939 making Nevada Day an official holiday and thus a new Nevada tradition and holiday was born.

Only during the height of World War II (1942, 43 and 44) did Nevada Day cease to be celebrated; however, 20,000 people converged on Carson City to celebrate Nevada Day again in 1945 and crowds have lined Carson Street since. In 1945, the V&T Railroad was a major source of transportation to the parade and written accounts show 1,200 people rode the train into the heart of the city. Extra passenger cars had to be chartered from Southern Pacific RR to accommodate all who wanted to celebrate the end of the war and the resumption of the parade.

In recent years, the once three-day event has grown to become Nevada Day Week. The annual Ghost Walk produced by the Carson City Convention & Visitors Bureau kicks off the festivities the Saturday before the parade and this year features the “Festival of the Spirits” incorporating the Blue Line Trail on October 23rd with a “Friends in Low Places,” preview at Lone Mountain Cemetery the evening before on October 22nd beginning at dusk. The Carson City Symphony kicks off their 27th season on October 24th with their concert “Halloween and Harmonicas.” All of Carson City waits in anticipation as events are announced and final preparations are made for the parade held this year on October 30th.

The Nevada Day Committee, this year chaired by Ken Hamilton, prepares well in advance to make certain the approximately two-hour parade and other related events go off without a hitch. At this time of year, the committee is in overdrive as they prepare the parade route, seek last minute

Some say the capitol dome is made of pure silver because we are the “silver state.” The truth is that the dome is constructed of silver painted fiberglass.

The Capitol Building was built in 1870-71 at a cost of less than $100,000 and was constructed of locally quarried sandstone. A work in progress, the annex behind the building was constructed after the turn of the century to house the original State Library and wings were later added to the north and south ends, doubling the original size and housing the legislature and the Supreme Court.

By the 1950’s the capitol was in age-related disrepair and the State Planning Board planned to demolish the old building in favor of rebuilding a new capitol. The 1959 legislature passed a resolution to scrap the plan and the 1977 legislature appropriated funds to completely gut the interior; earthquake proof the outer walls; lay the Alaskan marble foyer and cap the building with a new fiberglass dome thus sparing the historical structure.

The legislature moved out of the Capitol Building in 1971 into a separate legislative building. This was an unusual move since most legislatures are connected to the capitol with wings for each house that jut out from the main capitol building. Ours is one of only three states nationwide that houses the legislature separate from the capitol.

Today, the Capitol Building is primarily used for offices of the Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Lt. Governor and the Controller. The second floor of the building houses a museum at the south end and the original legislative chambers at the north end.

Photos of past governors line the walls and a statue of Sarah Winnemucca greets visitors on the first floor. ❖

None of These Candidates

By Robert Erickson,

Former Research Director, Nevada Legislative Counsel Bureau

Reprinted from Political History of Nevada 2006

The 1975 Nevada Legislature approved a bill that gives voters the option of voting for “none of these candidates” for all public offices elected statewide. This option appears on both primary and general election ballots for the offices of United States President and Vice President, United States Senator, Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, State Treasurers, State Controller and Justice of the Nevada Supreme Court.

State Assemblyman Don Mello sponsored the 1975 legislation to stimulate voter turnout by providing an alternative to voting for candidates who are either not popular or little known. Another goal of the measure is to allow voters to express dissatisfaction with the quality of candidates or the nature of election campaigns. Its provisions, which are found in Nevada Revised Statutes 293.269, require that the actual candidate receiving the most votes is elected or nominated, regardless of the number of votes cast for “none of these candidates.” The winning candidate in an election with a high percentage of votes for “none of these candidates” is put on notice to work hard while in office or face a tough battle for reelection.

In general, the “none” line on the ballot has attracted greater support in the primary than general elections. It has been suggested that voters may feel freer to cast such ballots in primary elections when candidates are being nominated rather than when offices are actually filled. For example, “none of these candidates” finished first, with 47.3 percent of the vote, against two candidates in the 1976 Republican primary for Representative in Congress, which was a statewide office at that time. In 1986, “none” again finished first, against five candidates, in the Democratic primary for State Treasurer.

Although “none of these candidates” has not been the top vote-getter for an office in the general election, it has been a popular option in certain races. In 1994, for example, “none” garnered 89,235 votes (24.1 percent of the total) in the election for Supreme Court Justice, Seat C.

Although other states have expressed interest in the alternative of “none of the above,” Nevada is the only state to have enacted it into law. ❖

Editor's note: Ever wondered what the story is behind the “None of these candidates” found on your ballot? Since this is the season of politics, some insight into how this choice came to be is in order. Nevada, always the rebel, is still the only state to have enacted the law to allow voters to express how they really feel although there is little teeth to the outcome!

Election Trivia

- Greece had one of the earliest forms of Democracy and their voting philosophy was to conduct NEGATIVE elections. Not the kind we talk about now where one candidate bashes the other. Instead, voters were asked to vote for those they would NOT wish to see in an elected position for 10 years. At that time, votes were recorded on broken pots.
- Voting on the first Tuesday in November was set by Congress to accommodate farmers and observers of the Sabbath.
- As population has increased, it has become increasingly difficult to accommodate all the voters without long waits; therefore, early voting and absentee voting was allowed by some states. Initially, to vote early, one would have to have an excuse and some states still allow absentee voting only.
- Currently, 32 states allow early voting in one form or another and one of the benefits of early voting is the curbing of election-day fraud. Nevada allows early voting.
- In 1998 Oregon voters passed a ballot measure directing all elections to be conducted by mail, commonly called Vote by Mail. Instead of using traditional polling places where voters go to cast ballots on election day, a ballot is mailed to each registered voter. The ballot is then returned to the county elections office and is counted on election day.

As one views Carson City from the hillsides, one can see what our forefathers found so appealing.

How our forefathers viewed the Eagle Valley

“Every city dates from its rise from some obscure or accidental beginning, but all must have a cause for business, prosperity, and, consequently, existence. Lines of travel, arable land, facilities for manufacture, rich mines, resort for health, grand scenery, one or more of which must exist to fix the site of a town or city, which will grow in proportion as its natural advantages are utilized and improved by the necessities and enterprise of its inhabitants.

Nestling at the eastern base of the Sierra Nevada is a little valley, nearly circular in form, of about twenty-five square miles of area, separated from the Carson Valley and River, on the south and east, by a low, projecting spur of the Sierra, opening to the river in the north-east, and fronting the hills of the Washoe Mountains in the north.

This valley was crossed by one of the roads traveled by the early emigrants to California, and near its western boarder, about three miles from the river, appeared an eligible site for a ranch and trading-post. The locality was well watered, with a fertile soil, having an elevation of 4,615 feet above sea, and with a salubrious, healthy climate. The great travel, many thousands of emigrants with long trains of wagons and herds of cattle passing continually, affording a most favorable opportunity for trade, a fertile soil with natural grass, neighboring mountains clothed with luxuriant forest, and springs and mountain streams supplying abundant water of purest quality, where the attractions, centering to a point on the western side of the valley, that directed the location of the settlement.

Here, in November 1851, as told in the history of Ormsby County, Frank and W. L. Hall, A.J. and Frank Barnard, and George Follensbee settled and established a trading-post, using an eagle, killed upon the spot, as a sign and trophy over their house. From this circumstance the station became known as Eagle Ranch, and the valley became Eagle Valley unto this day – and this was the beginning of Carson City. We have traced the history of the settlement until the purchase of the Eagle Ranch by Curry, Proctor, Green, and Musser, in July 1858, and laying out of a town site in September of that year. To that date the history is that of Ormsby County.”

Another class of leaders graduate

Each year about 20-25 would be community leaders come together to learn more about the city in which they work, live and play.

The Leadership Carson City Class of 2010 graduates in mid-October after having met one Thursday per month since January '10 to go behind the scenes of a city that can be full of surprises.

Students first met with humanitarian Ian Hill to receive a wonderful pep talk on what to expect from the year ahead. They learned of the well-run Carson City School District and the great vocational educational programs offered by Western Nevada College. The Sheriff and the Fire Chief greeted them and walked them through their respective facilities. And, yes, they did try to eat the jail lunch provided for them and met Carson City's "finest" on their mandatory ride-along with a deputy.

On City Government Day, the various city department heads including the mayor and city manager demonstrated how the city operates and the assessor gave them a lesson in taxation. The hospital and cancer center took center stage on Human Services Day and they were treated to a personal ghost walk on Tourism and Gaming Day.

The governor personally greeted the class on State Government Day and there was a meeting with Supreme Court Justice Hardesty.

Hard hats were donned on Manufacturing Day as students saw blocks and bricks being made by robot at Basalite. They learned how our water is treated – incoming and outgoing. The day devoted to Leisure and the Arts was a favorite for the highlight of the parks tour was a lunch and golf lessons at Eagle Valley Golf Course.

Class projects always pose a dilemma, but usually one passionate person is persuasive enough to choose a project and gets others to participate. This year's project was the revamping of the "adoption" area of the city's animal shelter.

By the time graduation comes around, the class of strangers has become a class of friends now educated in the well-oiled machine that is Carson City. Leadership Carson City is now in its 21st year.

Community Profile

Carson City is a great place to live, work and play!

We are Nevada's state capital and the center to all the Sierra region has to offer.

According to "The Rating Guide to Life in America's Small Cities," we are ranked as the 19th best "micropolitan" area in the U.S. The city encompasses over 146 square miles (371.8 kilometers) with 31.9 square kilometers of surface water. We sit at 4,687 feet above sea level, 39.14 degrees north of the equator, and 119.74 degrees west of the prime meridian. Carson City is located in a protected valley surrounded on all sides by mountains featuring the dramatic peaks of the Sierra Nevada to the west and south. The city is located 30 minutes east of Lake Tahoe, 30 minutes south of Reno, 20 minutes west of Virginia City and 25 minutes north of Minden and Gardnerville in Carson Valley, truly the center of it all! Las Vegas is at least a 7-hour drive to the south.

A MILD, FOUR-SEASON CLIMATE

Carson City enjoys four mild seasons. The sun shines an average of 300 days per year.

Our beautiful clear skies always provide continual drama offering wind-swept clouds and dramatic sunrises and sunsets. Ours is a high desert climate. For those who have pets, our climate and elevation is not conducive to fleas and the bug population is at a minimum.

Average annual snowfall	22.2 inches
Average annual rainfall	11.8 inches
Avg. high temperature (summer)	89 degrees F
Avg. low temperature (winter)	19 degrees F
Average growing season	123 days
Avg. yearly days of sunshine	266 days

VITAL STATISTICS:

The population is about 56,000 and is not expected to grow beyond about 90,000.

As our population continues to grow, we find more ethnicity among our residents. Currently, the ethnic mix in Carson City is as follows:

White	64 percent
Hispanic	20 percent
Black	2 percent
Asian	2 percent
Other	12 percent

Median Age: 40.2 years
(26 percent of the population is between the ages of 15 and 44.)

HISTORY

Nevada history was made in Carson City.

Founded in 1858 by pioneer Abram Curry, Carson City takes its name from the nearby Carson River, named for early frontiersman Kit Carson. Following organization of the Nevada Territory in 1861, Carson City was designated as the territorial capital and the county seat of Ormsby County.

In 1864, President Abraham Lincoln granted statehood to Nevada and Carson City was selected as the state capital.

In 1879, a branch of the United States Mint was established in Carson City to strike coins from the Comstock Lode silver. Abram Curry served as the mint's first superintendent. Today, the mint stands as the Nevada State Museum and offers interesting exhibits that will delight all ages including a ghost town and a silver mine.

Carson City's historic residential district dates back to the 1860s and is the largest historical home district in Nevada. Fifty-nine historic buildings and sites are identified along the blue line known as the Kit Carson Trail.

In 1969, Ormsby County merged into Carson City to consolidate government services and is now a consolidated municipality, making for a much more efficient government.

HOUSING

From historical to contemporary, it's all here. Carson City offers a wide-ranging diversity of homes. More than half of the 22,500+ housing units are single-family homes, 60 percent of which are owner-occupied. Multi-family units account for 29 percent of the total, and manufactured housing makes up the remaining 14 percent. Generally, less than five percent of housing in Carson City is vacant. Almost 80 percent of the city's current housing units have been constructed since 1970.

The average sales price of new homes varies depending on location and style and the economic conditions. Your best method of finding the home or apartment that meets your specific needs is to contact a local realtor. Please see listing in the back of this book or log on to www.carsoncitychamber.com/realtors.

TRANSPORTATION

It's easy to get here and easy to get around. Carson City's strategic location at the intersection of two major highway corridors provides convenient access for businesses and residents to major markets throughout the west. Highway 50 extends east and west across the nation, and Highway 395 runs from Canada to Mexico.

Our area is served by two airports: The Carson

City Airport serves the general aviation needs of the area and is 1.5 miles north of the city's central business district and is adjacent to the Airport Industrial Park. The commercial passenger Reno/Tahoe International Airport is a short 30 to 40 minutes from the city.

The local bus service JAC, (Jump Around Carson) covers the city. Bus stop signs are conveniently posted along the established routes. Monthly bus passes are also available. JAC Assist is a door-to-door bus service for persons unable to utilize the regular JAC service because of a disability.

EDUCATION

The Carson City School District serves kindergarten through fifth-grade students at six neighborhood elementary schools. There is one year 'round school with the remainder operating on the traditional school year. Two middle schools for grades six through eight serve over 2,000 students.

Carson and Pioneer High Schools are comprehensive four-year schools with a population of over 2,400 students, and a faculty and staff of over 200. CHS has a fully comprehensive athletic program encompassing various

MANUFACTURING

176 manufacturers call Carson City home making our city the largest light industry manufacturing base in Nevada and accounts for approximately 24 percent of the total primary earnings in Carson City, employing 17 percent of all workers. The top 5 Carson City manufacturing industries include:

Electronics

Transportation

Machinery

Plastics and Rubber

Chemicals

TAXES

Nevada's tax structure is considered to be conservative and less burdensome than that of many other states. There is no state personal income tax. Nevada does not levy franchise, unitary, inventory, inheritance, or corporate profit taxes.

Real and personal property is currently taxed at 35 percent of assessed valuation with a three percent annual cap on owner-occupied single-family residences and an eight percent cap on business and commercial property as imposed by the state legislature. It is best to log on to the Carson City Assessor's website for complete tax information: www.carson.org and follow the link to the Assessors site.

A sales and use tax of 7.475 percent is imposed on the retail sales of tangible personal property in Carson City. Most services, utilities, food for home consumption, and prescription drugs and medical supplies are exempt from this sales tax.

HEALTH CARE

The 352,000 sq. ft. Carson Tahoe Regional Medical Center opened in December 2005 on a beautiful 80-acre medical campus that includes a comprehensive Cancer Center and Sierra Surgery & Imaging. CTRMC, a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) community based health care facility, is a state-of-the-art, full service hospital with 144 acute care beds, 18 emergency room bays, and a rooftop helipad.

MedDirect Urgent Care, in partnership with Carson Tahoe, treats non-emergency customers who need immediate or after hour attention and is centrally located in downtown Carson City.

PET HEALTH CARE

Residents of Carson City enjoy their pets and want good care for them as well. There is excellent veterinary care for large and small animals. See listings under Veterinary Services for the very best in pet health care.

A side benefit for living in this dry high desert mountain climate is the lack of fleas that can be such a nuisance to pets elsewhere. Dogs must be licensed. Most city parks are dog-friendly.

RECREATION & ATTRACTIONS

Carson City and the surrounding area offer a wide variety of recreational opportunities and welcome visitors with close to 2,000 sleeping rooms at more than 30 hotels/motels. Accommodations range from budget properties to well-known first-class branded hotels, plus several recreational vehicle parks.

Mills Park is home to many festivals and other outdoor activities and Fuji Park is a popular spot for dogs to roam with their masters. The Parks Department maintains and oversees 40 parks and recreational facilities for the enjoyment of our residents and guests.

ARTS AND CULTURE

Award-winning local theater performs at the Bob Boldrick Theater at the community center. The all-volunteer Carson City Symphony has served the community since 1984 and performs five concerts annually. There are several fine art galleries and a variety of music venues.

HISTORICAL ATTRACTIONS

The Nevada State Museum is by far the most interesting museum in the state offering a glimpse into our colorful history.

The Nevada State Railroad Museum houses steam locomotives and restored coaches from the Virginia & Truckee, America's richest short-line railroad.

The Nevada State Capitol, completed in 1871, is an easily recognized landmark in the center of downtown with its silver-colored cupola dome. The second floor museum provides a glimpse into the "way it was."

The Foreman-Roberts House Museum, the Children's Museum of Northern Nevada, and the state's largest historical home district are all located in Carson City.

CASINOS

We're a 24-hour city. One cannot think of Nevada without thinking of gaming and casinos, and you can be certain that Carson City has its' share of 24-hour gaming. We may not be as glitzy as Las Vegas, but we are smaller and more friendly and gaming is a great asset to our economy.

SHOPPING & RESTAURANTS

There are treasures to be found and great eating places to discover in the historical "old" downtown district, or visit the wide selection of retail shopping centers in the area offering major department stores, retail chains, and dining establishments.

SPORTS AND YOUTH PROGRAMS

The Olympic-size indoor pool at the Aquatic Center is home to the Carson City Tigersharks swim team. In the south end of the city, Edmonds Park offers four softball fields, nine soccer fields, one multi-purpose football/soccer field, and a BMX track. Mills Park offers skateboarders a site to hone their skills. Many sports leagues are offered through the Parks and Recreation Department, including men's and youth basketball, Little League/T-Ball, Babe Ruth, girl's softball, Pop Warner Football, Flag Football, AYSO Soccer, High Desert Soccer, inline hockey, tennis, and more.

The Parks and Recreation Department also maintains great before and after school programs and summer camps for school age children. The Boys and Girls Club of Western Nevada provides a home away from home in a new state-of-the-art building featuring computer labs and much more.

Every golfer will enjoy the challenging and affordable play offered at our regional courses.

Baseball is center stage with the wildly successful Western Nevada College Wildcats and the Reno Aces AAA baseball team that plays out of their own stadium in downtown Reno.

GOVERNMENT & PUBLIC SAFETY

Carson City government recognizes the importance of a healthy business community to a healthy residential community, and strives to create an environment where the two can flourish in harmony.

The city is governed by a Mayor and four-member Board of Supervisors, all elected to overlapping four-year terms. An appointed City Manager performs administrative functions and oversees city staff and departments. The Board of Supervisors has an open-door policy and solicits community representation and involvement through various city advisory boards, commissions and committees. Most meetings are televised on the local cable access channel for those who cannot make it to the open-door meetings.

The Carson City Fire Department operates three stations in the community with approximately 60 employees, and also operates the ambulance service.

The Carson City Sheriff's Department keeps the peace, and enforces the laws and ordinances of the city with over 115 officers and deputies.

Because Carson City is a capital city, when the state legislature is in session the city is alive with activity. The state legislature meets every other year and offers a visitors gallery for those interested in seeing Nevada history in the making. Living in Carson City gives us a rare opportunity to be very participatory in our state government.

COMMUNICATIONS

Carson City enjoys two cable access channels. Most local government meetings are aired live, providing instant information on what is happening in city government. Go to www.acctv.org for show times. Channels 2, 4 and 8 are based in Reno and are the national channels. PBS is channel 5. The Nevada Appeal is our hometown newspaper. CarsonNow.org is our internet news source.

HUMAN SERVICES

Carson City provides excellent human services to the community. We have a state-of-the-art senior center and our local boys and girls club welcomes children before and after school. Friends in Service Helping (FISH) caters to the homeless; and Advocates to End Domestic Violence operates a strong program for abused woman and children. The Ron Wood Family Resource Center works with all ethnic groups. Partnership Carson City assists in finding grants to fund anti-drug and anti-gang programs to educate youth and their families to help keep Carson City safe for all ages. ❖

About the Carson City Chamber of Commerce

OUR MISSION STATEMENT:

The mission of the Carson City Chamber of Commerce is to continually strive to build a healthy economy and high quality of life in Carson City.

The benefits of membership are many:

NETWORKING IS THE KEY TO SUCCESS:

The Chamber offers a variety of networking opportunities each year, including monthly breakfast meetings and business after hours mixers, ribbon cuttings, educational luncheons and the annual installation dinner and holiday open house. Each event is a new opportunity to cultivate new business contacts and maintain old ones.

OUR WEBSITE IS OUR WINDOW TO THE WORLD:

We continue to update and modernize our website to conform with today's web visitors. The video presents our best foot forward. All members receive a free listing including web and e-mail addresses. The state-of-the-art search engine makes it easy for visitors to find our members.

WE WORK WITH LOCAL AND STATE GOVERNMENT:

The Chamber is the recognized voice of business in the community. We regularly review and take positions on legislation and regulations affecting the state and local business environment.

WE TRAIN AND PREPARE LEADERS AND KEEP BUSINESSES CURRENT:

The Chamber is committed to providing educational programs through seminars held throughout the year. The newly formed Business Resource Team of member professionals in their field provides valuable insight into business trends. Leadership Carson City graduates over 20 potential new leaders each year and is constantly updated to make the program a meaningful experience and is a must for those who wish to get ahead in the Carson City business community.

WE TAKE OUR MESSAGE TO THE WORLD:

An way to stay in touch with the many programs, benefits, and activities offered by the Chamber is to read the monthly Voice of Business newsletter published within the Nevada Appeal offering topical resource information, governmental action, marketing tips and more.

We publish a bi-annual magazine, In Focus, featuring timely articles on people and places in our community along with a history section reminding us of our past. In Focus features our membership directory and all members are listed free. Over 13,000 copies are distributed throughout the community, in relocation packets and in local business establishments.

WE ONLY REFER OUR MEMBERS:

As one would expect, "membership has its privileges" and only members are referred to those who inquire about businesses. Between our magazine, website, drop-in visitors and phone calls, members are exposed to many who may find their way to a member business.

Take time to visit Lone Mountain Cemetery

the older tombstones are enclosed by wrought
iron fences containing many symbols.

There must be a good story behind this one!

Okay, this one has our curiosity.
Does anybody know what happened to poor James Cook on August 3, 1872?
He apparently had an unfortunate encounter with a V&T train. Inquiring minds want to know the rest of the story!

Anglers of all ages enjoy the city's new fishing hole

Carson City's version of the Ye Ole Fishing Hole is now open behind Bodine's in south Carson City. Go to the fairgrounds entrance off Old Clear Creek Road and follow the dirt road behind the barns to our urban fishing pond. It's a three trout maximum and a fishing license is needed.

The gang of 63 returns

The 76th session of Nevada State Legislative will formally convene on February 7, 2011. The legislators, affectionately known as the “Gang of 63” will feature many new members because of term limits. The “gang” will have their challenge to address budget shortfalls and how to provide government services we say we need but don’t want to fund further. You’ll see those dark suited lobbyists and legislators on our streets and in our bars and restaurants beginning the end of January as the capital complex comes alive once again.

The Nevada Legislature will be home to the 63 legislators beginning February 7 and the halls will be filled with countless lobbyists.

Chrysothamnus viscidiflorus is the cause of those fall allergies

Better known by most as yellow rabbitbrush, this producer of most allergies is beautiful to see and lights up the hills and open fields but has us reaching for our tissues to dry those eyes and blow those runny noses. A hardy weed found mostly in the western states, Carson City certainly has its share of this brush. So, when starting to sneeze, look around for there just might be the rabbitbrush!

◀ Rabbitbrush brightens up the landscape but plays havoc on our allergies.

Neither rain, sleet or snow...

... will keep the Downtown Business Association from holding their monthly wine walk the first Saturday of each month. Though wine walkers have been very lucky with weather in the past, one never knows what weather to expect during the winter months, but that doesn’t matter anyhow since the good wine and warm hospitality far more than make up for any inclement weather. This is a great event for those who may have guests in town the first Saturday!

Does Carson City have ghosts?

You’ll need to attend the annual Ghost Walk arranged by the Carson City Convention & Visitors Bureau to find out. New this year is a walk on the evening of October 22 to visit our dearly departed residing in the Lone Mountain Cemetery. Come see our “Friends in Low Places.”

◀ Who were these former residents of our city?

Follow the path of the planets

Follow Timberline Drive until you see the signs for WNC's Jack C. Davis Observatory. This wonderful hidden spot provides hikers with a great view of the city and on weekends, astronomers and star gazers have the opportunity to enjoy the night sky. For a list of events, log on to www.wnc.edu/observatory.

V&T to run through December

Everyone seems to love the V&T train! So popular is the train that the Carson City Convention & Visitors Bureau will keep the train on the track through mid-December. The current schedule of departures each Friday, Saturday and Sunday will remain through the end of October, and in November the diesel will run on Saturday's only. Also of note this year is the special schedule to celebrate our fall foliage. From September 18- October 23, be sure to reserve a seat on the "Colors of the Canyon" ride that departs from the depot and travels through the scenic Brunswick Canyon. Call 687-7410 for complete information or go online at www.visitcarsoncity.com.

We all love to travel!

The Chamber has worked some great "deals" with tour operators to take us around the world at very reasonable costs while enjoying traveling with folks from northern Nevada. We love organizing groups to such exotic destinations as Dubai, China, the South of France and so many more places. We've already traveled to Tuscany and Ireland and a lucky group is going to shop the Christmas Markets along the Danube River in Germany and Austria. We've got our travel club going strong and want to include as many folks as we can to enjoy the wonders of the world. Call the Chamber for more information on how you can join the travel club. Visit our website for the current list of places we're going in 2011.

in Carson City

The Chamber has been very instrumental in gathering volunteer business folks over the past two years to come together each spring and through the fall in cooperation with our parks and recreation department to clean up our city, but it seems as though no matter how hard we try, the mess comes back again. Instead of bringing our "clean team" together monthly, we will assisting in planning a giant clean-up program the morning of April 22 allowing residents to clean their little corner of the world. We then will convene in the afternoon at Mills Park for music, food and whatever else we may come up with. This will be a family affair and we hope you will mark your calendars to join us to "Trim our Waist as we Trim Carson City's Waste." ❖

Citizen input important in good government

Government does not operate in a vacuum unless we allow it. We elect everyday citizens to represent us on matters that concern our welfare and our pocket-books. We appreciate the service and the dedication of our those we elect; however, your citizen input is paramount in representing what 'we the people' think.

Carson City is governed by a five-member Board of Supervisors and has a number of citizens committees to advise the Board. Most of the meetings are held publicly to comply with the Nevada Open Meeting Law and are televised on Charter Cable Access Channel 226 or on demand at www.acctv.org. Citizens may go to the city website at www.carson.org to view the proceedings live via the internet.

All committees welcome the public to attend meetings and provide input. Agendas with back up materials can be found by logging on to the city's website.

We invite you to Work the Pond

When attending a Chamber function, there's often talk about "working the pond." The concept is very simple! Extend your hand and make a new friend and business acquaintance.

Chamber functions are the easiest way to meet businesses who may want to do business with members.

We even select Royals who exemplify the best in networking techniques. It's hard to become a Royal and we've only selected two: Brian Olson of Offsite Data Depot and Carol Swanson who is a super Mary Kay sales associate. Our Chamber Ambassadors will make it easier for all to Work the Pond at all of our functions.

Show us your photographic talent!

We know there are many amateur photographers who love the Carson City scenery as much as we do, and we welcome you to enter our contest for the best spring scene to become our next In Focus cover. The photo must be identifiable as Carson City and exclude family shots. The winner will receive $150 in gift cards to any of our local shops and restaurants as well as full recognition and a feature story. Judges will be the Carson City Chamber Board of Directors. Photos must be submitted by February 15, 2011 and must contain a summer scene. Files need to be saved as a jpg, tiff or eps. 300 dpi resolution and at least 5-10 inches in width are preferred for quality reproduction. Photos are to be submitted electronically to director@carsoncitychamber.com.

Shop Local!

In this era of internet shopping, it makes even more sense than ever to shop in your own community. By shopping in our city, you are keeping those precious sales tax dollars right here where they belong. Shopping locally means jobs and lower taxes.

It creates a vibrant economy and attracts other retailers who will create jobs and diversification.

Discount coupons can be found on the Chamber's website at www.carsoncitychamber.com

We encourage you to support the kind advertisers who have made this publication possible.

Carson City History Treasure Hunt

Historical markers are wonderful reminders of our past. Some of the buildings may be gone, but a state marker has been erected to pay tribute to the history of the building or the event that now has a place in the history books. There are two marker types: The blue outline of the state and the stone markers that are not quite as easily noticed.

Make it a fun family project to learn about the many interesting events that happened in our city oh so long ago. As we learn more of our roots, we can truly appreciate all that came before us.

Why not bring along your camera and take photos! This could be a fun history project for the kids. Come by the Chamber office to pick up a free copy of Nevada's Historical Markers pamphlet (while supplies last).
